Nation Sets New Traffic Toll Record

Holiday Deaths Hit 542; Drivers Urged To Change Attitude

By The Associated Press

Belated reports of traffic deaths during the three-day Fourth of July weekend raised the national toll today to 542, a record for a three-day observance of the holiday.

Final figures were expected to raise the total killed during the 78-hour weekend even higher.

The previous record toll for a three-day Independence Day holiday was 504, set last year.

The count of traffic fatalities this year came close to the record for a four-day Independence observance, 557 in 1963.

The tally of traffic deaths began at 6 p.m. (Local time) Friday and continued to midnight Monday.

This year's toll brought a stern warning from Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council.

"Never has driver improvement been more badly needed," Pyle said. "The attitudes and skills of too many drivers are failing to meet the exacting demands of billions of miles of high pressure travel.

"Every driver," Pyle said, "should begin at once to sharpen old skills and develop new ones through available driver improvement programs."

Another safety council spokesman estimated that the final toll would be about 550 traffic deaths. "More traffic fatalities may be counted during the final hours of the weekend," he said.

"Motorists who delayed their start home are tired, in a rush,"

Two Youths Argue, Trouble Starts

By ROBERT SHAFFER JR.

"I want this cabin cleared in an hour!" That was the terse, clear statement from the state police officer who was pounding on the door of the small cottage.

The time was Sunday about 6:15 a. m. and the place the main street in Geneva-On-The Lake, Ohio.

After witnessing what had gone on the night before, there was no reason to ask, "Why?" to the command.

IT DIDN'T take long for me and my fellow companion, with whom I had journeyed to the resort spot for the weekend, to "pack" our belongings and get ready to leave. And to lend emphasis to the departure order, we were informed that another in our party was being held "hostage" by the police just to make sure that we got out of town as ordered when our fourth friend arrived in the car.

On the way home, my thoughts went back to the incidents of the night before.

As we passed the Cove, a relatively small beer garden where a group known as the "Jeweltones" had been playing prior to the beginning of "World War III," I couldn't help but think about the seemingly insignificant event that touched off something Geneva-On-The-Lake will long remember.

It was around 1 a. m. and I was on my way back to my cabin following a fun-filled evening at a party just up the street from the Cove.

CONDITIONS were perfect for a brawl—air heavy with cigarette smoke and the stench of beer and whisky, people stacked 10 and 15 deep along the sidewalks being forced into the middle of the street in places, and a lot of drinking.

As I neared the Cove, I couldn't believe what I saw—a human roadblock. A group of about 2,000 persons extended from the front of the establishment clear across the street and up on to the opposite sidewalk. Traffic was at a standstill as police were trying in vain to break things up.

Suddenly, two youths, each

Negro Takes Lives Of Officer And Dad Of Girl, 16, In Case

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A young man armed with a repeating rifle killed a policeman and the father of his girl friend today and wounded two other officers. He was shot to death at dawn after a massive manhunt.

The rifleman was identified as Leroy Francis Scott, about 24, a Negro hot-rod enthusiast with blondish hair and a record of minor arrests.

Two patrolmen surprised him in a wooded area where he had hidden for five hours, nursing an apparently serious gunshot wound in an earlier exchange with police.

They shot him as he raised his rifle. He died en route to a hospital.

"We knew he was wounded but he didn't look too hurt to me when he raised that rifle," said Patrolman James Hintemeyer, 35.

Killed in the earlier exchange of gunfire with Scott were Patrolman Coleman McDonough, a former pro football player, and Aaron Godfrey.

McDonough and officers Leo Mincin, 37, and Joseph Laffey, 32, who were wounded, had been called to the Godfrey home, a two-story frame house in a low-rent section of the city's Hazelwood section.

Police said there apparently had been an argument over Scott's attentions to Godfrey's 16-year-old daughter, Ruth. The Godfreys also are Negroes.

Joint Attack Finds No Enemy Contacts

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—More than 1,000 American troops joined Vietnamese and Australian forces today for their second combined operation against the Viet Cong. Like the first such operation, there was no significant contact with the enemy, a U.S. spokesman reported.

Fighting was bloodier elsewhere. A U.S. spokesman said two Americans and 26 Vietnamese mountain troops were missing and four Vietnamese were killed in mountainous Pleiku Province, 215 miles northeast of Saigon.

About 2,500 troops were involved in the combined operation, including two battalions of U.S. paratroopers from the 173rd Airborne Brigade, one battalion of the Royal Australian Regiment, and two Vietnamese army battalions.

The operation was preceded by artillery and air bombardment of a stretch of jungle about 30 miles northeast of Saigon. Then about 100 helicopters began shuttling the troops in.

They were landed in "D Zone," in the same general vicinity as the last joint operation.

Helicopters reported groundfire on the way, but a U.S. spokesman reported no casualties, damage or enemy contact throughout the day.

The prompt action of a neighbor and the barking of his dog were credited with averting a serious fire early this morning at the farm of George McPherson, about three miles northeast of Summitville.

Hearing his dog barking about 1 a. m., Edwin Jerrett looked out a window and saw a flickering light in the two-story garage at the nearby McPherson home.

Jerrett went to the McPherson garage, saw the family auto, backed it out, aroused the McPherson family, who had returned home late Monday night, and returned to his home and obtained an extinguisher.

The fire caused moderate damage to the garage. The cause has not been determined.

Order Restored In Resort Areas

By The Associated Press

The tumult and the shouting have died in two Ohio resort areas swept by Independence Day rioting. But the days of reckoning have started for more than 300 youngsters who participated.

The National Guard detachments have been pulled out of the Indian Lake resort village of Russells Point and the Lake Erie town of Geneva - on - the-Lake. Guardsmen were ordered into the areas after appeals for help to Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Business places in both localities were forced to close in the midst of what is one of the most lucrative holidays of the summer.

The Ashtabula County sheriff's office said at least 219 arrests were made at Geneva-on-the-Lake. Twenty-six charged with disorderly conduct or resisting arrest paid $56.50 fines Monday and 29 others were turned over to the Ashtabula County Common Pleas Court. The approximately 100 arrested in the Indian Lake disturbances probably will be arraigned over several days, Logan County officials said.

The show of force by guardsmen cooled the situation down in both resorts quickly. The shortage of alcoholic beverages after the governor ordered the sale of beer and wine halted also put a damper on things.

The trouble started at Russells Point, according to police, when youths set off skyrockets, cherry-bombs and other fireworks and heckled passing motorists with sparklers, late Saturday night.

Within minutes the mob was stopping cars and throwing firecrackers inside autos. Some of the crowd of more than 1,500 began walking on the roofs and hoods of the halted cars, while others opened doors and hoods.

Finally police moved in an attacked the crowd with tear gas and night sticks.

At Geneva-on-the-Lake, it was much the same story. The riot broke out there when Ashtabula

Police Press Hunt For Man In Car Crash

Police pressed a search today for a driver who fled in another vehicle after a two-car crash that damaged a Beaver County man's auto early this morning at Pennsylvania Ave. and E. 4th St.

The collision caused extensive damage to a 1960 sedan driven by Kenneth Ray Reed, 32, of Georgetown R.D. 1, officers said. The driver of the second auto was not identified, but it was registered in the name of Frank Boyd of R. D. 1, officers said. The crash was timed at 1:12 a. m.

Reed told Patrolman J. A. Walsh he was driving west on Pennsylvania Ave. and planning to make a turn onto E. 4th St. when the other car crossed the center line, hit his auto and then struck a guard rail post, where it halted.

The patrolman said when he arrived the driver of the second car was not at the scene. A witness reported that he saw another vehicle stop, pickup the driver of the Boyd auto and then proceed east on Pennsylvania Ave., Walsh reported.

There was damage to the left front and side of the Reed car and the left front and both sides of the Boyd auto, police said.

An East Liverpool boy apparently escaped with minor injuries Sunday at 8:55 p. m. in a collision between his bicycle and a Midland youth's auto at about 23, started complaining to each other about shoving too hard. "Ease off man!" was one remark I picked up among others.

One fellow then took a swing at the other and the fight was on. This was just the beginning. After the battle had raged about two or three minutes out of nowhere a night stick came crashing down on the head of one of the combatants, knocking him cold.

THEN CAME the yell that ignited the entire night's "festivities" — "Hey man, you didn't have to do that!" And in a split second about 30 boys jumped the one cop and literally ripped him apart. I am not sure, but I think he was the officer who suffered a possbile broken back and concussion.

Within a minute, a dozen other city policemen were at the scene in a vain attempt to break things up. But for every policemen there were about 100 boys — truly a hopeless situation.

From a vantage point atop a car just across the street, I could see a full - scale riot developing. Soon, about 30 policemen were on hand equipped with night sticks and riot guns. But what could 30 officers do against an estimated 5,000 angry youths?

For the next 30 minutes, prior to the arrival of the state police with tear gas guns, and more riot guns and night sticks, I witnessed something I'll never forget.

WHILE THE police were knocking some 12 boys in the head with night sticks, several hundred other rioters were busy hurling beer bottles, bricks and large firecrackers at police and cruisers.

Cursing at the top of their lungs, the angry youths overpowered the officers, knocking five or six to the pavement and keeping them there.

Meanwhile, the youths went to work on four police cars, breaking windshields and completely ruining the cars' exterior by hurling bricks and bottles.

Damage to the surrounding establishments appeared relatively light while I was on hand, but several windows were broken, walls marred and some products on sale were ruined.

About a half - hour after the riot started about 25 state police cars came roaring down the street and some 100 officers jumped out armed with tear gas guns.

Upon firing these into the mass of youths and city police, I made myself scarce. The crowd of some 5,000 fighting youths, plus another 15,000 onlookers, was broken up for the time being.

It was about 2 a. m. But for the next two hours the battle between officers and youths raged all up and down the main street and back into the residential area at times.

It's still hard to believe that all this resulted from two youths arguing over who was pushing whom and an over-ambitious policeman.

Traffic accidents in five states — California, Missouri, New York, Ohio and Texas — accounted for more than one-third of the deaths.

Fifty persons were killed on California roads, 31 in Missouri, 33 in New York, 36 in Ohio and 27 in Texas.

No traffic deaths were reported in three states — Rhode Island, Delaware and Alaska. The District of Columbia also reported no traffic fatalities.

Boating accidents across the nation took 35 lives and 119 persons drowned in accidents not involving boats during the three-day weekend.

Greed For The Dollar

Greed for the almighty dollar continues to overrule common sense and sound judgment in too many instances.

This was demonstrated again in an inglorious manner during the "Glorious Fourth."

Despite repeated nationwide warnings as to their danger, at least two sales of "ball caps" fireworks in the immediate area were called to our attention over the holiday. And if we had reports of two, it stands to reason there were many more such sales.

Most fireworks are dangerous, but they become doubly so when younger children are directly involved, as in the case of the ball caps or "candy balls." As the designation indicates, "candy balls" have the appearance of candy and, therefore, are especially inviting to the unsuspecting young. But one bite down on the explosives and the damage is done.

Though quite aware of this, it didn't stop some from selling the "balls." The greed for profit held sway.

While the fireworks problem has come and gone for another year, it has served to focus attention once more on things of a year-around nature which are helping to undermine our young people—such as the illegal sale of alcoholic beverages, the peddling of questionable literature and other reprehensible practices.

Those who prey on the young are a despicable lot. They have no moral scruples of their own and, as a result, are content to drag others down with them so long as the almighty dollar continues to roll in.

Their contribution to the advancment of a community or a district is a great big "nothing."

How fine it would be if they had the courage to channel their energy into more constructive enterprises. We're sure the dollar still would be there and we know it would be cloaked in a great deal more respectability.

Scrapbook Item?

It's possible that some East Liverpool and area residents may have been among those who took part in the rioting at Geneva-on-the-Lake over the weekend. We hope not.

But if so, we suggest they leave this phase of their youth out of their scrapbooks.

We doubt if they would want their children to know they behaved so stupidly and thoughtlessly at one time in their lives.

Easy When You Know How

When U.S. ground troops in Viet Nam went into hand-to-hand combat as part of an offensive action, the United States had gone to war in Viet Nam—all the way.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Viet Nam, explained he had exercised authority he had been given secretly many weeks ago to put U.S. troops into direct combat if and when this was requested by the government of South Viet Nam.

Going to war with no declaration of war and no direct authorization by Congress is easy when you know how.

It has been easy ever since President Truman took the United States into war in Korea in 1950, just 15 years ago, with no more formality than a White House meeting of congressional foreign affairs committeemen half an hour before he announced that U.S. troops had been ordered into action against North Korea.

What the American people had thought was a constitutional provision that gave Congress sole right to declare war has been proved meaningless.

The United States went to war in Korea with no declaration.

It has gone to war in Viet Nam with no declaration.

It went halfway to war in Cuba in the Bay of Pigs fiasco with no declaration and no revelation of intent.

Congress still can declare war if it chooses to do so. But Congress cannot keep the executive department from going to war without a declaration.

Indeed, in the current instance, Congress would not know how to make a declaration of war because no enemy has been designated.

The Viet Cong in Viet Nam is not constituted as a government. The government of North Korea is undeniably its sponsor, but the United States is not fighting North Korea. It is fighting the Viet Cong.

Among many things that will have historians on the ropes in years to come, this new technique of going to war without saying so will be a puzzle.

The date of the beginning of what now must be referred to as the Vietnamese War will be June 29, exactly 15 years after the date that U.S. troops went into direct combat in Korea. U.S. Troops are still in Korea—some 50,000 of them.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

I was breezing along reading a piece about the two major political parties and there being no substitute for victory and nodding my head in agreement until the last paragraph.

Then the piece I was reading relegated splinter parties into complete — "Free Soilers, Whigs, Federalists, Jefferson Republicans, Progressives and all those sad little rag-bag parties that never got anywhere — the Prohibition, Communist, Socialist, States Rights Democrats, Union and Socialist Labor parties."

Maybe none of these little parties ever won the presidency, but you name me a third party and I'll show you a constitutional amendment first proposed by some "sad little rag-bag party," such as women's suffrage and prohibition, which actually had two amendments, including the one that repealed it.

No other movement can claim two constitutional amendments, unless possibly the various "progressive" parties which first may have proposed some radical ideas that eventually became amendments, the income tax, for instance.

Henry George and his Single Taxers with their idea that land was the source of all wealth never got very far politically, but to hear the cries over present real estate taxes it sometimes seems as though they did.

What burned me up was the offhand dismissal of all zealots as nuts, when actually some of them have left lasting memorials in the law of the land, whether you agree with the law or not.

At this time, I would like to say I am not now nor have I ever been a member of a third party. But quite often, even as you and you, I have felt like a minority of one.

More people have disagreed with me than you can shake a stick at and vice versa.

Another for-instance would be Norman Thomas and his Socialist party. Thomas is fond of saying that the Republican party platform of recent campaigns was quite similar to his Socialist platform of 40 years ago. Is he kidding?

People vote mostly for president on the basis of what they think of the man, rather than of his program. But about as important is the strength a major party acquires by absorbing minor and dissimilar voting blocs in support of its candidate.

In New York City, the Democrats and Republicans were both jockeying for support of the Liberals, a third party which has swung elections in times past. The Republican candidate, Lindsay, finally got it.

Even the Greenback Party may be gaining, now that there is so much discussion about cutting the silver in coins.

As you can see, Twill, politics really isn't my field. But I thought I would take this brief fling at it anyway, to maintain my amateur standing.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: We are a nation of backseat drivers.

Our Constitution is our charter to be this way. We the people are the sovereign power in this country.

The funny thing is that someone always acts surprised when we do what we have a constitutional right to do.

Our critics — who are backseat-driving us back seat drivers when you think about it — tell us we should keep our mouths shut whenever they say so.

We don't have to keep our mouths shut.

We own the car. We own the backseat. We hire the driver.

When he takes the job, he knows what the working conditions are.

As one driver, who finally admitted he couldn't take it, once said, "If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen." That was Harry Truman.

Right now, Lyndon Johnson is the driver. His patience must be wearing thin.

But I think LBJ knows the score. I think he can stand the heat. I don't think Lyndon has any notion about getting out of the kitchen.

The men who started this experiment in loosely organized confusion didn't know how it would turn out. They knew only one thing — that they were fed up with British despotism.

The British, themselves, were fed up with it.

Sooner or later, all human beings get a bellyful of despotism.

When it happens, they have to choose an alternative. But that is only the beginning.

The kind of loosely organized confusion we have here is offensive to all absolutists Every country has them.

They dream of getting into the driver's seat and shutting the mouths of everybody else. It is all right for them to be backseat drivers, but they don't believe in backseat driving for anyone else.

They don't care who owns the car, or who hired the driver.

They just don't want to hear any backtalk, see. No questions. No comments. No smirks. No snide remarks. Keep your mouth shut and buy the gas.

That isn't what the Constitution means when it reserves to the states and the people all rights not delegated to the federal government or prohibited by it. That isn't what the Declaration of Independence meant when it spoke of "people" dissolving ties.

We backseat drivers are the sovereign power.

A 'Head Start' In Education

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON

Some children need a head start in life's race.

If you're six years old and starting school, how can you learn to read and write if there never was a book, a pencil, or even a crayon in your home?

How can you sit still in a chair, if you've never had a chair?

How can you understand the teacher if you've never heard as many as 100 different words in all your life, and many of the words you did hear were curses?

How can you be eager and attentive in class if you're partially blind, or deaf, or have nutritional anemia that saps your strength?

THESE ARE the children Project Head Start seeks to help. They need medical and dental care, but most of all they need to have doors and windows opened on their narrow lives. Some have never held a flower. Most have never been to a zoo or a museum.

In an intensive, eight - week program now getting under way, Project Head Start seeks to supply these needs, to give "poverty's children" a running start when they enter school this fall.

Sargent Shriver, commander of what President Johnson calls his "war on poverty," describes the future for disadvantaged children:

"Educators tell us these children will start the first grade already six months to a year behind children from 'normal' homes and families. By third grade they will be one year to 18 months behind. By eighth grade they will be two years behind. At 10th grade, if they get that far, they will drop out of school and into hopeless poverty forever."

THUS, SOME 530,000 children in 2,600 communities — centered heavily in the nation's 300 poorest counties — are entering the newly - created child guidance centers across the nation.

In every state — in every county of some states — underprivileged youngsters will get a helping hand. They will be taught by trained educators, by volunteer aides, by neighbors, even by their own parents, who are expected to learn a great deal themselves in the process.

It is hoped that parents may learn better nutrition, even better table manners, from helping prepare and serve lunches for their children. There also will be more direct instruction for parents so that they may help their children.

Out of every 100,000 children, nearly 37,000 are expected to have serious medical problems. This includes 500 with active tuberculosis, 4,000 who are partially blind, 15,000 with eye difficulties, 10,000 who are partially deaf, 5,000 cases of nutritional anemia, 250 cerebral palsy victims, 2,000 mentally retarded and others without proper immunization for diphtheria or tetanus.

Some children came from Mexican - American, Indian, or other families where English normally isn't spoken at home. They will be taught English, the language used in school.

Each program is tailored to fit the needs of the youngsters who attend.

ORIGINALLY planned for about 100,000 youngsters, Project Head Star has been expanded again and again.

Much like the Peace Corps, it began with a study group and grew to fruition in an atmosphere of crisis and confusion. It was a crash program all the way. The first applications came in early April.

Government internes volunteered their weekends and evenings to screen prospective projects. Hundreds of doctors and dentists, child specialists, educational leaders, all joined to help.

Head Start got its official send off at a White House tea in February, given by Lady Bird Johnson.

When the tea was announced, a telephone call came in from Mrs. Orval Faubus, wife of the Arkansas governor. She was indignant because Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller, wife of the Republican her husband defeated last fall, had been invited. Mrs. Faubus hadn't been.

Then it was decided to invite the wives of all governors.

Officials say nobody paid special attention to Mrs. Faubus at the tea but when she got home she went all out for the program. A series of integrated luncheons at the governor's mansion helped make Head Start a success in Arkansas.

"People who hadn't spoken to each other since the Little Rock school crisis in 1957 got together," a Head Start official says. "The program in Arkansas is one of our best. We cite Mrs. Faubus as an example when others ask us how to get a Head Start program going."

Other governors' wives who get top rating from Project Head Start officials include Mrs. Hulett C. Smith of West Virginia, Mrs. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, Mrs. George Romney of Michigan and Mrs. Warren Knowles of Wisconsin.

PRE-SCHOOL nursery programs are not new, points out Dr. Julius B. Richmond, director of Project Head Start, but "this is the first such program where the focus really is on the child. Similar programs in the past have been trying to free the mother for employment."

Richmond, a pediatrician and former dean of the medical faculty of the State University Upstate Medical Center, Syracuse N.Y., adds:

"In this program we are bringing together comprehensive means for helping the children. We have medical and dental examinations. We must follow through and get the health defects corrected. We will uncover a lot of things in a very short time. Most communities aren't geared to act this rapidly, but they are making an all out effort."

In the child development centers, Dr. Richmond says, "We will try to broaden the experience of the child so he can relate to people around him. This will include trips to zoos, museums, fire stations, police stations. We want to show that a man in uniform isn't an enemy.

"We also want to show that it is fun to learn. Teach children how to work with art materials, play materials, help activate their imagination. If you view the teacher as a threat, then you certainly are going to have trouble learning from her."

Coupled with the program for children is parent education.

'Beat It! I Don't Have Time For Light Summer Reading!'

Johnson Retains Center Stage Role

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON

Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower were seldom out of the news but they never dominated it in the manner of Presidents Johnson and John F. Kennedy.

In their sense of the dramatic, Truman and Eisenhower were no match for Kennedy and Johnson. Kennedy always knew where the center of the stage was but he never occupied it so steadily as Johnson, who has built his tent there.

In the first half of 1965 events seemed to revolve around Johnson and be overshadowed in the process. He made them revolve around him.

His aides and members of his administration, either naturally or by order, let him do the talking. And what he had to say came in a ceaseless torrent: speeches, news conference, statements, messages, garden conversations.

THE TWO MEN in Johnson's administration who, next to the President, do most of the talking are Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Even so, they're just echoes of Johnson. They're explainers, not announcers. Johnson does all the major announcing.

Thus the Vietnamese war was obscured a bit as the nation waited to see what Johnson would do or say about the bombing, suspending it, peace, troop buildups, or plans for Southeast Asia.

Since Johnson has shown himself a man of action, particularly in the use of armed force, this added to the attention he got and the suspense he created.

The effect was stunning, because it was so unexpected, when he suddenly sent troops into the Dominican Republic. But it was Johnson on television who broke the news.

Ordinarily, if nothing else had happened, this American involvement in the Dominican revolution would have been enough to keep the American mind glued on Latin America for happenings there.

But something else did happen.

For days after his first announcement it was not only the Dominican trouble but Johnson who stayed in focus by making statements. The fact that the Dominican events were soon unspectacular helped.

Even the role of Congress appeared secondary to the performance of the energetic and dramatic man in the White House.

IN THE FIRST six months of any year congressional infighting, plus some occasional bellowing, and the struggle between the men in the Capitol and the President take up a good part of the front pages.

But this year Congress has been comparatively quiet while tackling and passing some major legislation and laying the necessary groundwork for passing much more in the months coming up.

True, Johnson's foreign policies got some criticism in Congress and from other sources. Some of it may have nudged him sooner than otherwise into welcoming "unconditional" peace talks on the war in Viet Nam.

But, by and large, he seemed undisturbed and kept on making statements or talking of new programs that got a lot more attention than the criticism.

Some of his best help came from the Republic leadership on Capitol Hill. Lately there's been some rumbling from congressional Republicans, but not of a strenuous kind. It may pick up sound as the 1966 congressional elections get closer.

Nevertheless, rosy as this Johnson public-relations picture is, there's a wait-and-see air about it. No one knows, and perhaps Johnson himself doesn't know, how he'll perform if events turn sour on him.

Trial By Television

By Raymond Moley

The constitutional conflict between freedom of the press and fair trial for individuals has been before the U.S. Supreme Court many, many times. But the recent decision of that court, setting aside a conviction of Billy Sol Estes in a Tyler, Tex., court, is likely to ignite a different aspect of the subject. For television as an institution for disseminating news is involved here, and its spokesmen will undoubtedly be vociferous in its defense.

There were plenty of precedents to guide the Supreme Court in this case, notably a principle stated by Justice Black in the famous case of Bridges vs California in 1941. The issue then was the publication of material in the press, which raised an entirely different issue than in the Estes case.

Justice Black, speaking for the majority of the court in the Bridges case, said that the substantive evil which the court faced was not "disrespect for the judiciary," but "disorderly and unfair administration of justice."

THE QUESTION which seemed to concern the court in the Estes case was not influence from outside the courtroom by television presentations after the pre-trial, but the impact of the television paraphernalia in the courtroom while the case was being adjudicated.

This, it seems to me, is the vital point. In his opinion Justice Clark described the scene in colorful detail.

In the pre-trial hearings the defense counsel moved to prevent broadcasting by radio and television, but the motion was denied. Thereupon, television moved in for the kill. Twelve cameramen in the courtroom were engaged in taking motion and still pictures. Three microphones were on the judge's desk; others were beamed on the jury box and the counsel's table. Also, according to Justice Clark, "cables and wires were snaked across the floor of the courtroom."

AFTER EACH DAY, the product was beamed to an estimated 100,000 viewers, along with what Chief Justice Warren said were commercials for "soft drinks, soups, eyedrops and seat covers."

After this show, the judge seemed to have some pang of conscience, for he ordered that at the trial itelf the televiion people be required to build a booth which blended with the decor of the courtroom, with an opening which afforded a camera view of the proceeding. The personnel and equipment were restricted to the area of the booth.

The effect of this sort of "coverage" on the proceedings can well be imagined. Justice Clark noted that the effect on the jury was "distraction" from what was presumably a highly detailed recital of evidence. Amid this commotion no juror could possibly attend to what was presented in evidence or what the judge or attorneys said.

THE IMPACT upon witnesses was equally serious. For they realized that their words, appearance and actions would be blared out to their neighbors and friends later in the evening.

The judge, who in the performance of his duty should give undivided attention, was confronted by the diversionary tactics of the scurrying of the cameramen and their traps.

Finally, the defendant, who was on trial for a serious offense, was harassed and confused by what was going on. He had already been tried in the Senate, tried in other court proceedings and tried by television. But here was his chance, to which any accused person is entitled, to present his side in the best manner possible.

The Supreme Court divided 5-4 in the decision. The minority claimed, on rather narrow ground, that no actual and specific prejudice was proved.

The argument of television, no doubt, will be that the public is entitled to be present at a trial and that broadcasting makes it possible for a trial to have a much larger public.

TO THIS I venture to reply that the actual conduct of a judicial proceeding is none of the business of the public. Under free and orderly institutions the public has delegated the operation of justice to those officially responsible. We cannot have a plebiscite every time an individual is accused of an offense.

Dear Truman Twill:

I was breezing along reading a piece about the two major political parties and there being no substitute for victory and nodding my head in agreement until the last paragraph.

Then the piece I was reading relegated splinter parties into complete — "Free Soilers, Whigs, Federalists, Jefferson Republicans, Progressives and all those sad little rag-bag parties that never got anywhere — the Prohibition, Communist, Socialist, States Rights Democrats, Union and Socialist Labor parties."

Maybe none of these little parties ever won the presidency, but you name me a third party and I'll show you a constitutional amendment first proposed by some "sad little rag-bag party," such as women's suffrage and prohibition, which actually had two amendments, including the one that repealed it.

No other movement can claim two constitutional amendments, unless possibly the various "progressive" parties which first may have proposed some radical ideas that eventually became amendments, the income tax, for instance.

Henry George and his Single Taxers with their idea that land was the source of all wealth never got very far politically, but to hear the cries over present real estate taxes it sometimes seems as though they did.

What burned me up was the offhand dismissal of all zealots as nuts, when actually some of them have left lasting memorials in the law of the land, whether you agree with the law or not.

At this time, I would like to say I am not now nor have I ever been a member of a third party. But quite often, even as you and you, I have felt like a minority of one.

More people have disagreed with me than you can shake a stick at and vice versa.

Another for-instance would be Norman Thomas and his Socialist party. Thomas is fond of saying that the Republican party platform of recent campaigns was quite similar to his Socialist platform of 40 years ago. Is he kidding?

People vote mostly for president on the basis of what they think of the man, rather than of his program. But about as important is the strength a major party acquires by absorbing minor and dissimilar voting blocs in support of its candidate.

In New York City, the Democrats and Republicans were both jockeying for support of the Liberals, a third party which has swung elections in times past. The Republican candidate, Lindsay, finally got it.

Even the Greenback Party may be gaining, now that there is so much discussion about cutting the silver in coins.

As you can see, Twill, politics really isn't my field. But I thought I would take this brief fling at it anyway, to maintain my amateur standing.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Dear Nephew: We are a nation of backseat drivers.

Our Constitution is our charter to be this way. We the people are the sovereign power in this country.

The funny thing is that someone always acts surprised when we do what we have a constitutional right to do.

Our critics — who are backseat-driving us back seat drivers when you think about it — tell us we should keep our mouths shut whenever they say so.

We don't have to keep our mouths shut.

We own the car. We own the backseat. We hire the driver.

When he takes the job, he knows what the working conditions are.

As one driver, who finally admitted he couldn't take it, once said, "If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen." That was Harry Truman.

Right now, Lyndon Johnson is the driver. His patience must be wearing thin.

But I think LBJ knows the score. I think he can stand the heat. I don't think Lyndon has any notion about getting out of the kitchen.

The men who started this experiment in loosely organized confusion didn't know how it would turn out. They knew only one thing — that they were fed up with British despotism.

The British, themselves, were fed up with it.

Sooner or later, all human beings get a bellyful of despotism.

When it happens, they have to choose an alternative. But that is only the beginning.

The kind of loosely organized confusion we have here is offensive to all absolutists Every country has them.

They dream of getting into the driver's seat and shutting the mouths of everybody else. It is all right for them to be backseat drivers, but they don't believe in backseat driving for anyone else.

They don't care who owns the car, or who hired the driver.

They just don't want to hear any backtalk, see. No questions. No comments. No smirks. No snide remarks. Keep your mouth shut and buy the gas.

That isn't what the Constitution means when it reserves to the states and the people all rights not delegated to the federal government or prohibited by it. That isn't what the Declaration of Independence meant when it spoke of "people" dissolving ties.

We backseat drivers are the sovereign power.

A 'Head Start' In Education

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON

Some children need a head start in life's race.

If you're six years old and starting school, how can you learn to read and write if there never was a book, a pencil, or even a crayon in your home?

How can you sit still in a chair, if you've never had a chair?

How can you understand the teacher if you've never heard as many as 100 different words in all your life, and many of the words you did hear were curses?

How can you be eager and attentive in class if you're partially blind, or deaf, or have nutritional anemia that saps your strength?

THESE ARE the children Project Head Start seeks to help. They need medical and dental care, but most of all they need to have doors and windows opened on their narrow lives. Some have never held a flower. Most have never been to a zoo or a museum.

In an intensive, eight - week program now getting under way, Project Head Start seeks to supply these needs, to give "poverty's children" a running start when they enter school this fall.

Sargent Shriver, commander of what President Johnson calls his "war on poverty," describes the future for disadvantaged children:

"Educators tell us these children will start the first grade already six months to a year behind children from 'normal' homes and families. By third grade they will be one year to 18 months behind. By eighth grade they will be two years behind. At 10th grade, if they get that far, they will drop out of school and into hopeless poverty forever."

THUS, SOME 530,000 children in 2,600 communities — centered heavily in the nation's 300 poorest counties — are entering the newly - created child guidance centers across the nation.

In every state — in every county of some states — underprivileged youngsters will get a helping hand. They will be taught by trained educators, by volunteer aides, by neighbors, even by their own parents, who are expected to learn a great deal themselves in the process.

It is hoped that parents may learn better nutrition, even better table manners, from helping prepare and serve lunches for their children. There also will be more direct instruction for parents so that they may help their children.

Out of every 100,000 children, nearly 37,000 are expected to have serious medical problems. This includes 500 with active tuberculosis, 4,000 who are partially blind, 15,000 with eye difficulties, 10,000 who are partially deaf, 5,000 cases of nutritional anemia, 250 cerebral palsy victims, 2,000 mentally retarded and others without proper immunization for diphtheria or tetanus.

Some children came from Mexican - American, Indian, or other families where English normally isn't spoken at home. They will be taught English, the language used in school.

Each program is tailored to fit the needs of the youngsters who attend.

ORIGINALLY planned for about 100,000 youngsters, Project Head Star has been expanded again and again.

Much like the Peace Corps, it began with a study group and grew to fruition in an atmosphere of crisis and confusion. It was a crash program all the way. The first applications came in early April.

Government internes volunteered their weekends and evenings to screen prospective projects. Hundreds of doctors and dentists, child specialists, educational leaders, all joined to help.

Head Start got its official send off at a White House tea in February, given by Lady Bird Johnson.

When the tea was announced, a telephone call came in from Mrs. Orval Faubus, wife of the Arkansas governor. She was indignant because Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller, wife of the Republican her husband defeated last fall, had been invited. Mrs. Faubus hadn't been.

Then it was decided to invite the wives of all governors.

Officials say nobody paid special attention to Mrs. Faubus at the tea but when she got home she went all out for the program. A series of integrated luncheons at the governor's mansion helped make Head Start a success in Arkansas.

"People who hadn't spoken to each other since the Little Rock school crisis in 1957 got together," a Head Start official says. "The program in Arkansas is one of our best. We cite Mrs. Faubus as an example when others ask us how to get a Head Start program going."

Other governors' wives who get top rating from Project Head Start officials include Mrs. Hulett C. Smith of West Virginia, Mrs. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, Mrs. George Romney of Michigan and Mrs. Warren Knowles of Wisconsin.

PRE-SCHOOL nursery programs are not new, points out Dr. Julius B. Richmond, director of Project Head Start, but "this is the first such program where the focus really is on the child. Similar programs in the past have been trying to free the mother for employment."

Richmond, a pediatrician and former dean of the medical faculty of the State University Upstate Medical Center, Syracuse N.Y., adds:

"In this program we are bringing together comprehensive means for helping the children. We have medical and dental examinations. We must follow through and get the health defects corrected. We will uncover a lot of things in a very short time. Most communities aren't geared to act this rapidly, but they are making an all out effort."

In the child development centers, Dr. Richmond says, "We will try to broaden the experience of the child so he can relate to people around him. This will include trips to zoos, museums, fire stations, police stations. We want to show that a man in uniform isn't an enemy.

"We also want to show that it is fun to learn. Teach children how to work with art materials, play materials, help activate their imagination. If you view the teacher as a threat, then you certainly are going to have trouble learning from her."

Coupled with the program for children is parent education.

'Beat It! I Don't Have Time For Light Summer Reading!'

Johnson Retains Center Stage Role

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON

Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower were seldom out of the news but they never dominated it in the manner of Presidents Johnson and John F. Kennedy.

In their sense of the dramatic, Truman and Eisenhower were no match for Kennedy and Johnson. Kennedy always knew where the center of the stage was but he never occupied it so steadily as Johnson, who has built his tent there.

In the first half of 1965 events seemed to revolve around Johnson and be overshadowed in the process. He made them revolve around him.

His aides and members of his administration, either naturally or by order, let him do the talking. And what he had to say came in a ceaseless torrent: speeches, news conference, statements, messages, garden conversations.

THE TWO MEN in Johnson's administration who, next to the President, do most of the talking are Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Even so, they're just echoes of Johnson. They're explainers, not announcers. Johnson does all the major announcing.

Thus the Vietnamese war was obscured a bit as the nation waited to see what Johnson would do or say about the bombing, suspending it, peace, troop buildups, or plans for Southeast Asia.

Since Johnson has shown himself a man of action, particularly in the use of armed force, this added to the attention he got and the suspense he created.

The effect was stunning, because it was so unexpected, when he suddenly sent troops into the Dominican Republic. But it was Johnson on television who broke the news.

Ordinarily, if nothing else had happened, this American involvement in the Dominican revolution would have been enough to keep the American mind glued on Latin America for happenings there.

But something else did happen.

For days after his first announcement it was not only the Dominican trouble but Johnson who stayed in focus by making statements. The fact that the Dominican events were soon unspectacular helped.

Even the role of Congress appeared secondary to the performance of the energetic and dramatic man in the White House.

IN THE FIRST six months of any year congressional infighting, plus some occasional bellowing, and the struggle between the men in the Capitol and the President take up a good part of the front pages.

But this year Congress has been comparatively quiet while tackling and passing some major legislation and laying the necessary groundwork for passing much more in the months coming up.

True, Johnson's foreign policies got some criticism in Congress and from other sources. Some of it may have nudged him sooner than otherwise into welcoming "unconditional" peace talks on the war in Viet Nam.

But, by and large, he seemed undisturbed and kept on making statements or talking of new programs that got a lot more attention than the criticism.

Some of his best help came from the Republic leadership on Capitol Hill. Lately there's been some rumbling from congressional Republicans, but not of a strenuous kind. It may pick up sound as the 1966 congressional elections get closer.

Nevertheless, rosy as this Johnson public-relations picture is, there's a wait-and-see air about it. No one knows, and perhaps Johnson himself doesn't know, how he'll perform if events turn sour on him.

Trial By Television

By Raymond Moley

The constitutional conflict between freedom of the press and fair trial for individuals has been before the U.S. Supreme Court many, many times. But the recent decision of that court, setting aside a conviction of Billy Sol Estes in a Tyler, Tex., court, is likely to ignite a different aspect of the subject. For television as an institution for disseminating news is involved here, and its spokesmen will undoubtedly be vociferous in its defense.

There were plenty of precedents to guide the Supreme Court in this case, notably a principle stated by Justice Black in the famous case of Bridges vs California in 1941. The issue then was the publication of material in the press, which raised an entirely different issue than in the Estes case.

Justice Black, speaking for the majority of the court in the Bridges case, said that the substantive evil which the court faced was not "disrespect for the judiciary," but "disorderly and unfair administration of justice."

THE QUESTION which seemed to concern the court in the Estes case was not influence from outside the courtroom by television presentations after the pre-trial, but the impact of the television paraphernalia in the courtroom while the case was being adjudicated.

This, it seems to me, is the vital point. In his opinion Justice Clark described the scene in colorful detail.

In the pre-trial hearings the defense counsel moved to prevent broadcasting by radio and television, but the motion was denied. Thereupon, television moved in for the kill. Twelve cameramen in the courtroom were engaged in taking motion and still pictures. Three microphones were on the judge's desk; others were beamed on the jury box and the counsel's table. Also, according to Justice Clark, "cables and wires were snaked across the floor of the courtroom."

AFTER EACH DAY, the product was beamed to an estimated 100,000 viewers, along with what Chief Justice Warren said were commercials for "soft drinks, soups, eyedrops and seat covers."

After this show, the judge seemed to have some pang of conscience, for he ordered that at the trial itelf the televiion people be required to build a booth which blended with the decor of the courtroom, with an opening which afforded a camera view of the proceeding. The personnel and equipment were restricted to the area of the booth.

The effect of this sort of "coverage" on the proceedings can well be imagined. Justice Clark noted that the effect on the jury was "distraction" from what was presumably a highly detailed recital of evidence. Amid this commotion no juror could possibly attend to what was presented in evidence or what the judge or attorneys said.

THE IMPACT upon witnesses was equally serious. For they realized that their words, appearance and actions would be blared out to their neighbors and friends later in the evening.

The judge, who in the performance of his duty should give undivided attention, was confronted by the diversionary tactics of the scurrying of the cameramen and their traps.

Finally, the defendant, who was on trial for a serious offense, was harassed and confused by what was going on. He had already been tried in the Senate, tried in other court proceedings and tried by television. But here was his chance, to which any accused person is entitled, to present his side in the best manner possible.

The Supreme Court divided 5-4 in the decision. The minority claimed, on rather narrow ground, that no actual and specific prejudice was proved.

The argument of television, no doubt, will be that the public is entitled to be present at a trial and that broadcasting makes it possible for a trial to have a much larger public.

TO THIS I venture to reply that the actual conduct of a judicial proceeding is none of the business of the public. Under free and orderly institutions the public has delegated the operation of justice to those officially responsible. We cannot have a plebiscite every time an individual is accused of an offense.

Rep. Harsha Hits Poverty Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William H. Harsha says the administration's so-called war on poverty should be called a "war on the poverty-stricken."

"Rather than making war on poverty, the politicans are making money on poverty," the Ohio Republican said in a statement.

He called attention to what he said were reports on the grading manipulation, by politicians, political opportunists, of public funds that were intended to relieve the suffering of the economically unfortunate.

"This political manipulation," he said, "is a disgraceful fact and a shocking illustration of 'man's inhumanity to man.'"

Harsha said the Democratic chairman of the committee that reviewed the legislation was quoted as saying that "giant fiestas of political patronage have been encouraged."

He said President Johnson now wants $1.5 billion for the program as against "the $900 million that was wasted in the first year of the program. And the end of this growth is nowhere in sight."

Court Delays Movie Star's Bigamy Trial

ROME (AP) — Italy brought Academy Award winning actress Sophia Loren and movie producer Carlo Ponti to trial today in a Rome criminal court on bigamy charges.

The court formally opened the case and then, after a 30-minute session, granted the movie couple's request for a postponement. The next session was set for Oct. 21.

Neither Miss Loren nor Ponti were in court. They are doing film work outside Italy. Their attorneys represented them.

The accusation has pursued the pair since soon after their marriage by proxy at Ciudad Juarez, Mexico, in September 1957. It was her first marriage and his second.

Ponti, 51, first met Sophia in Rome in 1955, nine years after he married the daughter of an Italian general, Giuliana Fiastri, and set about gaining a reputation as a maker of movies.

Miss Loren was 20 then, a tall and shapely beauty whose real name was Sophia Scicolone. She had left the steaming Neapolitan port town of Pozzuoli to try the road to stardom.

Ponti became her mentor. Within two years they went to New York. Ponti got a Mexican divorce, then he and Sophia were married by proxy.

Divorce is illegal in Italy. The law applies even to the divorce of Italian citizens abroad. Several private citizens filed bigamy complaints under Article 566 of the Criminal Code, which says "anyone bound by one marriage cannot effect another." The government took up the complaints.

In June 1962, Ponti was charged with bigamy and Miss Loren with complicity in bigamy. The trial was delayed to await the outcome of a civil court action on their tangled marital status.

The civil court in February accepted the prosecutor's argument and declared the marriage null on the ground that it was bigamous. The bigamy charges probably would have been dropped had the civil court decided otherwise.

Johnson was held for further investigation.

Rep. Harsha Hits Poverty Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William H. Harsha says the administration's so-called war on poverty should be called a "war on the poverty-stricken."

"Rather than making war on poverty, the politicans are making money on poverty," the Ohio Republican said in a statement.

He called attention to what he said were reports on the grading manipulation, by polipolitical opportunists, of public funds that were intended to relieve the suffering of the economically unfortunate.

"This political manipulation," he said, "is a disgraceful fact and a shocking illustration of 'man's inhumanity to man.'"

Harsha said the Democratic chairman of the committee that reviewed the legislation was quoted as saying that "giant fiestas of political patronage have been encouraged."

He said President Johnson now wants $1.5 billion for the program as against "the $900 million that was wasted in the first year of the program. And the end of this growth is nowhere in sight."

Chester Reports Lone Accident

Chester police today reported but one traffic accident over the holiday weekend.

The two autos were heading west on Carolina Ave. near 7th St., when Javersack stopped in the line of traffic, Russell striking him from the rear, police said.

Total damage was estimated at $400.

Russell was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control by Chief Harold Davis, who investigated, and is scheduled to appear at a hearing Saturday before Mayor Harry Abrams.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard is presiding. A new venire of petit jurors reported this morning.

Court Delays Movie Star's Bigamy Trial

ROME (AP) — Italy brought Academy Award winning actress Sophia Loren and movie producer Carlo Ponti to trial today in a Rome criminal court on bigamy charges.

The court formally opened the case and then, after a 30-minute session, granted the movie couple's request for a postponement. The next session was set for Oct. 21.

Neither Miss Loren nor Ponti were in court. They are doing film work outside Italy. Their attorneys represented them.

The accusation has pursued the pair since soon after their marriage by proxy at Ciudad Juarez, Mexico, in September 1957. It was her first marriage and his second.

Ponti, 51, first met Sophia in Rome in 1955, nine years after he married the daughter of an Italian general, Giuliana Fiastri, and set about gaining a reputation as a maker of movies.

Miss Loren was 20 then, a tall and shapely beauty whose real name was Sophia Scicolone. She had left the steaming Neapolitan port town of Pozzuoli to try the road to stardom.

Ponti became her mentor. Within two years they went to New York. Ponti got a Mexican divorce, then he and Sophia were married by proxy.

Divorce is illegal in Italy. The law applies even to the divorce of Italian citizens abroad. Several private citizens filed bigamy complaints under Article 566 of the Criminal Code, which says "anyone bound by one marriage cannot effect another." The government took up the complaints.

In June 1962, Ponti was charged with bigamy and Miss Loren with complicity in bigamy. The trial was delayed to await the outcome of a civil court action on their tangled marital status.

The civil court in February accepted the prosecutor's argument and declared the marriage null on the ground that it was bigamous. The bigamy charges probably would have been dropped had the civil court decided otherwise.

Cincinnati Man Held In Slaying Of Woman

CINCINNATI (AP) — Horace Johnson, 35, was arrested Monday night after allegedly calling police and reporting he had beaten his common law wife to death with a chair last Friday.

The body of Lela Bell was found in Johnson's home.

Police said Johnson hung up the telephone without telling where he was but he was found a short time latter at an aunt's.

Johnson was held for further investigation.

Sante Fe Marks Vow By General

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Enshrinement of a small jeweled statue of the Virgin has marked the 273rd annual observance of a Spanish general's vow in 1693.

The statue, called La Conquestadora, originally was carried to Santa Fe in 1625 by a Spanish priest. It was taken away by Spanish forces who evacuated Santa Fe during an Indian rebellion from 1680-92.

Spanish Gen. Don Diego de Vargas vowed a novena, a nine-day Mass, if he could retake the city without bloodshed, which he did in 1693.

Last week La Conquestadora was enshrined in Rosario chapel northwest of Santa Fe for a week and then returned to its place in St. Francis Cathedral.

Midland Area Youths Cited For Fireworks

Two 20-year-old Midland area youths forfeited bonds of $32.50 each today in Municipal Court on charges of discharging fireworks early this morning on Harvey Ave. near the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line.

Police identified the pair as Regis Schulte, 832 Ohio Ave., Midland, and David E. Troup of Industry R. D. 1.

Patrolman J. W. Buckley said he observed the pair tossing firecrackers out of a moving car. He said he pursued the car along Harvey Ave. and finally halted it near the state line. The charges were filed under a city ordinance banning fireworks.

Elderly Resident Attacked By Dog On Mulberry St.

An elderly East End resident was treated at City Hospital after he was attacked by a dog Monday at 11:47 a. m. while on Mulberry St. near Fox Alley, police reported.

He is Benjamin Ziegler, 77, of 1225 Ohio Ave., a former city councilman, who suffered injuries of the right leg.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith reported he was dispatched on a report from a householder on Mulberry St., but when he arrived the victim had left the scene. Ziegler went to the Silver Star Cafe a little farther north on Mulberry St. and an employe there notified officers of the incident and said he required medical attention.

Smith the took Ziegler to the hospital in a cruiser. Dog Warden Harold Flowers later captured a dog near the scene of the attack, officers said. Nick Presutti, 314 15th St., Wellsville, was listed as a witness. He is a watchman at the Mulberry St. crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

A Waterford Park jockey was charged with felonious assault following a dispute with the owner of the Newell Tavern Monday night, the Hancock County sheriffs' office reported today.

Victor Raymond Cooper, 27, of 86 Grant St., Newell, the jockey, struck Joe Fuller, the tavern owner, on the left side of the face with a rock and then threatened him with a knife, deputies said.

Fuller sustained a laceration.

Following his arrest by the deputies, Cooper posted $1,000 bond for an appearance Friday before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester.

Youngsters Aid Oregon Harvest

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Kids start popping out of their doors at dawn and head down the streets.

They cluster on the corners. They troop, in bunches of 50 or so, to a waiting bus. Most are 12-to 15-year-olds. Some are 10 or 11.

There are 50,000 or more of these children on any summer day heading for the strawberry fields. They are western Oregon's great farm labor force.

"There aren't many states where this sort of thing happens," says Robert Keilbach, Oregon State Employment Service area manager. But it happens in Oregon's rich Willamette Valley because a crop that can be harvested by young people ripens during school vacation and is concentrated near population centers.

The youngsters harvest 75 per cent of Oregon's multimillion-dollar strawberry crop. Soon they will begin on the $5-million raspberry crop. Then they will turn to other caneberry crops and finally, as summer wanes, to the pole bean harvest.

Good workers count on $4 to $5 a day from their pay of 4 or 5 cents a pound.

Ohio Counts 35 Fatalities On Weekend

Ohio safety officials' predictions proved to be sadly inaccurate over the Fourth of July weekend, as 36 persons were reported killed on the state's highways.

Only California had a higher state total.

The Department of Highway Safety, going by records of previous three-day holiday weekends, predicted 24 would die in traffic.

The past weekend's toll will no doubt lead to grimmer predictions for future holiday weekends. The Independence Day and Memorial Day weekends will again stretch over three days next year, and, of course, Labor Day weekend is always three days long.

Nine drownings were also reported in the state during the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday. Two deaths in miscellaneous accidents brought the over-all accidental death toll to 47.

The worst single weekend accident took four lives. The victims were in a car that slipped into a pond near Newark.

Among Eastern Ohio fatalities were:

Sunday

Frederick K. Mayle, 28, Canton, when his car sideswiped another car and crashed near Canton.

Wesley Dobrowolski, 14, Cleveland, drowned in Hudson Springs Lake, north of Cuyahoga Falls.

Della Wright, 13, McClintocksburg, believed drowned in Leisure Lake Park on Ohio 627 near Ravenna. Her body found in the lake, but an investigation was under way to see if she may have died of some other cause.

Howard Grunder, 57, Malvern, in two-car crash on Ohio 43 just north of Canton.

Miss Susan Selby, 22, Kirtland, when her car went out of control in Kirtland Hills and rolled over.

Jimmie D. Ryder, 34, Plain Township, Stark County, when his motorcycle hit a guard rail.

Judy Sears, 24, Rittman, when the car she was riding in went out of control and hit a guardrail on U. S. 224 just west of Ohio 3 in Medina County.

Thomas Prybuto, 3, Northfield, who drowned at Funland Park, a swimming resort in Macedonia.

Sante Fe Marks Vow By General

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Enshrinement of a small jeweled statue of the Virgin has marked the 273rd annual observance of a Spanish general's vow in 1693.

The statue, called La Conquestadora, originally was carried to Santa Fe in 1625 by a Spanish priest. It was taken away by Spanish forces who evacuated Santa Fe during an Indian rebellion from 1680-92.

Spanish Gen. Don Diego de Vargas vowed a novena, a nine-day Mass, if he could retake the city without bloodshed, which he did in 1693.

Last week La Conquestadora was enshrined in Rosario chapel northwest of Santa Fe for a week and then returned to its place in St. Francis Cathedral.

Midland Area Youths Cited For Fireworks

Two 20-year-old Midland area youths forfeited bonds of $32.50 each today in Municipal Court on charges of discharging fireworks early this morning on Harvey Ave. near the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line.

Police identified the pair as Regis Schulte, 832 Ohio Ave., Midland, and David E. Troup of Industry R. D. 1.

Patrolman J. W. Buckley said he observed the pair tossing firecrackers out of a moving car. He said he pursued the car along Harvey Ave. and finally halted it near the state line. The charges were filed under a city ordinance banning fireworks.

An elderly East End resident was treated at City Hospital after he was attacked by a dog Monday at 11:47 a. m. while on Mulberry St. near Fox Alley, police reported.

He is Benjamin Ziegler, 77, of 1225 Ohio Ave., a former city councilman, who suffered injuries of the right leg.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith reported he was dispatched on a report from a householder on Mulberry St., but when he arrived the victim had left the scene. Ziegler went to the Silver Star Cafe a little farther north on Mulberry St. and an employe there notified officers of the incident and said he required medical attention.

Smith the took Ziegler to the hospital in a cruiser. Dog Warden Harold Flowers later captured a dog near the scene of the attack, officers said. Nick Presutti, 314 15th St., Wellsville, was listed as a witness. He is a watchman at the Mulberry St. crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

A Waterford Park jockey was charged with felonious assault following a dispute with the owner of the Newell Tavern Monday night, the Hancock County sheriffs' office reported today.

Victor Raymond Cooper, 27, of 86 Grant St., Newell, the jockey, struck Joe Fuller, the tavern owner, on the left side of the face with a rock and then threatened him with a knife, deputies said.

The incident occurred about 11:30.

Youngsters Aid Oregon Harvest

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Kids start popping out of their doors at dawn and head down the streets.

They cluster on the corners. They troop, in bunches of 50 or so, to a waiting bus. Most are 12-to 15-year-olds. Some are 10 or 11.

There are 50,000 or more of these children on any summer day heading for the strawberry fields. They are western Oregon's great farm labor force.

"There aren't many states where this sort of thing happens," says Robert Keilbach, Oregon State Employment Service area manager. But it happens in Oregon's rich Willamette Valley because a crop that can be harvested by young people ripens during school vacation and is concentrated near population centers.

The youngsters harvest 75 per cent of Oregon's multimillion-dollar strawberry crop. Soon they will begin on the $5-million raspberry crop. Then they will turn to other caneberry crops and finally, as summer wanes, to the pole bean harvest.

Good workers count on $4 to $5 a day from their pay of 4 or 5 cents a pound.

Ohio Counts 35 Fatalities On Weekend

Ohio safety officials' predictions proved to be sadly inaccurate over the Fourth of July weekend, as 36 persons were reported killed on the state's highways.

Only California had a higher state total.

The Department of Highway Safety, going by records of previous three-day holiday weekends, predicted 24 would die in traffic.

The past weekend's toll will no doubt lead to grimmer predictions for future holiday weekends. The Independence Day and Memorial Day weekends will again stretch over three days next year, and, of course, Labor Day weekend is always three days long.

Nine drownings were also reported in the state during the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday. Two deaths in miscellaneous accidents brought the over-all accidental death toll to 47.

The worst single weekend accident took four lives. The victims were in a car that slipped into a pond near Newark.

Among Eastern Ohio fatalities were:

Sunday

Frederick K. Mayle, 28, Canton, when his car sideswiped another car and crashed near Canton.

Wesley Dobrowolski, 14, Cleveland, drowned in Hudson Springs Lake, north of Cuyahoga Falls.

Della Wright, 13, McClintocksburg, believed drowned in Leisure Lake Park on Ohio 627 near Ravenna. Her body found in the lake, but an investigation was under way to see if she may have died of some other cause.

Howard Grunder, 57, Malvern, in two-car crash on Ohio 43 just north of Canton.

Miss Susan Selby, 22, Kirtland, when her car went out of control in Kirtland Hills and rolled over.

Jimmie D. Ryder, 34, Plain Township, Stark County, when his motorcycle hit a guard rail.

Judy Sears, 24, Rittman, when the car she was riding in went out of control and hit a guard-rail on U. S. 224 just west of Ohio 3 in Medina County.

Thomas Prybuto, 3, Northfield, who drowned at Funland Park, a swimming resort in Macedonia.

Action Slated On Disability Plan Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders hope to complete congressional action today on a proposed constitutional amendment covering presidential disability and the filling of any vice-presidential vacancy.

Two hours were set aside for debate.

The proposed constitutional change, a compromise of differing versions previously approved by each branch, whisked through the House last Thursday.

The Senate had been expected to act quickly too, but a snag developed when Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and others contended language empowering a vice president to contest a president's ability to carry on was ambiguous.

However, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said Friday he saw no reason why the amendment should not be approved as it stands. Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., floor manager of the measure, predicted its approval.

After Congress acts, a constitutionla amendment must be ratified by three-fourths of the state legislatures before becoming effective. The President's signature is not required.

One section of the proposed amendment provides that if the office of vice president becomes vacant, the president shall nominate a successor who would take office upon confirmation by a majority vote of both houses of Congress.

Other sections designed to plug a worrisome gap in the Constitution provide that when a president is incapacitated or otherwise unable to discharge the powers of his office, the vice president shall become acting president.

If a president notified Congress of his disability, the vice president would take over until the president sent word that he was able to resume his powers.

In case a president was unable or unwilling to declare his disability, the vice president would become acting president if he and a majority of the Cabinet, or a majority of such other body as Congress might later provide for by law, sent a written declaration to Congress that the president was unable to discharge his duties.

A president could regain his powers by advising Congress that his inability no longer existed, unless this were challenged within four days by the vice president and a majority of the Cabinet or such other body as Congress provided.

Such a dispute then would be settled by Congress. It would be required to assemble within 48 hours if it were not in session.

If Congress determined within 21 days by a two-thirds vote in both the Senate and the House that the president was unable to discharge his duties, the vice president would continue to act as president. Otherwise the president would resume the powers and duties of his office.

U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, in a prepared statement, cut loose on the rioters in these words:

"We cannot tolerate rioting becoming superior to the existent elected government officials. Firmness is indispensible to the preservation of government in matters of this type.

Japan Backs Sato's Party

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's ruling conservatives lost four seats in the upper house of Parliament but still held a majority of 30, returns today from Sunday's election showed.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's pro-Western Liberal Democratic party retained 140 seats in the 250-member upper house of the Diet despite opposition attacks against rising consumer prices and the government's support of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

The Socialists gained 8 seats, boosting their total to 73. A gain of 7 was scored by the Sakoagakkai, Buddhist Lay party, which pegged its campaign to demands for a Viet Nam peace conference in Tokyo with the Communist Viet Cong taking part. The party, which claims 10 million members, raised its total in the house to 20.

Riots

County sheriff's deputies and local police tried to break up a fight between two youths, early Sunday.

The crowd quickly grew to four or five thousand. Police said the youths threw "bottles, rocks and everything," and cheered every time an officer was hit.

Mayor Wilson W. Finley of Geneva-on-the-Lake said he will push for new ordinances with higher penalities for disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, in a prepared statement, cut loose on the rioters in these words:

"We cannot tolerate rioting becoming superior to the existent elected government officials. Firmness is indispensible to the preservation of government in matters of this type.

Japan Backs Sato's Party

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's ruling conservatives lost four seats in the upper house of Parliament but still held a majority of 30, returns today from Sunday's election showed.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's pro-Western Liberal Democratic party retained 140 seats in the 250-member upper house of the Diet despite opposition attacks against rising consumer prices and the government's support of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

The Socialists gained 8 seats, boosting their total to 73. A gain of 7 was scored by the Sakoagakkai, Buddhist Lay party, which pegged its campaign to demands for a Viet Nam peace conference in Tokyo with the Communist Viet Cong taking part. The party, which claims 10 million members, raised its total in the house to 20.

Vatican Puzzled Over Rebaptism Of Luci Johnson

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times reported today that the rebaptism of Luci Baines Johnson, the President's younger daughter, on her conversion to Roman Catholicism has roused puzzlement and some regret in Vatican circles.

The Times said in a dispatch from Rome that Vatican sources were assuming that the rite was a "conditional baptism." In cases, in which a priest may doubt the validity of an original baptism, he pronounces the "conditional" formula, which begins "If you have not been baptized, I baptize thee...."

Miss Johnson was baptized as an infant in the Episcopal Church.

To question the validity of baptism in any Christian church is contrary to the currently accepted practice of the Roman Catholic Church, statements of Pope Paul VI, the will of the Ecumenical Council and the rulings of the Holy Office, the Times said.

The Times reported from Washington that the Rev. James Montgomery said he followed the laws of the church in rebaptising Miss Johnson. Father Montgomery told the Times Miss Johnson requested the ceremony because she wishes in conscience to be sure she was meeting the requirements of the Church.

Liquor Law Action Eyed By Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's lawmakers return to work today to begin a week that could determine the father of the controversial Sunday liquor bill.

The measure to permit Sunday sale of liquor after 1 p.m. under local option in counties of 00,000 or more population is due for final hearings tonight before the House Liquor Committee.

Sponsors, including Sen. David . Matia, D - Cuyahoga, have oiced optimism over chances the Senate-passed measure ut polls of committee members indicate tonight's decision ill be a close one.

Matia and other supporters aintain the law is needed to ost Ohio's potential as a conention state, particularly in its ree largest cities.

House Speaker Roger W. Cloud, Logan, said he is hopeful an greement will come this week 5th of the legislative session on a school foundation proam. The House Education ommittee and its subcommitare studying various proals to boost state support for public schools.

That problem is one of the ajor obstacles to final adjournent of the general assembly.

Other actions being awaited include a house vote on a Senate-approved bill to ban discrimination in housing, and Senate consideration of pay raises for 39,000 state employes and reorganization of the State Welfare Department.

The House is expected to complete passage this week of a measure to regulate Ohio's oil and gas industry. It was approved by the lower chamber once before but now must go back for consideration of Senate amendments.

It would set up a Division of Oil and Gas in the Department of Natural Resources. The division would take over functions now carried out by the Division of Mines.

A Cake That Meets Many Requirements

Even the most gourmet homemaker - cook likes to have "something simple, but fabulous" in the way of big party cakes. . . and even such good good cooks admit that a cake like the one pictured here, made with a cake mix, can't be surpassed when it comes to appearance and good eating!

Today there are so many occasions when busy homemakers would like to do something very special. This is the cake to fill all requirements.

The frosting — a typical 7-minute recipe — may be varied to suit your purpose:

Fold in 1½ cups well drained, washed fresh raspberries for a luscious freshfruit flavor and to match a rose color plan.

If you like a mint flavor then omit the vanilla and add ½ teaspoon peppermint extract; tint a pale pink or green. And although the chocolate "icicles" are most decorative, you may want an all-pastel cake; if so, omit them and substitute a liberal topping of fluffy flaked coconut, plain or tinted.

SPECIAL OCCASION CAKE

2 packages fudge - coconut cake mix
Brandy Frosting
Chocolate Drizzle

Prepare cake mix batter as directed in packages. Pour into round 10-, 8-, and 6-inch layer pans, which have been greased and floured, using 5 cups batter in the largest pan, 3 cups batter in the 8-inch pan, and remaining batter in the small pan.

Bake at 350 degrees until cake tester inserted into center of cakes comes out clean—about 35 minutes for 6-inch layer, 40 minutes for 8 - inch layer, and 50 minutes for 10-inch layer. Cook cakes in pans 10 minutes; then remove from pans and finish cooling on racks.

Place largest layer upside down on a large plate. Spread top and sides with Brandy Frosting; repeat with 8 - inch layer. Top with smallest cake. Spread top and sides with frosting. Decorate with Chocolate Drizzle.

BRANDY FROSTING

3 egg whites
2¼ cups sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup water
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
2 tablespoons brandy extract

Combine egg whites, sugar, salt, water, and corn syrup in top of 2 - quart double boiler. Beat about 1 minutes, or until thoroughly mixed. Then place over boiling water and beat constantly with rotary beater (or at high speed of electric mixer) 7 minutes, or until frosting will stand in stiff peaks. (Stir frosting up from bottom and sides of pan occasionally with rubber scraper, spatula, or spoon.)

Remove from boiling water. For a very smooth and satiny frosting, pour at once into a large bowl for final beating. Then add brandy extract and beat 1 minute, or until thick enough to spread. Makes about 6¾ cups frosting.

CHOCOLATE DRIZZLE

Hold 3 unopened packets of unsweetened chocolate flavor product for baking under hot tap water to soften. Open packets as directed. Drizzle from packet around top edge of cake layers, letting some run down the sides.

Cleveland Man Killed In Fall From Bridge

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 35-year-old East Side man jumped or fell to his death Monday night from the Harvard-Denison Bridge, police said.

Edwin Wojciechowski fell 90 feet, landing in a driveway.

Fatigue Blamed For Rubirosa's Paris Auto Death

PARIS (AP) — Police speculated today that fatigue may have been a factor in the death of Porfirio Rubirosa, 56, the international playboy whose sports car smashed into a tree as he was heading home from an all-night party.

The ex-diplomat and former husband of heiresses Doris Duke and Barbara Hutton died in an ambulance after his Ferrari clipped a parked car and rebounded into a tree, police said. He was flung against the wheel and windshield.

The driver of the parked car and a passing cyclist gave first aid and called an ambulance.

The accident, in the Bois de Boulogne, was not far from the spot where Prince Aly Khan, a close friend of Rubirosa, died in an automobile collision in May, 1960.

Rubirosa had spent Sunday night celebrating the victory of his polo team over a team led by his friend, Elie de Rothschild.

Rubirosa's wife, French actress Odile Rodin, left the party at 5 a.m., saying she was tired. Rubirosa and several friends continued the celebration.

In the dawn hours Rubirosa drove off alone in his convertible.

125 'Choppers' Wanted

New 'Copter Units Eyed To Replace Ones In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army wants to create some new helicopter companies to fill the gap left in U.S.-based forces when chopper outfits were sent to war in South Viet Nam.

Informed sources said today the Army has proposed to the Defense Department that five new helicopter companies be formed.

This proposal calls for an increase of 125 choppers and more than 1,000 men.

The Army now has 12 helicopter companies in Viet Nam totaling about 300 machines. They are assigned chiefly to airlifting South Vietnamese army units into battle against the Communist Viet Cong.

The most recent arrivals were three companies equipped with the latest model UH1D, a machine which can carry 11 soldiers.

The three outfits were drawn from the 1st Infantry Division, Ft. Riley, Kan., the 101st Airborne Division, Ft. Campbell, Ky., and the 82nd Airborne Division, Ft. Bragg, N.C.

These three divisions are part of the Army's strategic reserve of eight regular divisions kept ready in the United States for swift movement to crisis points around the world.

Meanwhile, the Army released figures claiming that from Jan. 1, 1962 to last May 31 it lost only 45 helicopters in South Viet Nam as a result of Communist action.

During this period, it told the AP, helicopters flew 701,938 sorties. This works out to a loss rate of one chopper for every 15,598 sorties flown.

The Army considers a machine lost only when it cannot be repaired and thus is damaged beyond any use.

Its public figures do not reflect the number of helicopters which are hit by ground fire, put out of action temporarily and either repaired on the spot and flown out or hauled back to a base for major repairs.

The Army said that it lost 13 of its fixed wing aircraft, mostly light observation planes, in South Viet Nam between Jan. 1, 1962 and last May 31 as a result of Communist ground fire.

These fixed wing planes flew 296,946 sorties for a loss rate in action of one plane for every 22,842 sorties flown.

Thus, as of the end of May, the Army figured its helicopters and planes had flown 998,884 sorties during the Vietnamese war. The total now is well over a million.

Midland Parade Aftermath

'Stranded' Legionnaire Gets Leniency In Court

An American Legionnaire "shipwrecked" in East Liverpool after the Independence Day parade at Midland Monday won leniency today from Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on an intoxication charge.

Jack Mueller, 49, of Unionville, Pa., told the judge he got aboard a small river craft after the Midland parade for a cruise on the Ohio. He said the boat docked at Broadway here and he never got aboard again.

Police said Mueller was arrested at 5:19 p. m. on E. 5th St. by Patrolman L. E. Richard.

Still attired in a legion shirt and GI trousers of World War II vintage, Mueller denied the intoxication charge. He said at one interval that his trouble was caused "by a pain in my chest." Later, he told the court that he had been bitten by a dog years ago" and the poison came out on me yesterday."

Queried by the court, Mueller said he served in World War II with the 1326th Quartermaster Company. He said he is unemployed, but lives on a government pension, adding: "I'm on my way to Pittsburgh right now to pick up my check."

Freeing the man, the judge commented: "In honor of the July 4 holiday and taking cognizance of your status as a veteran, you are hereby discharged."

Several others charged with intoxication were among the 18 who faced the court today as an aftermath of the long holiday weekend.

Charles Staats, 507 Virginia Ave., was fined $25 and costs on an intoxication charge filed under state law.

Police said he was taken into custody at 6:03 p. m. Sunday after a report of a disturbance in an East End diner. Queried by the court, Staats said he did not remember anything about the incident.

Two more intoxication defendants were fined $10 and costs and hearings were set Wednesday for two more.

The continued cases were those of a Pittsburgh man and a Sherwood woman, both arrested at 4 a. m. today on E. 4th St. Police reported to the court the two still were too highly intoxicated five hours after their arrest to be brought before the judge.

Sympathy Extended Officer Who Shot Suspect In Attack

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Telegrams from throughout the nation are pouring into police headquarters in sympathy with a police lieutenant who officers say shot a man he believed to be one of a gang that raped his daughter.

Officers said Lt. Thomas E. O'Neal, 41, fired three shots into Carl E. Norman, 21, Friday in a Los Angeles police station in the belief that Norman raped his daughter, Shirley Dianne, 19.

Norman was booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana but subsequently was exonorated of any involvement with the rape. He is reported in serious condition at Los Angeles County General Hospital.

Lt. O'Neal has been suspended from the force and faces arraignment Thursday on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

A police spokesman said "scores of sympathetic telegrams" arrive daily, "offering help and even money" for O'Neal.

Among those volunteering aid was Louis F. Melson, a member of Mayor Samuel W. Yorty's advisory council.

O'Neal is free on $3,300 bail. His $1,000 monthly salary was halted when he was suspended and friends say he faces major medical bills for himself and his daughter.

Sixteen men have been arrested in connection with the attack.

Chief of Detectives Thad Brown said the victim identified two suspects "but collapsed after making these identifications."

The girl is now under doctors' care, Brown said.

Self-Study Policy Proposed As Mass Education Solution

CINCINNATI (AP)—Revamping the colleges to make students learn as many subjects as possible on their own and away from classrooms would be one way out of the current dilemmas of mass education, a University of Illinois professor suggested today.

Dr. Harry S. Broudy, a professor of philosophy of education, made his suggestion in a talk to the national conference of the American College Public Relations Association.

"The most important move is to remove from the college classroom and from the campus when possible the kind of learning that could be done by the student on his own," Dr. Broudy said.

"I would guess that about 75 per cent of undergraduate study is of this sort and could be done more effectively by programmed instruction, television, and so on. Proficiency examinations, taken whenever the student is ready, could take care of 'standards,' and these examinations could be given by some anonymous body, not the individual professor."

This should be followed up by teaching only advanced subjects on the campus and making diplomas and degrees "contingent on comprehensive written or oral examinations taken whenever the student feels he is ready to take them."

Residence on the campus should be limited to "those students who can profit from intellectual stimulation in seminars, advanced courses, laboratory work tutorials," Dr. Broudy continued.

"Ninety per cent of those deaths were needless," the judge said in referring to the highway toll. "Thousands are mourning deaths today in their families and there were untold injuries and uncounted property damage.

"You persons before the court this morning are lucky — at least you are here. The court cannot understand what gets into the minds of drivers on a holiday weekend."

Two East End residents were fined $15 and costs as a result of a single arrest Monday at 4:35 a. m. on Harvey Ave.

Betty Jane Smith, 1256½ Pennsylvania Ave., was charged with operating an auto without a driver's license. Lemuel Walker, 503 1st Ave., owner of the car and a passenger at the time of the arrest, was accused of knowingly permitting an unlicensed driver to oprate his car.

He was cited by the State Highway Patrol Thursday at 8:30 p. m. on 25th St. Heights, Wellsville, after his motorcycle allegedly went off the highway on a curve.

Sam Fricano, 259 W. 9th St., also was fined $15 and costs on a charge he changed traffic lanes without ascertaining the movement could be made with safety. He was cited by the patrol after a mishap June 28 at 7:50 p. m. on State Route 170.

Out Of The Air

BY JOHN HORN

CBS And The Emmy

The 1964-65 Emmy awards nominations were conspicuous by the absence of CBS News programs in news and documentary categories.

"The door remains open," said Peter Cott, executive director of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. "If CBS News makes its programs available to us, we will screen them."

But a CBS spokesman said the news division's position has not changed. It did not submit programs, he said, because CBS News President Fred W. Friendly feels strongly that "news broadcasts should not be judged in the same arena as entertainment broadcasts."

INDIVIDUAL performer nominations in entertainment were Alfred Lunt, Lynn Fontanne, Julie Harris ("Hall of Fame"), Barbra Streisand, Bob Hope, Danny Kaye, David McCallum ("Man From U.N.C.L.E."), Dean Jagger ("Mr. Novak"), Dick Van Dyke, Gladys Cooper and Robert Coote ("The Rogues"), Johnny Carson, Julie Andrews "(Andy Williams Show"), Leonard Bernstein, Red Skelton and Richard Crenna ("Slattery's People").

All the shows named and represented by the aforementioned stars, with the exceptions of "Tonight Show With Johnny Carson" and "Red Skelton Show," were nominated as programs.

Program nominations also included "Profiles in Courage," "The Defenders," "Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color," "Wonderful World of Burlesque" and the United Nations specials.

-:-

NEWS PROGRAM nominees were Metromedia's "My Childhood," NBC - TV's convention coverage, "The Louvre" and White Paper on "The Decision To Drop the Bomb" and ABC-TV's "I, Leonardo da Vinci."

The academy this year changed its selection methods from general membership voting to a graduated sifting by selected and qualified members.

Academy members and producers now enter programs. The entries are gone over by selected committees of program-area members and qualified craft members, then screened by nomination committees.

The academy, Cott said, is in "the process of selecting" blue-ribbon panelists, not necessarily members, who will determine the Emmy awards. Winners will be announced Sept. 12 in a 90-minute special on NBC-TV.

A minimum of five awards—they can go up to 10 or more—in each of nine areas will be given this year, Cott said. The categories: program and individual achievements in news, program achievement in entertainment and six subdivisions in individual entertainment achievements (performers, writers, directors, musicians, art directors and set decorators and technicians.

-:-

IF PRODUCER - DIRECTOR George Schaefer has his way, "Hall of Fame" next season again will present Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in a TV drama of an hour to two in length.

The Lunts last season played in "The Magnificent Yankee," their first "Hall of Fame production.

"I spent a weekend with the Lunts two weeks ago," Schaefer said, "and we went over 45 projects. We'd all appreciate the dramatic equivalent of 'The Forsyte Saga,' if we can find one."

The 15th "Hall of Fame" season opens on NBC-TV Oct. 20 with "Eagle in a Cage," a 90-minute original by Millard Lampell with Trevor Howard as Napoleon.

Another production, "Lamp at Midnight," with Melvin Douglas as Galileo, begins rehearsals in July. It will be telecast next Easter.

Another presentation will be a nonbiographical play taken from modern American literature.

"Six plays, all done in the last 15 years or so, are now under consideration," Schaefer said.

Filling out the six-special season will be repeats of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" at Christmas and "Victoria Regina," starring Julie Harris.

Akron Boy 'Critical' With Electrical Burns

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Robert Lowe, 13, was reported in critical condition today at Childrens Hospital after a brush with a 24,000-volt electric wire.

Two of the boy's friends told investigators they were playing in the Cuyahoga River Gorge near an Ohio Edison Co. power plant Monday. They dared Robert to climb one of the steel towers and he did, they told investigators.

The boy slipped on the way down and reached out and grabbed a wire. It shorted and he fell 40 feet. Robert's father is a lineman for the company.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Children Can Help Plan Family Trip

Many families go together on long or short motor trips in summer. If you are planning a trip, your school - age children may gain a lot of fun and information if you let them help you plan the trip. Collecting maps and all sorts of information about the area you hope to travel through and places of special interest on the way will assist you.

Dr. Garry Myers

Consider how much geographic and historic knowledge your children may acquire before and during the trip. Such knowledge may prove very useful to them at school next fall.

Most families incline to go too far for the time they have. They limit the pleasure and learning of all concerned and increase driving hazards. When they travel very far on any one day they grow tired and irritable. Instead, parents should wisely plan daily distances not to exceed a few hundred miles.

FOR ANY motor trip, especially with children, the first essential is a car safe and sound mechanically, with good tires, and seat belts. This may seem trite to say, but all too many whole families motoring in summer face tragedies for want of such precautions.

For youngsters under five or six, a two - door car adds to safety, if they sit in the back seat. Some parents wisely remove the inside handles of the four - door car. All children, of course, should be trained never to tamper with car doors or fixtures.

When several children travel in a car, they may quarrel and fight, dangerously diverting the attention of the driver. Such quarreling in a car should be strictly forbidden, even on the way to Sunday school or church. If diversion or reseating does not curb such conflicts, the driver should pull off the road and paddle the offenders soundly.

BUT quarreling may be prevented or reduced if the youngsters can get out and walk about at reasonable intervals. Time will pass pleasantly if the children are encouraged in group singing or group games on the way. Some resourceful parents think of all sorts of amusing word games. You might find at a newsstand some booklets offering good suggestions.

Excessive consumption of stimulating soft drinks can cause children to grow more excitable and quarrelsome. Strictly limiting the number of times each child may have such refreshments on any day is, obviously, desirable. For the health and welfare of all the family there should be reasonable limitations of all refreshments on the way. Moreover, see that no one drinks from a bottle but through straws or from sanitary cups.

In stopping for snacks or other refreshments, select only a place which looks clean and tidy, for health reasons. Avoid for everyone sandwiches with creamy dressing between them; they can prove to be poisonous, especially in hot weather. Immediately cooked food is usually safer.

IT IS wise to have water and milk along in the car in safe containers. When bought on the way, milk should be in sealed bottles marked "pasteurized."

If any child on the way complains of a sore throat or the symptoms of sickness be sure to take him to a doctor, especially if there is a long stretch of distance ahead without medical facilities.

Aim to make your automobile trip for all the family as safe and satisfying as possible.

My bulletins, "First Steps in Training Tot in Safety," and "Enjoying Our Children," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Three Minor Alarms Are Answered Here

Three minor alarms, including a false alarm, were answered Monday by city firemen.

The department was called to E. 8th St. and Lincoln Ave. at 10:03 a. m. by an alarm from Box 25, but the call proved false. Firemen said two youngsters were seen running away from the alarm box.

Boys also were blamed for setting fire to a pile of brush in a vacant lot of Loblaw's Inc., at Sophia and Walnut Sts. at 11:37 p. m. Firemen were called to quell the blaze.

They also were called to the department of A. B. Abolos, 113 Diamond Alley, at 1:59 p. m. and removed a pan of overcooked food from a stove. There was a lot of smoke, but no fire, firemen said.

Lima Building Burns, $100,000 Loss Listed

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — The sky over downtown Lima was lit up Monday night as the Fourth of July weekend came to a close. A building with five stores in it was on fire.

Assistant Fire Chief George Kelley estimated damage at $100,000 and said, "I could be low on that." He said two stores, a tailor shop and a sewing machine center, were destroyed and that the other three sustained smoke and water damage.

No injuries were reported.

Nerve Operation Ends 2-Year Hiccup Siege

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — After two years, Lucy McDonald has stopped hiccuping. She returned home Monday following a Friday operation in which a nerve was severed to halt the hiccups.

"I'm fine," Mrs. McDonald said. Now her problem is recuperating and finding a job to support her three children. She is divorced.

During the siege of hiccups, Mrs. McDonald, who had been a waitress, had not been able to hold a job.

Weaknesses Analyzed

Status Of OAS Worries Latin-American Leaders

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Latin-American leaders express fear that the Organization of American States is coming apart at the seams.

At a time when many nations individually are displaying new confidence about their prospects, the OAS is running a fever.

Its future as an instrument to preserve peace and counter subversion in the hemisphere may depend upon what sort of solution emerges from the rebellion crisis of the Dominican Republic.

Influential leaders say the Dominican episode has been a severe blow to an already ailing organization. Some say it faces the threat of yet another jolt if its special plenary conference opens on schedule Aug. 4 in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. This is the meeting postponed by the Dominican crisis.

"No matter what happens in August, it will be bad for the OAS," said a Mexican source. Mexico is vigorously opposed to holding the meeting. "If it attempts to do something positive it will run into disagreement which will weaken it even more. If it is postponed again, or if it meets and does nothing, it will demonstrate its weakness. But perhaps the best it can do is nothing at all."

The United States evidently wants Latin-American governments to stand up and be counted on the issue of perfecting some sort of machinery to deal with subversion. A meeting of OAS foreign ministers in Venezuela last year defined subversion as a form of aggression.

There are two U.S. views of what should be done. One contends that the OAS should have a military machinery ready to meet any sudden explosive situation. The other would settle for a more vague result, such as measures to "strengthen the peacekeeping system" and expand areas in which a peace commission might operate.

When the United States acted in the Dominican Republic, it was a matter of geography. The Dominican Republic is close to U.S. shores. Seeing the possibility of a Red bastion there, the United States intervened without seeking OAS approval.

What if there is a new emergency elsewhere?

Sovereignty is a cherished concept in Latin America. The idea of an inter-American force operating within their own frontiers is disturbing to many Latin Americans. They also worry about who would be the judge of whether such action was necessary, about who would say that an upheaval in this or that country was a threat to the hemisphere. The United States made itself the judge in the Dominican case.

Out Of The Air

BY JOHN HORN

CBS And The Emmy

The 1964-65 Emmy awards nominations were conspicuous by the absence of CBS News programs in news and documentary categories.

"The door remains open," said Peter Cott, executive director of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. "If CBS News makes its programs available to us, we will screen them."

But a CBS spokesman said the news division's position has not changed. It did not submit programs, he said, because CBS News President Fred W. Friendly feels strongly that "news broadcasts should not be judged in the same arena as entertainment broadcasts."

INDIVIDUAL performer nominations in entertainment were Alfred Lunt, Lynn Fontanne, Julie Harris ("Hall of Fame"), Barbra Streisand, Bob Hope, Danny Kaye, David McCallum ("Man From U.N.C.L.E."), Dean Jagger ("Mr. Novak"), Dick Van Dyke, Gladys Cooper and Robert Coote ("The Rogues"), Johnny Carson, Julie Andrews "(Andy Williams Show"), Leonard Bernstein, Red Skelton and Richard Crenna ("Slattery's People").

All the shows named and represented by the aforementioned stars, with the exceptions of "Tonight Show With Johnny Carson" and "Red Skelton Show," were nominated as programs.

Program nominations also included "Profiles in Courage," "The Defenders," "Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color," "Wonderful World of Burlesque" and the United Nations specials.

-:-

NEWS PROGRAM nominees were Metromedia's "My Childhood," NBC - TV's convention coverage, "The Louvre" and White Paper on "The Decision To Drop the Bomb" and ABC-TV's "I, Leonardo da Vinci."

The academy this year changed its selection methods from general membership voting to a graduated sifting by selected and qualified members.

Academy members and producers now enter programs. The entries are gone over by selected committees of program-area members and qualified craft members, then screened by nomination committees.

The academy, Cott said, is in "the process of selecting" blue-ribbon panelists, not necessarily members, who will determine the Emmy awards. Winners will be announced Sept. 12 in a 90-minute special on NBC-TV.

A minimum of five awards—they can go up to 10 or more—in each of nine areas will be given this year, Cott said. The categories: program and individual achievements in news, program achievement in entertainment and six subdivisions in individual entertainment achievements (performers, writers, directors, musicians, art directors and set decorators and technicians.

Time will pass pleasantly if the children are encouraged in group singing or group games on the way. Some resourceful parents think of all sorts of amusing word games. You might find at a newsstand some booklets offering good suggestions.

Excessive consumption of stimulating soft drinks can cause children to grow more excitable and quarrelsome. Strictly limiting the number of times each child may have such refreshments on any day is, obviously, desirable. For the health and welfare of all the family there should be reasonable limitations of all refreshments on the way. Moreover, see that no one drinks from a bottle but through straws or from sanitary cups.

In stopping for snacks or other refreshments, select only a place which looks clean and tidy, for health reasons. Avoid for everyone sandwiches with creamy dressing between them; they can prove to be poisonous, especially in hot weather. Immediately cooked food is usually safer.

IT IS wise to have water and milk along in the car in safe containers. When bought on the way, milk should be in sealed bottles marked "pasteurized."

If any child on the way complains of a sore throat or the symptoms of sickness be sure to take him to a doctor, especially if there is a long stretch of distance ahead without medical facilities.

Aim to make your automobile trip for all the family as safe and satisfying as possible.

Three Minor Alarms Are Answered Here

Three minor alarms, including a false alarm, were answered Monday by city firemen.

The department was called to E. 8th St. and Lincoln Ave. at 10:03 a. m. by an alarm from Box 25, but the call proved false. Firemen said two youngsters were seen running away from the alarm box.

Boys also were blamed for setting fire to a pile of brush in a vacant lot of Loblaw's Inc., at Sophia and Walnut Sts. at 11:37 p. m. Firemen were called to quell the blaze.

They also were called to the department of A. B. Abolos, 113 Diamond Alley, at 1:59 p. m. and removed a pan of overcooked food from a stove. There was a lot of smoke, but no fire, firemen said.

Lima Building Burns, $100,000 Loss Listed

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — The sky over downtown Lima was lit up Monday night as the Fourth of July weekend came to a close. A building with five stores in it was on fire.

Assistant Fire Chief George Kelley estimated damage at $100,000 and said, "I could be low on that." He said two stores, a tailor shop and a sewing machine center, were destroyed and that the other three sustained smoke and water damage.

No injuries were reported.

Status Of OAS Worries Latin-American Leaders

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Latin-American leaders express fear that the Organization of American States is coming apart at the seams.

At a time when many nations individually are displaying new confidence about their prospects, the OAS is running a fever.

Its future as an instrument to preserve peace and counter subversion in the hemisphere may depend upon what sort of solution emerges from the rebellion crisis of the Dominican Republic.

Influential leaders say the Dominican episode has been a severe blow to an already ailing organization. Some say it faces the threat of yet another jolt if its special plenary conference opens on schedule Aug. 4 in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. This is the meeting postponed by the Dominican crisis.

"No matter what happens in August, it will be bad for the OAS," said a Mexican source. Mexico is vigorously opposed to holding the meeting. "If it attempts to do something positive it will run into disagreement which will weaken it even more. If it is postponed again, or if it meets and does nothing, it will demonstrate its weakness. But perhaps the best it can do is nothing at all."

The United States evidently wants Latin-American governments to stand up and be counted on the issue of perfecting some sort of machinery to deal with subversion. A meeting of OAS foreign ministers in Venezuela last year defined subversion as a form of aggression.

There are two U.S. views of what should be done. One contends that the OAS should have a military machinery ready to meet any sudden explosive situation. The other would settle for a more vague result, such as measures to "strengthen the peacekeeping system" and expand areas in which a peace commission might operate.

When the United States acted in the Dominican Republic, it was a matter of geography. The Dominican Republic is close to U.S. shores. Seeing the possibility of a Red bastion there, the United States intervened without seeking OAS approval.

What if there is a new emergency elsewhere?

Sovereignty is a cherished concept in Latin America. The idea of an inter-American force operating within their own frontiers is disturbing to many Latin Americans. They also worry about who would be the judge of whether such action was necessary, about who would say that an upheaval in this or that country was a threat to the hemisphere. The United States made itself the judge in the Dominican case.

Senate Launches Debate On Health Care Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate opens debate today on the historic bill which would establish broad health programs for 19 million Americans 65 or older and increase all present Social Security benefits.

The plan would cost an estimated 6.8 billion a year. It would be financed primarily by an increase in Social Security taxes, both to the employer and employe.

Sponsors said they would push for passage by the end of this week, and forecast as many as 80 favorable votes out of the 100-man Senate.

Last year, the Senate narrowly adopted, 49-44, an amendment to a House-passed bill adding health care for the aged to Social Security. The measure died in conference between the two branches.

This year, however, the House passed a health care-Social Security bill. The margin in the April 8 vote was a solid 313-115.

The Senate Finance Committee made numerous changes in the House bill but preserved all of its essential provisions. Its vote was 12-5 with Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., among the dissenters.

The provisions include a 7 per cent increase in Social Security retirement, survivor and disability benefits, retroactive to last Jan. 1, and these two new health programs:

—A basic plan financed under Social Security covering hospitalization, posthospital nursing home care, outpatient hospital diagnostic services, and posthospital home health visits.

—A voluntary, supplemental plan covering doctors' fees and some additional health services.

The bill also revises and beefs up the Kerr-Mills program of aid for old persons too poor to pay heavy medical expenses; increases federal grants for the needy, old, blind and disabled: and authorizes new U.S. funds for child health programs.

It makes numerous changes in the Social Security law in addition to the increased benefits and the new hospitalization plan.

Fear Hampers Klan Study, Says Alabama Prober

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Fear of — and sympathy for — the Ku Klux Klan is hampering his investigation of the hooded order, says Alabama Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers. However, he claims he is making progress.

In an interview Monday Flowers said, "This bunch has a lot of people scared.

"In Alabama, my main problem is that the Klan has a lot of sympathizers. We have to educate the people to just what kind of a lousy, tough bunch the Klan is."

Robert A. Shelton, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., imperial wizard of the United Klans of America, could not be reached for comment.

Flowers also said without elaborating, "I have felt all along that there has been a tremendous amount of foot-dragging going on" in connection with an inquiry into Klan activities by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Speech Curb Unlikely For Prince Philip

LONDON (AP) — Political observers see little chance of the House of Commons even debating a motion to warn Prince Philip to keep quiet on political issues.

Although the motion was signed by more than 30 Laborite legislators, leaders of both the Labor government and the Conservative opposition were reported anxious to let the matter drop.

The prince, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, has come under leftist criticism at home and African criticism in the Commonwealth for counseling restraint in the argument over Rhodesia's future.

The central African colony has internal self - government and the ruling white minority shows no sign of agreeing to the British government's demands for a constitution promising the African majority control ultimately. Asian and African members of the Commonwealth want Britain to force the Rhodesian whites to accept such a constitution.

In Edinburgh last week the prince suggested that negotiations on Rhodesia's future should be taken slowly rather than "risk a blood bath and many other unpredictable results by forcing the pace."

Philip added: "I think everybody recognizes that the ultimate result (African rule) is inevitable. But I think a few years here or there do not matter if we can achieve this result peacefully and quietly."

Philip's Laborate critics considered this a statement of personal political opinion such as modern British royalty is not supposed to make.

The only political statements allowed to the queen in public are those approved by the government in power.

Fight Looms On Vote Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House faces a fierce interparty fight today as it takes up the voting rights bill which carries a top priority tag in President Johnson's legislative program.

Leaders hope for a final vote by Friday. They have said it appears certain some form of legislation will be passed to enforce the 15th Amendment's command that no person be denied the right to vote because of race or color.

A struggle looms over what approach should be taken — especially on the question of poll taxes.

Johnson urged prompt action when he sent his voting rights bill to Capitol Hill in mid-March at the height of racial demonstrations in Selma, Ala.

The Senate passed the bill May 26 by a 77-19 margin. It contained no ban on the use of poll taxes in state and local elections—the President had not asked for such a ban. But it included a provision calling for a court test on the constitutionality of such taxes. And the bill said Congress would declare that state poll taxes are used to discriminate against Negroes and the poor.

Poll taxes still are collected in Texas, Alabama, Mississippi and Virginia in state or local elections.

Key points in the Senate bill and the bill before the House are the suspension of literacy tests in elections and the use of federal registrars under certain conditions. These provisions automatically would trigger enforcement in seven Southern states—Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

House Republicans have drawn up a substitute measure. The big difference between it and the Democratic bill is that the GOP version has no automatic trigger which would apply it to specific Southern states.

Steubenville College Makes Two Changes

STEUBENVILLE — Irwin A. Fluharty, administrative head of the Department of Journalism at The College of Steubenville since its organization in 1950, this fall will assume full-time duty as assistant to the president and director of public relations, it was announced today.

Adam Giandomenico, a member of the mass communications faculty for the last two years, will serve as acting department head, it was announced by the Rev. Columba J. Devlin, T.O.R., president.

Fluharty has served the college in a dual capacity for the last two years, pending appointment of a successor to head the department. He formerly worked on newspapers in Wheeling and Columbus and with the Associated Press, as well as with other publications in the east.

Giandomenico, who has been director of the college speech program, has been an instructor in the area of radio and television as well in the department of mass communications.

Officers Cite Newell Youth For Struggle

An 18-year-old Newell youth was given a suspended 10-day term in County Jail today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge he struggled with officers who sought to arrest his 17-year-old companion on a drinking charge.

Johnnie L. Adkins of the Glendale Rd. was ordered to pay the costs in the charge, filed by Patrolman Ronald Brookes and Samuel E. Hays after the struggle at 8:10 p. m. Friday on Mulberry St. The judge said he suspended the jail term because Adkins had been behind bars since his arrest, awaiting a court appearance.

Adkins was charged with resisting a police officer in the execution of his duty. Police said he also has been cited before Juvenile Officer James Miller of Lisbon as a result of the drinking on the part of the 17-year-old.

Officer Brookes testified Adkins told him he had consumed two bottles of beer, which he had purchased at Newell. He said he arrested the 17-year-old because he had been drinking and then called for a cruiser to transport the boy to headquarters.

"This fellow kept saying 'get away, 'get away,' and pulling at my arm," he told the court. When the cruiser arrived, the defendant attempted to prevent the officers from placing the 17-year-old in the police car, he added.

The patrolman said the juvenile is being held in the County Jail at Lisbon for a Juvenile Court appearance. Called to the bench by the judge, Adkins' parents said they realized they could have posted bond to free their son Friday, but decided to allow him to remain in jail "in the hope he would learn a lesson."

Turning to Adkins, the judge said: "Incidents like this cause riots. We are not going to have that here and you might as well learn that right now."

Wellsville Blaze Tied To 'Cracker'

A firecracker was blamed for one of three minor fires extinguished Monday afternoon and evening by Wellsville firemen.

An 11-year-old boy set off a firecracker in a vacant house at 1731 Main St., causing a blaze. Minor damage resulted. The old building has been condemned and no estimate was made of the loss, firemen said.

Firemen also extinguished a grass fire along the Pennsylvania Railroad right-of-way between 12th and 15th Sts. at 3:30 p.m. It was caused by sparks from a passing locomotive and burned close to some warehouses of the Georgetti River-Rail Terminal.

A faulty carburetor was blamed for a fire in a car owned by William Smith, 1819 Chester Ave., Wellsville, at 4th and Main Sts. at 7:29 p. m. The fire damaged the wiring around the motor and the paint on the hood, firemen reported.

Officers Cite Newell Youth For Struggle

An 18-year-old Newell youth was given a suspended 10-day term in County Jail today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge he struggled with officers who sought to arrest his 17-year-old companion on a drinking charge.

Johnnie L. Adkins of the Glendale Rd. was ordered to pay the costs in the charge, filed by Patrolman Ronald Brookes and Samuel E. Hays after the struggle at 8:10 p. m. Friday on Mulberry St. The judge said he suspended the jail term because Adkins had been behind bars since his arrest, awaiting a court appearance.

Adkins was charged with resisting a police officer in the execution of his duty. Police said he also has been cited before Juvenile Officer James Miller of Lisbon as a result of the drinking on the part of the 17-year-old.

Officer Brookes testified Adkins told him he had consumed two bottles of beer, which he had purchased at Newell. He said he arrested the 17-year-old because he had been drinking and then called for a cruiser to transport the boy to headquarters.

"This fellow kept saying 'get away, 'get away,' and pulling at my arm," he told the court. When the cruiser arrived, the defendant attempted to prevent the officers from placing the 17-year-old in the police car, he added.

The patrolman said the juvenile is being held in the County Jail at Lisbon for a Juvenile Court appearance. Called to the bench by the judge, Adkins' parents said they realized they could have posted bond to free their son Friday, but decided to allow him to remain in jail "in the hope he would learn a lesson."

Turning to Adkins, the judge said: "Incidents like this cause riots. We are not going to have that here and you might as well learn that right now."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was undecided as to whether I should write to you or run an ad in the classified section of this paper.

You see, I have a slightly used boy friend I'd like to get rid of. His leg was broken skiing last November and I can't get him out of my apartment.

The young man is 32, unmarried, handsome in a rugged, Irish way, 6 feet tall, a superb dancer, doesn't drink or smoke (too much) and he is a writer by profession. This is part of the problem. He writes checks on our joint account to which he has contributed nothing for eight months.

When his leg was broken I made the horrible mistake of letting him move into the second bedroom. I wouldn't feel right about throwing him out in the street. An ideal solution would be to find him another home.

I'm signing my name and telephone number in the hope that someone will take this charming moocher off my hands—and I'm not kidding.—MISS ——. MURRYHILL ——.

Dear ——: Sorry, I can't print your name and telephone number. First, it's against the rules of this column to put one reader in touch with another. Second, I'm afraid you'd be deluged with offers.

All some dames need to know is that a man is 6 feet tall, handsome and a superb dancer and they will try to grab him — secure in the knowledge that they can overlook his petty faults and turn him into an ideal husband overnight. So, Doll—no deal.

Wasted Sympathy

Dear Ann: Last night a friend and I went to a TV studio to see a giveaway show. Several people from the audience volunteered to compete for prizes. I was horrified when a woman who was about 8½ months pregnant got up on the stage. She looked as if she was going to have twins for sure—maybe triplets.

The master of ceremonies said, "I hope you win something you can use in your condition." The woman won two pairs of skates. Everyone in the audience roared.

The MC kept repeating "in your condition" as if he had to point out to the audience what her condition was. My friend thought this was very funny. I was appalled.

Don't you think it was tasteless for the host of the show to exploit the woman this way? Although she was good natured about it I'll bet she felt awful. I'd like your opinion.—HOUSE DIVIDED.

Dear House: The woman knew she was pregnant when she volunteered to get on the stage. This type of show lives on exploitation—and she invited it. So save your sympathy.

Laundry Room

Dear Ann: I have a wife and two daughters. If you walked into our bathroom at any hour of the day or night you'd think I had a harem of 20. Across the shower rod hang about 15 pairs of nylons, a dozen pairs of unmentionables and 18 bras.

Whenever I want to take a shower I have to hack my way through this jungle of underwear. It burns me up.

My wife has a washer-dryer in the utility room and a clothesline in the basement. If you can give me one good reason for these females to clutter up the bathroom like this I'll shut up. Thank you. — NO - MAN'S LAND.

Dear No-Man: It's easier to suds undies in the bathroom sink than to trek down to the utility room and put them in a machine. Furthermore, elasticized garments last longer if they are laundered by hand.

If you hate fighting underwear at shower time, your wife ought to do her hand laundry early in the day and have the rods clear when you come home.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Ladies, I have a great idea: Go to your local lumber yard and ask the dealer if you may look through his pile of scrap lumber.

Try to find a piece of plywood 20 inches wide and at least 24 inches long. (We found this to be the best size).

After you get home, take this piece of plywood and wrap it in a piece of an old blanket, a scrap from an old quilt or a few thicknesses of worn-out towels, etc. Thumbtack or staple the padding to the bottom of the board.

Then cover it with two pieces of heavy, quilted foil (or use about four thicknesses of regular foil), and over that, put a piece of old sheet or some type of thin material.

Keep this by the side of your ironing board...and you will have a "Hello-ease board"!

You can shake out all the men's handkerchiefs, or your dinner napkins, etc. pile them on top of the board, and iron away like lightning.

YOU CAN put it up under a gathered skirt or a shirt, and iron away like mad.

You can put it across the middle of your ironing board for those little tricky pieces where your ironing board needs to be wider and just isn't!

I think you will agree with me that this board is one of the handiest gadgets in your entire house. (I made mine for less than 20 cents, as I bought the three-ply plywood from a pile of scrap lumber.)

HELOISE.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: I'm getting smart in my old age.

Now that summer's here, and I will gradually get a tan, I bought a small box of dark face powder and add a little at a time to my regular powder as the summer progresses.

At the end of summer, when I start fading, I reverse the process. It's a great economy.

E. ADAMS.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a hint for mothers who buy a whole watermelon and can't fit it all in the refrigerator.

Cut up the part that won't fit in the refrigerator into bite-size pieces, and put them into plastic containers that fit more easily in the refrigerator.

These watermelon pieces are perfect for children's lunches, snacks, and for picnics.

CARMEN, AGE 9.

-:-

Carmen, you're perfect to think of such a thing. We all love you.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who do NOT use contour sheets: I solved the problem years ago of keeping a sheet smooth on the bed by putting the bottom sheet on crossways!

By using this method, there is plenty of the sheet to tuck under the mattress (you don't need to tuck in the head and foot at all), and it will stay tight as a drum.

A STEADY READER.

It sure does. Thanks for the smooth idea!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a simple game for a bridal shower which I think you and your readers will be interested in.

The hostess announces that each guest will pretend she is Heloise. She passes out a 3x5-inch card and a pencil to each guest, and each one is asked to write her own favorite helpful hint (or recipe) on the card. The hostess then collects the cards and gives them to the bride-to-be to read aloud.

We all benefit, and the conversation sparkles all around the room.

The bride may put the cards in a little recipe box, and have something with our names on as a remembrance.

The game may be adapted to baby showers, too.

READER.

Chariot Hits 7 In Parade At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Milwaukee turned its streets to tanbark Monday as a record throng of 600,000 relived the color and pageantry of a circus parade.

Seven persons were hurt when a runaway Roman chariot swerved into the packed crowd near the start of the annual parade. Most of the spectators were unaware of the mishap.

The million-dollar treasure of lavishly colored, delicately carved circus wagons from the Circus World Museum at Baraboo, Wis., was augmented in the five-mile-long parade by 31 bands and drum and bugle corps and 500 animals.

The oldest of the 40 wagons was built in 1879. Eighteen elephants and a 1903 steam calliope trailed marching units which came from as far away as Toronto and Philadelphia.

The chariot, part of the Baraboo collection, veered into the throng lining the streets when the four horses pulling it bolted.

The parade capped the city's weekend-long "Day in Old Milwaukee" festivities for the Fourth of July holiday.

Cold Spreads In Northeast

By The Associated Press

A mid - summer cold wave spread plummeted temperatures throughout the Great Lakes area early today, with some readings reported in the 30s and 40s.

The Weather Bureau said the cold weather, the result of a Canadian high pressure area, would spread throughout the Northeast later today.

Thundershowers continued to drench the north Atlantic coast.

Rains Monday ended a long drought in the Northeast, but also triggered a series of small floods in the Utica, N.Y., area, where six inches of rain accompanied a severe storm.

Hundreds of homes and highways were inundated.

Heavy rains also pounded the mid - Atlantic and Southeast states.

A line of thunderstorms stretched from southwest Minnesota to the Texas Panhandle and heavy rain, wind and some hail were reported in many locales. The crew of an American Airline 707 jet said the plane's windshield was knocked out and its radar dome damaged in a heavy storm east of Texarkana late Monday night.

Space Frogs Planned In Satellite Research

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scientists at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore plan to send living frogs into orbit in an unmanned satellite.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it has accepted the school's preliminary design for a life support system to sustain the frogs in a four-day orbit.

NASA said the experiment will study the effects upon the living organisms of alternating periods of weightlessness and acceleration.

Trial Launched On Policeman's Bribery Charge

CLEVELAND (AP)—The trial of a Cleveland patrolman charged with soliciting and taking a $100 bribe opens today in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court.

Raymond J. Uzell, 32, a member of the police force since 1958, pleaded innocent when arraigned on a charge of seeking the bribe to influence his judgment in a traffic accident April 16.

Uzell was arrested at Burke Lakefront Airport April 17 by police acting on a tip from information supplied by Mrs. Carol Witt, 32, of Wickliffe.

Police said they found $100 in marked bills under the seat of Uzell's patrol car. The money was given to Uzell by Mrs. Witt, a friend of one of the persons involved in the traffic accident, police said. Mrs. Witt set up a contact with Uzell in cooperation with police.

Mrs. Witt said she heard of the alleged bribe being set up after an accident involving an auto driven by Robert Chipps, 28, of Cleveland.

Uzell was suspended after the alleged bribery incident by Safety Director John N. McCormick

Teen Agers Like Thursday Nights

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Businessmen and law enforcement officials in this southeastern Massachusetts city of 10,000 are baffled by a teen-age phenomenon.

Every Thursday night—shopping night downtown—up to 3,000 youngsters of both sexes pour into the downtown area and promenade along the main streets.

There's no disorder. Police officials say youngsters just walk aimlessly up and down the sidewalks.

Nobody can figure out why the kids choose Thursday night or the purpose of the promenade. Some youngsters say simply "We like to meet people." A boy offers another explanation, "to try to pick up girls, what else?"

Blast Injures 7, Damages Part Of Electron Device

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — "It's only by the grace of God I'm here. I was lucky," said a shaken Harvard physicist, Joseph Szymanski, of the blast that wrecked part of the $12-million Cambridge electron accelerator.

Seven colleagues were injured — three critically — in the blast early Monday as liquid hydrogen was being pumped into a chamber of the center's big experimental hall.

Dr. Szymanski, who was in charge of the bubble chamber where the explosion took place, said he was at a control panel when he spotted hydrogen feed pressure higher than it should be.

He shut it off, but it still climbed. Then came the blast.

Three co-workers were burned critically, and were on the danger list at Massachusetts General Hospital. They were:

John Schivell, 22, Harvard graduate student from Twinsburg, Ohio.

Arthur C. Reid, 19, a technical assistant at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Frank Feinberg, 20, of Providence, R. I., at MIT sophomore.

The center has been jointly operated by Harvard and MIT under grants from the Atomic Energy Commission since it was completed in 1962.

The center director, Dr. M. Stanley Livingston, professor of physics at MIT, said there was no possibility of radioactivity.

Reds Spill Dodgers, 7-4, Take Slight Edge In NL Race

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati squeezed ahead of Los Angeles into the National League lead.

But if the New York Mets played only on Monday, the Reds and Dodgers wouldn't even be in the race.

Cashing in on a succession of wild throws, the Reds scored three times in the seventh inning Monday night and beat the slipping Dodgers 7-4. That put Cincinnati into first place by two percentage points, dropping Los Angeles out of the top spot for the first time since May 4.

Meanwhile, led by the slugging of Shea Stadium's reigning idol — Ron Swoboda — the last-place Mets continued to work their Monday magic. Swoboda knocked across the first five runs of the holiday doubleheader with a pair of homers as the Mets swept Chicago, 3-2 and 3-0.

Since losing to the Dodgers on opening day, the well-entrenched tailenders have won eight and tied one on Monday. Included in the unusual string is the 1-0 triumph at Cincinnati on June 14 — the night Jim Maloney pitched a no-hitter for 10 innings — as well as three doubleheader sweeps.

And to prove they're not one-season wonders, the Mets won six of seven on Monday last year.

Phils Stay Hot, Dump Bucs Twice

Also in the NL — the Philadelphia Phillies made it eight victories in their last 10 games by knocking off Pittsburgh twice in a twi-night doubleheader, 3-1 and 6-2; Curt Flood's single in the 12th inning enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to win their sixth straight, 3-2 over San Francisco; and Walt Bond's squeeze bunt in the ninth brought in the run that gave Houston a 5-4 decision over Milwaukee's slumping Braves.

The Reds got only one hit in their seventh inning rally against the Dodgers — Leo Cardenas' leadoff single. But losing reliever Bob Miller threw wildly to second on winning pitcher Jim Maloney's bunt, followed with another wild throw — to third — on Tommy Harper's bunt, and center fielder Willie Davis then threw wildly to third after catching Pete Rose's sacrifice fly. Result: Three runs.

Dodger starter Nick Willhite hit a three-run double in the second and Lou Johnson homered in the fourth for Los Angeles. The Reds got two runs in the second and tied it on Cardenas' two-run single in the fourth before going on to hand the Dodgers their eighth defeat in the last 11 games.

Swoboda, who had been a Monday dud for the Mets with only two hits in 15 tries, made up for it against the Cubs. The rookie outfielder homered with two on in the first inning of the opener for the Mets' only runs and hit his 15th homer in the second game, with one aboard in the second inning.

The Cubs wasted some beautiful pitching in the first game. Jim Hickman followed Swoboda's homer with a single, then loser Dick Ellsworth and reliever Lindy McDaniel retired the last 23 Mets in order. Larry Bearnarth won with a fine job in relief of Warren Spahn, allowing only one hit over five innings.

Tom Parsons won the second game with a six-hit shutout and Bill Faul was the loser.

Jim Bunning threw a five-hitter in the Phils-Pirates opener, with Philadelphia backing him with two runs in the sixth inning on two walks, Ruben Amaro's single and an error, and Alex Johnson's homer in the eighth. Bob Veale was the loser.

Dick Stuart's homer triggered a three-run fifth inning that decided the second game for the Phils, won by Ed Roebuck in relief.

Flood settled matters at St. Louis with his single off Ron Herbel in the 12th following Phil Gagliano's leadoff single, a sacrifice and an intentional walk to Lou Brock. The Cards had tied the Giants 2-2 in the eighth when Brock's fly to deep center was lost in the sun by Matty Alou and fell for a triple, and Ken Boyer came through with an infield hit.

Jim Wynn's fourth hit of the night moved Joe Gaines to third in the top of the ninth at Milwaukee, and Bond's sacrifice squeeze delivered the Astros' winning run. Dick Farrell blanked the Braves on three hits and held a 4-0 lead going into the last of the eighth, when two singles, a passed ball, and homers by Joe Torre and Hank Aaron knotted the score.

The loss was the ninth in the last 11 games for Milwaukee.

Twins Move Into 1½-Game Margin After Sweeping Two

Cleveland Edged, 3-1, At Chicago

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

In one crack, Minnesota's Jim Perry has started as many games as he did all of last year, completed as many games as he had in two years and gained as many shutouts as he had in nearly three years.

Perry also pitched the Twins into a 1½-game lead in the American League, stopping Boston 2-0 on seven hits and helping Minnesota complete a sweep of a Monday doubleheader. The Twins won the opener 6-2.

The start for the 28-year-old right-hander was his first since June 4, 1964, when the New York Yankees battered him for six runs in one inning.

He hadn't completed a game since Aug. 9, 1963, when he defeated the Red Sox 5-3, and his last shutout was June 4, 1963, a 5-0 triumph over Kansas City.

All of this only about two weeks after Minnesota Manager Sam Mele said:

"I have no intention of starting him."

Mele changed his mind, though, in an effort to strengthen a sagging staff of starters. He snatched Perry from the bullpen where he had been toiling as the Twins' middle relief man.

Perry hadn't done much toiling at all, except in the bullpen, until last month. By the end of May, he had pitched only 10 innings, far different from more plentiful times, such as 1960 when he led the league with 18 victories while with Cleveland.

Despite his relative inactivity, Perry picked up four victories in a 17-day period at the end of May and the beginning of June and now is 5-0 with a 2.57 earned run average.

His record also reads: one start, one complete game, one shutout.

In other AL games, Chicago trimmed Cleveland 3-1, Detroit nipped New York 5-4 after losing 7-2, Baltimore defeated Kansas City 7-4 and Los Angeles downed Washington 5-2 before bowing 4-3.

Cleveland started out the day tied with Minnesota for the lead, but pitcher Sam McDowell uncorked a wild throw on Ron Hansen's sacrifice bunt in the seventh inning and Chicago went on to score two runs. Bill Skowron scored on the error, and Floyd Robinson singled in Hansen.

Gates Brown singled across one run and Don Demeter doubled home two more as Detroit rallied for three runs against the Yankees in the seventh inning of the second game. A two-run New York rally in the ninth fell short.

Whitey Ford became the AL's first 10-game winner — he has lost seven — in the opener. Joe Pepitone collected three hits, including a three-run homer, for the Yankees while the Tigers' Willie Horton slugged his 19th homer.

Robin Roberts allowed only four hits in 7 1-3 innings of relief and broke a personal seven-game losing streak for Baltimore. Boog Powell led the attack against Kansas City, driving in three runs with a double and a single.

Jose Cardenal snapped a 2-2 tie for Los Angeles in the first game with a seventh-inning homer. Joe Adcock homered in the Angels' second. Washington made it close with the help of six walks from starter Rudy May.

The Senators won the nightcap on Don Lock's ninth-inning homer off Fred Newman. The Angels had tied it twice, 2-2 on Jim Fregosi's two-run homer in the sixth and 3-3 on Albie Pearson's blast in the eighth. Washington pitcher Phil Ortega singled across two runs in the second and scored after singling in the eighth.

CHICAGO'S DON BUFORD slides safely into third base after hitting a triple in the third inning of Monday's game at Chicago. Indian third baseman Max Alvis is shown taking the throw late. The White Sox downed Cleveland, 3-1. (UPI Telephoto)

Dentist Nine Outlasts Foe In 14-13 Win

Don Smith lashed a double in the last of the seventh to drive in the winning run for the Dentists in a 14-13 victory over the Realtors Monday in the Colt League.

Trailing 13-12, the Dentists scored single runs in the sixth and seventh innings to capture the high scoring contest.

Tom Moore was the winning pitcher while Seibert got the loss. The Dentists committed five errors in absorbing the loss.

Duffy's three hits paced the Dentists attack while Smith, Moore and Welch had two safeties apiece. Seibert, Long and Stoddard stroked two hits each for the Realtors.

Lopez Completes All-Star Roster

BOSTON (AP)—Three Minnesota Twins and three New York Yankees were among nine picked for the 1965 American League All-Star team Tuesday by Manager Al Lopez of Chicago.

The Yankees, shut out in the balloting for the starters in the annual All-Star clash at Minnesota July 13, will be represented by catcher Elston Howard, second baseman Bobby Richardson and outfielder Mickey Mantle.

This was the 14th All-Star selection for the ailing Mantle, making him the senior on the team announced by American League headquarters.

Chosen to join Minnesota's Earl Battey, the starting catcher selected in a poll of AL players, coaches and managers, were shortstop Zoilo Versalles, first baseman Harmon Killebrew and outfielder Jimmy Hall.

Also named by Lopez were third baseman Max Alvis of Cleveland and outfielders Al Kaline of Detroit and Carl Yastrzemski of Boston.

As the All-Star manager, Lopez must also name the pitching corps—to be announced Friday.

Lopez followed the choices of the poll, and all those named were runners-up in the balloting, except Mantle.

Since all 10 AL teams must be represented on the All-Star squad, Lopez must select pitchers from Kansas City, Washington and Los Angeles among his eight choices.

Legion Nine Falls Twice To Carrollton

Post 374 was turned back twice by Carrollton in doubleheader Monday at Colt Field. Carrollton took the first game by a 9-4 margin and handed the locals a 5-1 setback in the nightcap.

Post 374 is scheduled to meet Salem tonight at 6 at Columbiana in a playoff game to determine who will represent the County in the District Tournament to begin Friday at Columbiana.

Carrollton outhit Post 374, six to four, and took advantage of four errors in the first game. Carroll was the winning pitcher and fanned 11 batters while Jerry Vaughn was charged with the loss. Carrollton scored eight runs in the first three innings.

The second contest showed Carrollton building a 5-0 lead before Post 374 scored its lone run in the last of the seventh. Fawcett, the winning hurler, allowed five hits as Carrollton was helped by four more errors by the East Liverpool nine. Jack Myler was the losing hurler. Shroades collected two of Post 374's five hits while Larry Ensinger clubbed a triple.

Post 374 was turned back twice by Carrollton in doubleheader Monday at Colt Field. Carrollton took the first game by a 9-4 margin and handed the locals a 5-1 setback in the nightcap.

Post 374 is scheduled to meet Salem tonight at 6 at Columbiana in a playoff game to determine who will represent the County in the District Tournament to begin Friday at Columbiana.

Carrollton outhit Post 374, six to four, and took advantage of four errors in the first game. Carroll was the winning pitcher and fanned 11 batters while Jerry Vaughn was charged with the loss. Carrollton scored eight runs in the first three innings.

The second contest showed Carrollton building a 5-0 lead before Post 374 scored its lone run in the last of the seventh. Fawcett, the winning hurler, allowed five hits as Carrollton was helped by four more errors by the East Liverpool nine. Jack Myler was the losing hurler. Shroades collected two of Post 374's five hits while Larry Ensinger clubbed a triple.

Top Stars Not Healthy For British Open Play

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — The word went out today among the ranks of the world's greatest golfers:

"Watch out for the walking wounded. They'll beat you."

A half dozen of the top stars in the field of 130 that has gathered for the British Open are complaining of health problems of one sort or another.

Arnold Palmer, who won the Open on Royal Birkdale's 7,037-yard par 73 course four years ago, wore a turtle neck sweater against chill winds which might further damage a sore throat he has been bothered with for several days.

Bruce Devlin of Australia had such a bad throat he even had it X-rayed in case there was some foreign body lodged there. It wasn't.

Kel Nagle, fellow Australian who was runner-up in the U.S. Open this year and won the British Crown at St. Andrews in 1960, had a sore back.

So did Bob Charles of New Zealand, the 1963 champion.

The Birkdale Club lined up a local physiotherapist to tend them.

Defending champion Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., breezed in Monday, back to his playing weight of 175 after he started smoking again to reduce from 195.

But Lema recalled a stomach upset he had last year in England and said "I hope that doesn't show up again."

Gary Player, the little South African who won the American Open three-weeks ago, said he was pleased that the winds were blowing in off the Irish Sea.

"My hay fever, you know," he said.

Everybody in the star studded field seemed able and willing to have something wrong with them, except Jack Nicklaus, who is the 3-1 favorite to win his first British Open, the only major championship that has eluded the Golden Bear.

"I'm fine," he said with a big smile. "And I'm desperate to win this one."

In his tuneups for the 72 hole medal play which starts Wednesday and ends Friday, Nicklaus had a special look at the 468 yard par-4 sixth hole.

"It's the worst hole," he said. "It's all right for power hitters like myself, Palmer and some others and I can play it. But it must be powered."

Litten's, Woodbine Win In Extra-Inning Battles

Litten's scored a tie breaking run in the ninth inning to nip Burbick's, 2-1 while Woodbine broke a 7-7 deadlock with four runs in the eighth inning to score an 11-8 victory over Bright's in a pair of Pony League contests Monday.

Parson scored the winning run for Litten's when he singled, swiped second and third and scored on an error to claim the victory. Litten's other run came on a home run by Danny Myers who also was the winning pitcher.

Jim Musuraca accounted for Burbick's lone run when he blasted a roundtripper. He was the losing pitcher.

After Woodbine scored four times in the eighth to break a 7-7 tie, the winners allowed Bright's one run in the last of the eighth.

Woodbine, which committed four errors, took advantage of five miscues by Bright's and banged out 13 hits.

Clutter, Longston, Lovejoy and Clark had two hits each for the winners while Doughty, the winning pitcher, slugged a home run.

Kemple's two hits led Bright's nine-hit attack.

Pia Star Pulls Surprise As Winner Of Suburban

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Mrs. Ada L. Rice needs any solace for the temporary loss of Kentucky Derby winner Lucky Debonair, she has found it in Pia Star, a 4-year-old who suddenly has blossomed into a contender for the handicap division title.

On a day in which 49,243 fans wagered $30,482,513 at 23 tracks, and one man won $103,987.20 on a $2 wager, the flashy 4-year-old son of Olympia-Inquisitive carried the Chicago sportwoman's white and cerise silks to a convincing victory in the $108,800 Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct Monday.

Mrs. Rice started the year with the promise that Lucky Debonair would be the star of her stable. Lucky kept faith by winning the rich Santa Anita and Kentucky Derbies and Blue Grass Stakes before coming up with leg injuries in the Preakness. He is not expected to be back in action until the fall.

But even more of a surprise than Pia Star, who paid $16.10 in earning $70,720, was the showing of Gun Bow. The Gedney Farm 5-year-old, leading contender for handicap honors until Monday's race, didn't show a lick of speed and wound up fifth, beaten some 22 lengths.

One unidentified bettor, however, collected more than any winning horse when he put together the right combination for a $103,987.20 twin double payoff at Hazel Park. He picked Gem Line, $37.80, to win the fifth; Touch Bar, $9.80, the sixth; Abdul, $7.40, the eighth and Little Lu, $60, the ninth.

Front running Native Diver won the $53,750 American Handicap at Hollywood Park. That was not too much of a surprise since the 6 - year - old lad had equalled the world record of 1:20 for seven furlongs in a previous start.

Engineer Makes Kit For Harpsichord Fan

CHICAGO (AP) — About a year ago, James Cannon, Cambridge, Mass., noting the revival of interest in baroque music, decided to produce a harpsichord with modern engineering methods.

The result was an instrument of 20 basic parts that has a welded aluminum frame, wood sounding board, plastic keys and comes in a kit priced at $495. It can be assembled in 15 to 20 hours, Cannon said, and "most of that time is used to string and tune the instrument."

Hearing Is Set To Help Put Boxing On Its Feet

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional investigation aimed at putting professional boxing back on its feet under supervision of the federal government opened today with former heavyweight champions Jack Dempsey and Rocky Marciano ready to lend a hand.

Before the hearing opened, the man who suggested the investigation, Rep. William L. Springer, R-Ill., urged it be expanded to cover the impact of commercialism on other spectator sports.

He said that other sports like professional baseball and football, as well as boxing, were becoming entangled with Madison Avenue and he worried about the day when television programers got their hands on football schedules.

Springer, whose district cover the University of Illinois campus, is the ranking GOP member of the House Interstate Commerce Committee whose boxing hearings were set off by the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight fight at Lewiston, Maine, in May.

The hearing centers on a bill by Committee Chairman Oren Harris, D-Ark., to establish a federal boxing commission with authority to investigate boxing and to block national newspaper coverage and broadcasting of a suspicious bout.

With Dempsey and Marciano on the first day's list of witnesses was E. William Henry, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

Top Stars Not Healthy For British Open Play

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — The word went out today among the ranks of the world's greatest golfers:

"Watch out for the walking wounded. They'll beat you."

A half dozen of the top stars in the field of 130 that has gathered for the British Open are complaining of health problems of one sort or another.

Arnold Palmer, who won the Open on Royal Birkdale's 7,037-yard par 73 course four years ago, wore a turtle neck sweater against chill winds which might further damage a sore throat he has been bothered with for several days.

Bruce Devlin of Australia had such a bad throat he even had it X-rayed in case there was some foreign body lodged there. It wasn't.

Kel Nagle, fellow Australian who was runner-up in the U.S. Open this year and won the British Crown at St. Andrews in 1960, had a sore back.

So did Bob Charles of New Zealand, the 1963 champion.

The Birkdale Club lined up a local physiotherapist to tend them.

Defending champion Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., breezed in Monday, back to his playing weight of 175 after he started smoking again to reduce from 195.

But Lema recalled a stomach upset he had last year in England and said "I hope that doesn't show up again."

Gary Player, the little South African who won the American Open three-weeks ago, said he was pleased that the winds were blowing in off the Irish Sea.

"My hay fever, you know," he said.

Everybody in the star studded field seemed able and willing to have something wrong with them, except Jack Nicklaus, who is the 3-1 favorite to win his first British Open, the only major championship that has eluded the Golden Bear.

"I'm fine," he said with a big smile. "And I'm desperate to win this one."

In his tuneups for the 72 hole medal play which starts Wednesday and ends Friday, Nicklaus had a special look at the 468 yard par-4 sixth hole.

"It's the worst hole," he said. "It's all right for power hitters like myself, Palmer and some others and I can play it. But it must be powered."

Litten's, Woodbine Win In Extra-Inning Battles

Litten's scored a tie breaking run in the ninth inning to nip Burbick's, 2-1 while Woodbine broke a 7-7 deadlock with four runs in the eighth inning to score an 11-8 victory over Bright's in a pair of Pony League contests Monday.

Parson scored the winning run for Litten's when he singled, swiped second and third and scored on an error to claim the victory. Litten's other run came on a home run by Danny Myers who also was the winning pitcher.

Jim Musuraca accounted for Burbick's lone run when he blasted a roundtripper. He was the losing pitcher.

After Woodbine scored four times in the eighth to break a 7-7 tie, the winners allowed Bright's one run in the last of the eighth.

Woodbine, which committed four errors, took advantage of five miscues by Bright's and banged out 13 hits.

Clutter, Longston, Lovejoy and Clark had two hits each for the winners while Doughty, the winning pitcher, slugged a home run.

Kemple's two hits led Bright's nine-hit attack.

Pia Star Pulls Surprise As Winner Of Suburban

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Mrs. Ada L. Rice needs any solace for the temporary loss of Kentucky Derby winner Lucky Debonair, she has found it in Pia Star, a 4-year-old who suddenly has blossomed into a contender for the handicap division title.

On a day in which 49,243 fans wagered $30,482,513 at 23 tracks, and one man won $103,987.20 on a $2 wager, the flashy 4-year-old son of Olympia-Inquisitive carried the Chicago sportwoman's white and cerise silks to a convincing victory in the $108,800 Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct Monday.

Mrs. Rice started the year with the promise that Lucky Debonair would be the star of her stable. Lucky kept faith by winning the rich Santa Anita and Kentucky Derbies and Blue Grass Stakes before coming up with leg injuries in the Preakness. He is not expected to be back in action until the fall.

But even more of a surprise than Pia Star, who paid $16.10 in earning $70,720, was the showing of Gun Bow. The Gedney Farm 5-year-old, leading contender for handicap honors until Monday's race, didn't show a lick of speed and wound up fifth, beaten some 22 lengths.

One unidentified bettor, however, collected more than any winning horse when he put together the right combination for a $103,987.20 twin double payoff at Hazel Park. He picked Gem Line, $37.80, to win the fifth; Touch Bar, $9.80, the sixth; Abdul, $7.40, the eighth and Little Lu, $60, the ninth.

Front running Native Diver won the $53,750 American Handicap at Hollywood Park. That was not too much of a surprise since the 6 - year - old lad had equalled the world record of 1:20 for seven furlongs in a previous start.

Engineer Makes Kit For Harpsichord Fan

CHICAGO (AP) — About a year ago, James Cannon, Cambridge, Mass., noting the revival of interest in baroque music, decided to produce a harpsichord with modern engineering methods.

The result was an instrument of 20 basic parts that has a welded aluminum frame, wood sounding board, plastic keys and comes in a kit priced at $495. It can be assembled in 15 to 20 hours, Cannon said, and "most of that time is used to string and tune the instrument."

Hearing Is Set To Help Put Boxing On Its Feet

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional investigation aimed at putting professional boxing back on its feet under supervision of the federal government opened today with former heavyweight champions Jack Dempsey and Rocky Marciano ready to lend a hand.

Before the hearing opened, the man who suggested the investigation, Rep. William L. Springer, R-Ill., urged it be expanded to cover the impact of commercialism on other spectator sports.

He said that other sports like professional baseball and football, as well as boxing, were becoming entangled with Madison Avenue and he worried about the day when television programers got their hands on football schedules.

Springer, whose district cover the University of Illinois campus, is the ranking GOP member of the House Interstate Commerce Committee whose boxing hearings were set off by the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight fight at Lewiston, Maine, in May.

The hearing centers on a bill by Committee Chairman Oren Harris, D-Ark., to establish a federal boxing commission with authority to investigate boxing and to block national newspaper coverage and broadcasting of a suspicious bout.

With Dempsey and Marciano on the first day's list of witnesses was E. William Henry, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of Danny Jim Little, 1948-1955. You seemed so small, just 7 years grown. To take that long trip all alone, and we who sheltered you from harm. And kept you fed and clothed and warm, We're overcome with grief to see you face alone death's mystery—And you who'd seldom left your home. Now trod the longest trail alone. No, not alone, for we can see an angel waiting there for thee. And right inside the Golden Gate. The Christ Child smiles and says, "We wait for you—come in" You grasp His outstretched hand in hearty clasp, And joining in the happy band, To us you turn and wave your hand; And suddenly we knew that you, Like all the rest, are smiling, too. Though lonely is the path we trod, How can we mourn when you're with God.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of Danny Jim Little, 1948-1955. You seemed so small, just 7 years grown. To take that long trip all alone, and we who sheltered you from harm. And kept you fed and clothed and warm. We're overcome with grief to see you face alone death's mystery—And you who'd seldom left your home. Now trod the longest trail alone. No, not alone, for we can see an angel waiting there for thee. And right inside the Golden Gate. The Christ Child smiles and says, "We wait for you—come in." You grasp His outstretched hand in hearty clasp, And joining in the happy band. To us you turn and wave your hand; And suddenly we knew that you, Like all the rest, are smiling, too. Though lonely is the path we trod. How can we mourn when you're with God.

74-A Automobiles For Rent

A A DEALER needs cars and pickups. Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments too high will trade back to older model — finance balances paid off. "Say," why not trade back to one of the most economical cars in the world for approximately $1 a day. You can trade your big costly operating car for a like new Volkswagen with operating on 1c per mile, 5.3 pints of the best oil, get up to 43.2 miles on regular gas, up to 100,000 miles on your first set of tires, also in replacing a new rear fender costs only $18.95, insurance is much, much less on a Volkswagen. Make us prove it. You eliminate water pump, radiator, anti-freeze, hose, clamps, drive shaft assembly. It's a rear end air cooled engine. You can almost trade year for year for the price of power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, and automatic on your big costly operating car. Volkswagen has the lowest depreciation, providing you keep it sharp, highest trade in value, and it starts at $1,563 P.O.E. and up. You pay less and save 50c out of every $1 when you drive a Volkswagen versus a big costly operating car. Why not join the millions of people who are driving the Volkswagen. There must be a reason. Come in, write, or call and talk to our courteous salesmen. SEE your local representative Mr. CHUCK RINESTINE. See it — Drive it — Just try it. — There goes another Volkswagen. Why does he drive a Volkswagen? Ask the man who owns one. Beaver Valley Volkswagen, 294 State St., Vanport, Beaver, Pa. Your factory dealer only 20 miles from East Liverpool, Ohio on Pa. Rt. 68. 775-4550.

P. S. PARTS AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY or on tap within 24 hours. STARTING JUNE 20TH Service almost immediately. Call Mr. Charles Coen, your local man from Wellsville and our service manager or Mr. Earl King, parts manager for more information.

74-A Automobiles For Rent

A A DEALER needs cars and pickups. Must be exceptionally sharp. Will pay cash or if payments too high will trade back to older model — finance balances paid off. "Say," why not trade back to one of the most economical cars in the world for approximately $1 a day. You can trade your big costly operating car for a like new Volkswagen with operating on 1c per mile, 5.3 pints of the best oil, get up to 43.2 miles on regular gas, up to 100,000 miles on your first set of tires, also in replacing a new rear fender costs only $18.95, insurance is much, much less on a Volkswagen. Make us prove it. You eliminate water pump, radiator, anti-freeze, hose, clamps, drive shaft assembly. It's a rear end air cooled engine. You can almost trade year for year for the price of power steering, power brakes, power windows, power seat, and automatic on your big costly operating car. Volkswagen has the lowest depreciation, providing you keep it sharp, highest trade in value, and it starts at $1,563 P.O.E. and up. You pay less and save 50c out of every $1 when you drive a Volkswagen versus a big costly operating car. Why not join the millions of people who are driving the Volkswagen. There must be a reason. Come in, write, or call and talk to our courteous salesmen. SEE your local representative Mr. CHUCK RINESTINE. See it — Drive it — Just try it. — There goes another Volkswagen. Why does he drive a Volkswagen? Ask the man who owns one. Beaver Valley Volkswagen, 294 State St., Vanport, Beaver, Pa. Your factory dealer only 20 miles from East Liverpool, Ohio on Pa. Rt. 68. 775-4550.

P. S. PARTS AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY or on tap within 24 hours. STARTING JUNE 20TH Service almost immediately. Call Mr. Charles Coen, your local man from Wellsville and our service manager or Mr. Earl King, parts manager for more information.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEA HORSES

QUESTION: Why don't sea horses have horses' legs as well as heads?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Unlike the land horse, the sea horse is a very small creature, only six to 10 inches long. The resemblance of its head to that of a real horse (1) is one of the coincidences of nature. The snout, location of the eyes, the bumps on the forehead and the back of the neck where a horse's mane is located, the arching of the neck—all do suggest the appearance of a horse's head. But this resemblance goes no further than the head and neck. The reason why sea horses don't have legs is that they are not land animals needing legs to move around with. They are fish. They have only a slight resemblance to regular fish, but look closely at (2) and you will see a fin on the sea horse's back which he beats back and forth to move along with, and a fin is the mark of a fish. There is another small fin back of the gills, almost suggesting an ear. The sea horse has a remarkable tail which he can curl in different direction, often wrapping it around a water weed to anchor himself in place. The equally strange creature in front of the sea horse in (2) is a relative of his, the pipefish. Like sea horses, these odd creatures have long snouts, and fins in the middle of the back.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: The little sea horses so stimulated our artist's imagination that he drew a couple of them hitched to mythical King Neptune's chariot. Have some fun coloring the picture. Sea horse's have different colors and are sometimes yellow or red.

★ ★ ★

Henryetta Sullivan wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for the question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, July 6, the 187th day of 1965. There are 178 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1854, a preliminary meeting was held at Jackson, Mich., one of several which led to the organization of the Republican party.

On this date

In 1747, American naval hero John Paul Jones was born.

In 1777, British Gen. John Burgoyne took possession of Ft. Ticonderoga.

In 1837, the Republic of Texas sent an ambassador to Washington.

In 1892, one of the most bitter battles in labor history was fought when detectives attempting to land from barges at the Homestead steel mills near Pittsburgh were fired upon by strikers.

In 1920, the Democratic party nominated Franklin D. Roosevelt for vice president on a ticket headed by James Cox of Ohio.

Ten years ago — Attorney James Stevens became the first Negro to be sworn in as a justice of the New York State Supreme Court.

Five years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower ordered a cut of about 95 per cent in Cuba's sugar quota for the remainder of 1960.

One year ago — Nyasaland, the British protectorate in central Africa, became the independent state of Malawi.

This 'n That

The Romans gave the name of Caledonia to present - day Scotland and called the people Caladonians. The Scots, a Celtic race which spoke Gaelic, came from Ireland, then called Scotia.

Turkey sided with the Axis in World War I and its defeat resulted in the loss of much territory and fall of the sultanate.

House Eyes Coalition On Voter Rights

Rep. Lindsay Gives Johnson Proposal His Strong Backing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts to build a Republican-Southern Democratic coalition in support of a Republican substitute for the administration's voting rights bill were under way today in the House.

The move suffered a setback Tuesday when Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., GOP candidate for mayor of the city of New York, came out strongly for the administration measure.

But the coalition got a big push from Rep. Howard Smith, D-Va., chairman of the House Rules Committee.

Smith, speaking to his Southern colleagues as the House opened debate on the legislation, told them the administration version was vengeful and flagrantly unconstitutional. But he said they could support the Republican bill.

"See how it lacks the dripping venom that pours from every paragraph and sentence of the (administration) bill," said Smith of the GOP measure. It is cosponsored by House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford and Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, senior Republican on the Judiciary Committee.

McCulloch said his bill was fairer and sounder than the administration one, and added some arguments designed to appeal to Southerners.

"Under the Ford-McCulloch bill there will be no 'carpetbagger' examiners from far away places to perform their important duties in strange surroundings," he said. He referred to a provision requiring that federal registrars activated under the bill be residents of the state in which they are to serve. There is no restriction on the residence of such officials in the administration bill.

McCulloch also said his bill, "respects state interests in literacy qualifications and recognizes the constitutional rights of a state to enact and maintain its own nondiscriminatory voting qualification laws." He said the administration's measure does not do this.

Stanton Local Names Hamill Cage Mentor

Carl Hamill, head basketball coach at Fort Frye High School near Marietta the last five years, where his teams compiled a 99-17 record, was hired as head mentor at Stanton Local High School during a Board of Education meeting Tuesday night.

Hamill, originally from Weirton, replaces Harry Diehl, who will remain at Stanton Local as head track coach. Diehl held the position for the last five years.

Signing the customary one-year contract, Hamill also will set up the physical education program for the elementary grades and teach history in high school.

While at Fort Frye, Hamill coached two undefeated teams, captured four league championships and sent his 1962 quint to the state semi-finals.

Before going to Fort Frye, he coached the Brilliant High School five to 32 wins against 14 losses from 1958-60. At Brilliant, his 1958-59 team was county runnerup and sectional champion, while winning the county championship in the 1959-60 season.

Earlier, the 10 - year coaching veteran was junior varsity coach at Springfield Local for two years and at Toronto for one.

He is presently completing work on a master's degree in educational administration at Marshall University, Huntington, W. Va., and will assume his new post this fall.

Revolt Plot Smashed

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP)—President Alfredo Stroessner's military regime announced Tuesday night it has smashed a communist plot to stage a revolt in Paraguay and rounded up many Red agents. Police chief Ramon Vera told a news conference the arrests had foiled plans to "make Paraguay a second Cuba."

Board OK's Resolution

Levy For Boost In Teachers' Pay To Go On Ballot

East Liverpool school district voters will be asked at the Nov. 2 general election to approve a 3.5-mill levy to provide salary increases for all school personnel.

The Board of Education Tuesday night approved the recommendation of Supt. Paul H. Blair and passed by a 4-1 vote a resolution placing the levy on the ballot.

—:—

THE DISSENTING vote was cast by John R. Woomer, who announced his opposition at the June 21 meeting, declaring that a levy at this time would not be fair to school district residents. He had no comment last night.

If approved, the levy, which would yield an estimated $180,000 yearly, would be effective next January when the 1965 tax duplicate is prepared.

How long it would remain in effect was not determined immediately. Supt. Blair said a check will be made with County Auditor Kenneth Bell to determine the time the levy can remain in effect. He expressed the hope it would be effective for 10 years.

If voters approve the levy to boost the salaries of school personnel, taxes will be increased a total of approximately 6.5 to 7 mills, since the county auditor estimated last year that 3 to 3.5 more mills will be required to provide funds to retire the $3,368,000 bond issue approved last September for new schools.

School taxes were increased 2.7 mills this year to provide funds to pay the interest on the bond issue and start to repay a state loan of $990,000.

IN MAKING his recommendation, Blair indicated salary increases for teachers would not be granted "across the board." He declared standards should be established to encourage teachers to take more training and keep up to date with the latest teaching methods.

In past years, teachers' increases generally have been flat raises, with the only variance in the amount of experience.

Blair said he has reviewed numerous Ohio Education Association research reports since the previous meeting and has found that East Liverpool is on the bottom of new salary schedules for beginning teachers with bachelor degrees.

One system pays a beginning teacher with a degree $50 more and East Palestine pays the same.

However, the board should not think only of teachers' salaries but of all personnel, he said.

Increases also should be included for substitute teachers, the superintendent continued, pointing out he has had difficulty in obtaining substitutes.

"The present salary schedule calls for $15 a day, but they can go to a neighboring district and receive $30 to $35 a day. We can't compete with that, but we should be able to pay what the state pays for tutoring, which is $3 per hour."

EXPRESSING his opposition to an across - the - board increase, Blair declared:

"We have reached the time that we must establish standards to try to encourage our teachers to take more training, to keep up to date. Unless we start now, we won't keep up with the times."

Before reaching a decision on his recommendation, Blair said he had debated with himself on whether this is the right time or whether a request for additional operating funds should be delayed for a year or two.

"We already are behind; we have been for several years. We

Legislation Adopted

Blacktopping Work Set By Council At Wellsville

Legislation appropriating funds for street repairs by contract and authorizing advertisement for bids for the work was adopted by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

Sections of three streets and two alleys are included in the program.

Commerce St. from 3rd to 5th St. and 9th St. from Commerce to Wood St. will be blacktopped. Shingler Alley from Main to Commerce and Cherry Alley from Broadway to Lisbon St. will be excavated, slag filled and double sealcoated. Double seal coating will be applied to 21st St. from Chester Ave. to Buckeye Ave.

The legislation amending the annual appropriation ordinance calls for the transfer of $11,000 from the street maintenance fund to the street maintenance repair by contract fund. Also included in the appropriation change is $275 for fireplug repairs and $135 for incidentals for the solicitor's office, both taken from the general fund.

In other business, Council voted to readvertise for bids for installation of a new roof on the city - owned building at 12th St. Mayor William Daugherty said only one firm bid on the work and the figures ranged from $2,200 to $3,700, depending on the type of roofing wanted. This is more than the $2,000 appropriation for the work.

A letter was received from the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce offering to improve the city - owned land along Little Yellow Creek for a public boat marina and park. The mayor said four bids were

Action Now Set Tonight

With 2 Members Absent, Council Cancels Session

Unable to muster enough votes Tuesday night to enact legislation under suspension of rules, Council canceled a special session in which it was to have acted on seven ordinances and resolutions.

Adjourning after a brief, unofficial caucus session, the councilmen agreed to attempt to hold the special session tonight at 11:15 — a time picked to dovetail with the varying work schedules of the members.

With a minimum of six votes necessary to enact legislation immediately, only five members attended the session last night. Councilman Donald Hancock and William Davis were absent. Those present were Councilmen James Cunningham, Norman Bucher, Robert W. Sample, Floyd Murray and Donald Smith, along with President George E. Willshaw.

Hancock and Davis, both Democrats, were defeated for renomination in the primaries in May. Hancock was at work on the 3-11 p.m. shift at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. Davis, contacted at home by telephone by the other councilmen, said he "could not make it" to the session.

Council's caucus session lasted nearly 45 minutes as the members conferred with Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and listened to an explanation of the pending legislation by Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper.

Action was deferred on:

Three pieces of legislation clearing the way for a State Highway Department project for blacktop resurfacing of Penn-

More Marines Arrive On Viet Nam's Beaches

U.S. Force Now Totals 60,000 Men

B52's Again Strike Viet Cong 'D' Zone From Base At Guam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Some 3,400 U.S. Marines landed at two points in central Viet Nam today, and a U.S. spokesman announced 4,600 more would come ashore during the next week to boost American military strength to nearly 60,000 men.

About midway between the two Marine landing points, the district capital of Dak, in the central highlands 280 miles northeast of Saigon, was reported overrun by the Viet Cong Tuesday night and was believed still in Communist hands late today. A U.S. spokesman said an American adviser with a relief unit was wounded when the relief force was ambushed and forced back.

As the Marines began coming ashore, about 25 B52 bombers of the U.S. Strategic Air Command flew 2,200 miles from Guam and dropped about 500 tons of bombs on an area in the Communist-infested D Zone jungle 35 miles northeast of Saigon. A U.S. spokesman said no ground assessment of the damage had been made yet.

It was the third raid on a D Zone area by the huge eight-jet bombers.

U.S. Army paratroopers combing another sector of D Zone with force of Vietnamese and Australian troops got into an intense, half-hour clash with the Viet Cong today about 25 miles northeast of Saigon and were pinned down briefly by machine-gun fire.

A U.S. spokesman declined to say if there were any American casualties. He said the Viet Cong broke off the attack after helicopters began strafing the area.

Rain Sweeps Midwest, But East Still Dry

(By The Associated Press)

Thunderstorms and rain pummeled scattered sections of the Midwest and Southeast early today and an unseasonal chill dipped into portions of the Northeast.

But there was only a little break in the crippling drought that gripped portions of the Southwest, the Northeast and sections of the Far West.

Rain fell over wide sections of the Midwest, starting mostly late Tuesday night.

Among low eastern readings today was 38 degrees at Old Town, Maine.

Tornadoes and heavy rain, in some places accompanied by hail, struck portions of the nation's midsection Tuesday.

Wide sections of Minnesota reported up to one inch of rain, and in the Twin Cities more than 1½ inches fell Tuesday. At least two tornadoes dipped over Minnesota towns during the day.

In New England and portions of the Northeast the severe lack of ground moisture continued.

Mother Dies As Son Raps Homer In Game

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—A San Pedro mother— apparently excited when her son hit a home run in a Little League baseball game — swallowed her chewing gum and choked to death Tuesday, police said.

Witnesses at the game said Mrs. Dolores Stanford, 37, jumped to her feet cheering as her son Chris, 12, hit the home run. Then she slumped to her seat, they said.

Flames Level Vacant Frame House

This vacant two - story frame house and attached double garage on the Turkana Farms, near Calcutta, was leveled by flames which broke out about 9:15 this morning. The house was in the process of being remodeled.

The Calcutta Department, first on the scene, reported the flames out of control when it arrived.

The LaCroft, Liverpool East and Liverpool West departments also were summoned, but were hampered in fighting the blaze by high winds.

A member of the Calcutta department, Robert Barker, was injured when part of a roof fell as he was playing water on the structure. He was admitted to the City Hospital with burns of the face, arms and legs.

The blaze apparently started as workmen were attempting to burn old paint from the walls, according to Mike Turk, who owns the structure.

Water was used from a nearby lake.

71 Claimed In 2 Military Air Crashes

CAIRO (AP) — A Soviet-built Egyptian air force plane with a Russian crew crashed in the desert near Suez today, killing 30 of the 31 persons aboard, a military announcement said.

A Russian gunner bailed out safely and walked to the nearest military post to report the crash, a spokesman said.

The big Antonov transport was bound for Yemen with one Egyptian officer, 21 soldiers and a Soviet crew of nine, the spokesman reported.

The plane went down within sight of the main highway across the desert between Cairo and Suez.

Bus passengers arriving at Cairo said military guards sealed off the crash site. Wreckage was scattered over a wide area, witnesses said, and two engines were the only parts of the plane that could be readily identified.

English Crash Takes Lives Of 31 Soldiers

OXFORD, England (AP) — Royal Air Force salvage crews today combed through the burned-out wreckage of a plane which carried 41 British serviceman to their deaths on a paratroop training mission.

The four-engine Hastings went into a sharp drive from 1,000 feet Tuesday night, smashed into a wheat field at nearby Dorchester and caught fire. There were no survivors.

Johnson's Decision

Will U. S. Bomb Missiles In Viet?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any decision on whether the United States should try to knock out antiaircraft missile sites being prepared near Communist North Viet Nam's capital and its chief port would be up to President Johnson, sources said today.

A key question affecting any such decision is whether the United States intends to bomb Hanoi, the capital, and Haiphong, the vital port.

So far, U.S. bombing planes have struck no closer than about 40 miles from Hanoi and have kept well away from Haiphong.

For about two months, U.S. reconnaissance planes have maintained a close watch on the progress of several sites being prepared for antiaircraft missiles to defend the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

The State Department reported Tuesday that work on two of the sites is virtually complete and that two other sites have reached an advanced stage.

There is no evidence that any surface-to-air missiles have yet been placed in firing position, the department said.

In late April, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said it should be assumed that the missile sites will become combat ready and that "we are planning" accordingly.

Any attempt to smash the missile sites could be costly because the Communists are believed to have concentrated radar-directed antiaircraft gun batteries in the Hanoi-Haiphong region, center of much of North Viet Nam's industry.

The Reds also could be expected to commit their force of about 50 older model MIG jets, now based at fields near Hanoi, to contest the attack.

There are reports that modern MIG 21 jets may appear soon in North Viet Nam. These planes probably could battle U.S. craft on roughly equal terms.

Area Driver Injured When Car Hits Tree

Frank J. Molnar Jr., 18, of New Cumberland R.D. 1 was injured early this morning when he lost control of his 1961 sedan on Swearingen Hill Rd.

Hancock County sheriff's deputy car ran off the road, struck a tree and upset.

He was admitted to Weirton General Hospital for treatment of scalp lacerations and injuries to his right leg. Hospital authorities reported his condition as "satisfactory".

Investigating deputies estimated about $1,500 damage to Molnar's car as a result of the accident, which occurred about 1:45.

Defeats Seen Tory 'Trick' In Commons

LONDON (AP) — Spokesmen for Britain's Labor government said today that Prime Minister Harold Wilson would not resign despite three staggering defeats in the House of Commons.

The spokesmen said the issue at stake was not considered vital to the government's program.

It was clear, however, that the government had suffered great embarrassment and its floor managers in Commons had been outwitted. The Conservatives apparently had tricked a number of Labor members into going home too early.

The votes came early today during debate on the government's finance bill embodying stiffer taxes and a new system of company taxation. The votes added a clause limiting the effect of the new capital gains tax on mutual funds.

Until midnight the debate droned on. Some Conservatives appeared to be going home, leaving only 40 or so in the chamber. The lobbies Labor floor managers assumed they had plenty of supporters in case of a surprise vote and let some of their more elderly members go home.

Car's Speed Exceeds 115

Flat Tire Halts 'Hot Rod' After Race With Cruiser

A 1965 V-8 powered auto with a four - speed transmission and other speed equipment outdistanced a Wellsville police cruiser in a chase at speeds in excess of 115 miles an hour late Tuesday night before the 22-year - old motorist finally was halted by a tire blowout, officers reported.

Richard W. Stacey of Galesburg, Ill., an East Liverpool native, was taken into custody on Shadyside Ave. by Wellsville Patrolman Charles F. Amato after eluding a block set up in West End by East Liverpool police when Amato radioed for assistance as he pursued the car along the East Liverpool-Wellsville road.

Stacey was arraigned this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on charges of reckless driving and failure to keep his auto on the right hand side of the road. He pleaded "no contest" on both counts.

The judge fined Stacey $50 and costs on the reckless driving charge and $15 and costs on the second count. He said he would have jailed the driver, but he learned he was on vacation in Wellsville, scheduled to return to work today.

"I don't want you to lose your job, and I certainly don't want you around here, either," the judge commented. "I wish I had the authority to suspend your Illinois driver's license," he added. "The clerk will be instructed to write to the Illinois Bureau of Motor Vehicles to make certain these violations are entered on your record."

Daniel W. Fitch, 19, of 7th Ave., LaCroft, a passenger in Stacey's car, was fined $15 and costs after pleading guilty to an intoxication charge. Queried by the court, the youth said he had consumed six bottles of beer.

Commenting that Fitch's record showed he had no money, the judge said: "That means your parents will have to come and get you out of jail. I want to see them."

Amato said he was driving a cruiser on Wells Ave., Wellsville, when he saw Stacey "putting on an exhibition for a bunch of his hot -rod friends" who were standing along the curb. It was then the officer took up the pursuit.

As the two cars raced along the four -lane highway toward East Liverpool, Amato radioed to the local department to set up a roadblock in West End. The local officers complied, but Stacey saw the block and turned left onto Shadyside Ave., Amato said.

Amato said the cruiser hit 115 miles an hour on the East Liverpool - Wellsville road "and the car was still pulling away from me."

After Stacey turned onto Shadyside Ave., the pursuit continued for about two miles before the right front tire of his car blew out and he was forced to halt, the officer said. The car was not wrecked, he added.

Queried by the court, Stacey said he had consumed only one beer prior to the chase.

VanFossan Gives Report For June

LISBON — The Columbiana County Jail received 96 prisoners during June in addition to the 41 confined as of June 1, Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reports.

He said 104 prisoners were released last month and four were conveyed to state institutions. One mental patient was taken to a state hospital.

The jail served 3,457 meals last month. The sheriff said the average daily food cost per prisoner was $1.08.

He reported 303 papers served and 6,199 radio transmissions handled, along with 1,303 telephone calls at the jail. The jail had 231 visitors during June.

The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted 29 sets of fox feet and ears for the $3 bounty in June. Fees totaling $695.24 were collected.

2 Vehicles Damaged In E. 3rd St. Mishap

A sedan and a station wagon were damaged in a collision Tuesday on E. 3rd St. about 30 feet east of Walnut St., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1963 model sedan driven by Patricia B. Summers, 35, of Clearwater Beach, Fla., and a 1960 model station wagon operated by Jack L. Glenn, 48, of Georgetown, officers said.

The woman reported she was backing from a parking lot at a laundry, but her view was blocked by a parked truck, causing her to strike the station wagon. The mishap damaged the left front headlight of the Summers car and the right rear fender of the Glenn station wagon, police said. The crash was timed at 11:25 a. m.

Bomb Shakes Chicago Area

CHICAGO (AP)—An explosion shook the western portion of downtown Chicago early today and investigators said it was caused "by a powerful bomb."

Force of the blast smashed hundreds of windows in office buildings in the area but no injuries were reported.

Fire Marshal Gerald Mullin said the blast "definitely was caused by a bomb."

It apparently had been placed in the vicinity of the Masonite Building at 29 N. Wacker Drive, directly across from the Kemper Building, known in recent years as the Civic opera House.

Windows in neighboring buildings were cracked or broken as high as the 17th floor. Metal window frames on the Masonite Building's ground floor were twisted by the explosion.

Investigators could not offer a reason for the blast, which occurred at about 3:45 a.m.-CDT.

A member of the fire department's bomb and arson squad said it appeared the bomb was filled with black powder.

The engineer of the Masonite Building, Richard McGathey, told police he was on the second floor of the building when the blast occurred and that he was knocked down.

Marshal Mullin, whose fire house is four blocks from the scene, said he was lifted from his bed by the force of the blast. He said his investigators found fragments "of a powerful bomb" at the scene.

Where Would We Start?

Many of us had something on our minds last weekend more troubling than the military buildup in Viet Nam.

What could be causing mobs of young men and women, many of them identified as college students, to go on property-destroying, law-defying rampages in places as widely separated as Lake George, N.Y., Geneva on the Lake and Russells Point, Ohio, Arnolds Park, Iowa, and Rockaway Beach, Mo.?

And what could be done about it?

That was the sticker—what to do about it.

THE FIRST impulse was to throw all the rioters and rowdies in the pokey and keep them there until they grew up.

It was to urge all the judges to throw the book at the culprits until they whimpered.

It was to up-end the frowsiest of them—the boys with the Beatle hair-dos and the girls with the straggly look—and tan their bottoms.

It was to growl and bite and smash and slash in spells of hot and cold fury because kids who had everything to be thankful for had turned against law and order.

Their behavior, appearance, callow attitude and imprudent defiance of police and National Guardsmen added up to a denial of everything of value that had been bestowed on them.

They were a mockery of the Great Society.

Observers of their antics commented on the handsome faces of the young men and women in the milling mobs—handsome faces and well-developed bodies but the social awareness of savages.

What had gone wrong?

WERE THE Independence weekend riots something we are supposed to take in stride?

Or were they the outcropping of a social maladjustment that can give Americans more to worry about than their inability to make a Communist-free world of their own choice? What if they couldn't even make America safe for our way of life?

This was a grave thought last weekend. It put a dirty smear on the holiday weekend.

It put a definable group of young Americans under a cloud. This wasn't the first time, either.

These were the same kind of young men and women who have been in conspicuous conflict and disagreement with established authority on college campuses. These were the same types who have been showing up in picket lines, sit-downs, lie-downs—wherever there is a prospect of trouble with law enforcement.

An optimist might ascribe it to youthful ginger and vitality — youth being served in this best of all possible words.

Most of us do not feel that optimistic.

We are scared. We are scared for the country, for ourselves and for the cursing, rock-throwing, beer-guzzling, window-smashing youngsters who show up for riot calls like spooks in a recurrent nightmare.

WHAT HAS MADE these young people turn sour?

Can anything be done to help them? Will they outgrow all this if we're patient?

If they don't outgrow it, can the country survive in their presence?

It is something to think about, along with Viet Nam and the American crusade to make the world safe from Communism.

Will there have to be a companion crusade to make America safe from its wild children? And, if so, where would we start?

Water Hazards

The most hazardous thing Americans do in the pursuit of pleasure is to go on and into the water.

The Fourth of July fatality toll shows that approximately 550 people died in highway accidents, but at least 119 persons died in drowning accidents and another 35 in boating accidents.

This means there were 28 per cent as many drowning and boating fatalities as highway fatalities. Yet, only a tiny fraction as many Americans went on the water and into the water as traveled in autos, certainly not more than one to a hundred.

It is strange that in the face of this statistically demonstrable risk so little is done to alert the public to water hazards.

Aside from courses in water safety and instructions about boating, there is nothing that can compare with the nationwide publicity to alert drivers against highway accidents.

Subsidy For Peephole Industry

You can be sure the peephole industry was busy over the weekend.

If there isn't a peephole industry, you can be sure people were busy trying to start one.

Peepholes have just received a thumping subsidy in New York State, where the legislature has passed a law requiring peepholes to be installed in the doors of virtually every apartment in New York City and Buffalo.

There are 150,000 apartment buildings in New York City alone.

The peepholes will enable apartment residents to peek through to see who is on the other side of the door before opening it.

This will enable them, especially women, to avert some of the violence and death currently so rampant in New York City, though is is an open question whether the police ever can hope to restore security to New York residents.

A proper peephole, of course, must be more than just a hole. It must be a hole that can be closed with a secure cover, like the peepholes made famous by bootleg liquor joints during the prohibition era.

Does anyone want to bet the next gambit by New York thugs, rapists, child molesters, thieves and maniacal murderers won't be blowguns to shoot poisoned darts through the peepholes?

Then the New York legislature can pass a law requiring a shatter-proof glass magnifying lens in every peephole, plus a periscope to see who is lurking in the hall.

A Welcome Change

A man and his dog made news when fire broke out on a farm near Summitville.

It was a pleasing "good neighbor" story as they combined in their own ways to avert what could have been a serious situation.

Good deeds of this nature are refreshing in today's topsy-turvey world.

Off To War!

By Truman Twill

"What are your plans for the weekend, Son?"

"Who wants to know?"

"Your mother and I. We want you to be happy."

"Fine. In that case, I have a proposition."

"Name it, Son."

"Give me the car, 50 clams and no questions."

"That's a big order."

"You asked for it sucker. Take it or leave it."

"What if I leave it?"

"Who knows? Nothing good, you can bet on that."

"All right, so what if I take it—the car and 50 clams. How far do you intend to go? Who will go with you? Will there be girls along? Where will you stay? What do you expect to do? When will you be back?"

"Getting nosey, huh. I'll be back when you see me. I don't know what I expect to do. I don't know where I'm going to stay, who will be with me, or how far I'll go. A fella's got to have fun."

"You mean like the fun you and your pals had over the July Fourth weekend—smashing property, rioting, jeering at policemen, guzzling beer, scaring people out of their wits?"

"What's wrong with that?"

"What's right about it? It was one generation going to war against another generation; that's how it looks to your mother and me and our friends."

"So why shouldn't us kids go to war? We're bored. We're tired of rules and regulations. We gotta have fun."

"Is rioting fun? Does it make you happy to throw stones? Is a mass beer-bust the biggest thing in your life?"

"It beats being dried-up old funds."

"Meaning . . ."

"Let's stuff the guff and get to the proposition. Do I get the bus and the money, or do I rassle you for it?"

"I have news for you, punk. You don't get the car. You don't get the money. You don't get your next meal. What you're going to get is a hair cut. That's so you can get a job. That's so you can start to pay your own way. You're going to put on some clothes and fly right.

"Your mother and I will not subsidize you another 10 cents' worth. If and when you ever decide to quit being a punk and live by existing rules and regulations, including the laws of human decency, we'll reconsider your case.

"In the meantime, your board and room in this pad will be 50 clams a week, payable in advance. If you want to attend any more riots, take a bus. No more car. No more indulgences.

"We are about to make you deeply unhappy, son. It just might straighten you out. It just might teach you that happiness has to be earned."

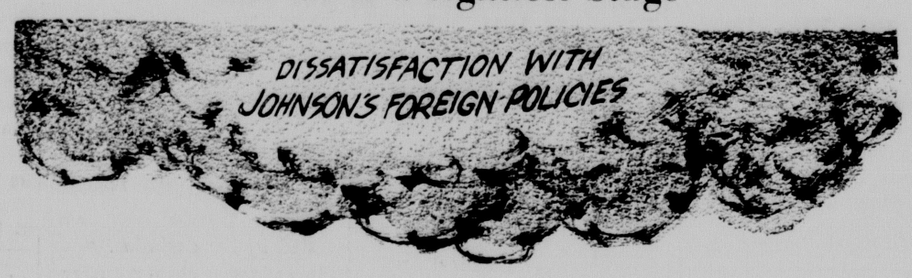
Sort Of A Weightless Stage



They're Fighting City Hall Today

By Victor Riesel

In olden days when one's grandmother, newly arrived on these shores, sought for an expression of futility, she'd shrug her shoulders and in her best Americanese say: "You can't fight City Hall."

Victor Riesel

She was poor then. City Hall was the castle on the mountain-top. But the poor are different today. They are fighting city hall—all over the land. They are well organized. They are a new social force.

Though still unnoticed, theirs is a social revolution, a challenge to the local "establishment" and to the old-line political leaders and, yes indeed, soon a challenge to America's labor leadership as well.

Those in the "Poverty" headquarters of Sargent Shriver see it clearly.

So does the prescient Walt Reuther.

THEY SEE IT coming not so much because of the distribution of millions of dollars to millions of people in seething tenement districts.

They see it, rather, as a result of the organization and training of the poor for leadership in the slum-jammed precincts of the nation's great cities.

Out of this will come an inner infra-structure of political strength which will be in the hands of proletarians still unknown.

There is much to "support the thesis that there is something of a social revolution in the making," one of Sargent Shriver's Office of Economic Opportunity highly-placed colleagues said to a friend the other day, "which has its implications for the 'local establishments' and, indeed, for labor organizations too."

HE POINTED OUT that his chief, Sargent Shriver, also refers to the development as a "social revolution," and noted that even the most liberal of mayors are disturbed by the poor's challenge to their City Hall power.

"This arises first out of the requirement in the Economic Opportunity Act that there be '. . . maximum feasible participation of residents of the areas and members of the corporations served' in community action programs to eliminate poverty," he explained.

"Therefore, the poor are reenfranchised and are beginning to speak for themselves to constitute another voice to be reckoned with in civic affairs.

"It may well be that those of the poor who are being paid to help administer some of the anti-poverty programs will throw up from their ranks new leaders of a segment of our population—the poor—which totals 34.6 million throughout the nation."

Already there are some 45,000 paid poor involved in Project Head-Start alone. This is the eight-week summer training program for poor children who will enter school this fall.

THERE ARE more than 30,000 additonal poor who will be paid employes of other community action programs by summer's end.

And this is just the beginning. Several hundred thousand more poor will be hired to work for and administer anti-poverty programs street by street, community by community.

On each local Community Action Agency's governing board there will be an average of 10 poor as policy-makers. These will total in the thousands eventually. They will be elected in their precincts. They, not the clubhouse leader, will become the poor's advocates—at city hall and, soon, inside the labor movement.

Reuther has moved to meet this social challenge by joining with the challengers. Under his leadership and with a grant of Auto Union funds, he has launched the Citizens' Crusade Against Poverty. It now has a Washington headquarters and in August it will have a full time director.

REUTHER'S THEME was struck in a recent statement. Characteristically, he said: "Plans for developing leadership potentials among the poor are based on the already demonstrated capacity of the poverty-stricken to take active roles in the development and carrying out of programs.

"Leadership training programs will train people in organizational techniques and give them a knowledge of community structure and resources so that they may more effectively press for needed action whether it is in the field of housing, education, welfare administration or other matters of concern."

Grandmother would never recognize city hall today. Everywhere, it is coming down the mountainside.

Aggression Formula

History Continues To Be Forgotten

Was Independence Day celebrated properly? News dispatches tell of disorders at crowded resort areas and excesses of all kinds, including careless driving on the highways.

David Lawrence

How many of the millions of citizens who are given the right to vote can read or understand the words of the Declaration of Independence itself?

There's an even more important question that might well be asked: How should the occasion of America's famous pronouncement on the right of self-determination of peoples have been celebrated? A golden opportunity was missed by failing to dramatize and publicize throughout the world the immortal principles written in the document proclaimed 189 years ago by the founding fathers.

Condensed into simple language, the Declaration of Independence could have been applied to the situations existing among the oppressed peoples on every continent in the world. The rules of international and national conduct contained in the Declaration are in every sense pertinent today. If these were taken to heart by the peoples of those countries now living under dictatorships, the whole world might rid itself of the perennial fear of autocratic governments which threaten the peace.

The Declaration of Independence expressed no desire to be unfriendly to the British people, but instead recognized that they were themselves the victims of an arbitrary and irresponsible monarch whose actions were hardly different in many respects from some of the rulers who today are causing so much unhappiness in the world.

THE BRITISH king in 1776 had, for instance, interfered with the right of the American colonists to retain the legislative bodies they had formed. He called together legislative bodies "at places, unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures."

He also "obstructed the administration of justice" and made "judges dependent on his will alone."

The whole case was summed up in the following sentence: "A prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people."

These words have a fateful meaning today for the people on the mainland of China as well as for the peoples of the autocracies established in Southeast Asia which are financed and controlled by Moscow or Peiping.

But most of all, the principles bear directly on the plight of the Soviet Union and of the Communist - bloc countries in Eastern Europe, whose peoples are pawns in the hands of the ruling oligarchy in Moscow.

ALTHOUGH the Declaration of Independence enumerated the basic reasons for initiating a revolution against the British crown, our forefathers also outlined a philosophy that teaches a significant lesson to malcontents who are impatient even with representative processes and seek to undermine them, notwithstanding the fact that the existing machinery provides an orderly means of redress. The following excerpt, rarely quoted abroad, is pertinent:

"Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security."

TRANSLATED into many languages, these and other passages in the Declaration of Independence could become a most powerful summons to concerted action by oppressed peoples everywhere. this could have been and still can be to them the true meaning of a worldwide independence day.

All sorts of leaflets stressing these points could have been dropped from planes circling the earth. The Comsat mechanism, which permits instantaneous contact with all parts of the world by radio, could have been utilized effectively.

Communication facilities of many kinds are available. The necessary funds for this worldwide missionary effort would have been provided by Congress if there had been a leadership by citizens' groups.

Money is appropriated annually for the Voice of America, but no activity carried on by that division of the U.S. Information Agency could accomplish more for the benefit of mankind than a campaign giving a timely explanation and emphasis to the enduring words of the Declaration of Independence.

Energetic Congress

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

At another time what Congress is doing now would be wrapped in breathless attention and conflict. But success feeds on itself and in these peculiar days what seemed impossible now seems routine.

This is a busy Congress and, before this session is over, will have been a highly productive one. However, public interest has been distracted by the war in Viet Nam and the personality of President Johnson.

In getting Congress to trot along with him, Johnson has had two things working for him: his own endless pressure on the men in the Capitol and the fact that his own Democrats thoroughly outnumber the Republicans.

AND THERE is not now in Congress a controversial figure —like Sens. Joseph McCarthy, Robert A. Taft or Barry Goldwater — who splits public thinking and, while getting attention himself, draws attention to Congress.

From a presidential standpoint this probably is an ideal Congress: legislators who for the most part stick to their knitting, don't fuss much and grind out the legislation.

Besides all this, some of the most important legislation moving through Congress this year was fought over wildly or loudly so many times before it lost its edge.

Two examples: federal aid to grade and high schools, passed earlier this year, and medicare which will almost certainly go through.

There was hardly a ripple when Congress only Tuesday completed what no Congress in history ever managed to do before:

This was approval, by the House last week and the Senate Tuesday, of a proposed constitutional amendment spelling out procedures to deal with presidential disability and to keep the vice presidency filled.

This won't become part of the Constitution until at least 38 state legislatures also aprove but they're expected to without any trouble, although not before 1967. Action on this was a major achievement in itself.

BEFORE CONGRESS took its Fourth of July vacation it already had passed — in addition to the school aid bill — two other top Johnson programs: reduction in federal excise taxes and aid to the Appalachia area.

As soon as it returned Tuesday, after clearing the proposed amendment, the Senate went to work on the Social Security-health care bill. This would raise Social Security benefits and set up health care programs for those 65 or older.

The House got down to work in a hurry, too. It opened debate on the 1965 civil rights bill — to protect Negroes' voting rights — although on this there will be some struggle.

Nevertheless, in one form or another, it seems sure to pass.

Further, Congress also is almost certain to approve an urban affairs department, a $5.3-billion housing bill, and aid to higher education.

Johnson has suffered some limited rebuffs and before Congress quits for the year he may suffer some defeats on what he has asked but, as it shapes up, the record of this Congress will be impressive and remembered.

Hancock Sets Up Plans In Firefighter School

Andrew J. Kondik, Civil Defense director of Hancock County, and William Prosser of the Hancock County Firefighters Association, presented sketches and plans for a firefighters' school during the Hancock County Court of Commissioners meeting Tuesday.

Kondik and Prosser requested the use of a portion of the brick building and surrounding grounds at the old dam as the site for a school for all 10 county volunteer fire companies.

"In case of nuclear attack, firemen will be the first line of defense," said Prosser, in outlining the association's plans for the school, which will include classes in self-aid and radiological monitoring given by members of Civil Defense.

The Civil Defense organization recently was granted membership in the Hancock County Firefighters Association.

Kondik, in supporting Prosser, said he had talked with the mayor of New Cumberland and Chester City Council concerning the project.

In the absence of court president James Finley of Weirton, Jack Evans of New Cumberland made a motion that Civil Defense and the firefighters' association be permitted to use the building at Lock 9 for the purpose of conducting firefighting and nuclear defense courses. William Graham of Chester seconded. Approval then was granted.

In other action at the meeting, an application of renewal as a notary public from Julius Sobolak of Weirton was approved by the court.

During the afternoon session, the court hired Frank Bobula of Weirton to paint the woodwork in the sheriff's residence.

The next scheduled meeting of the commissioners will be Aug. 3.

must take this to the public and let it decide whether it wants to maintain a highly professional organization."

Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop, vice president, raised the question when salary increases would be effective — in January or when the additional funds actually are received late in February or March.

She pointed out the finance committee, of which she is a member, is proud of its record in not having to borrow funds in the last two years and recalled the board was forced to borrow money a few years ago when it granted increases before the actual cash was on hand.

Harry D. McConville, board president, said he didn't believe it wise to pay the increase until the money is received.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk - treasurer, pointed out that at one time the board granted the increases retroactively, delaying the January payment until February when the money was on hand.

RICHARD SMITH then made the motion to place the levy on the ballot, with Mrs. Dunlop offering the second.

Commenting on his motion, Smith said, "I don't feel it is up to me to tell teachers they can't have a raise or tell the people to vote for this levy. We have to give the people a chance to say yes or no."

Austen Moore, president, and David Wern of the East Liverpool Teachers Association attended the meeting.

The ELTA has been pressing for salary increases for teachers, arguing the school district cannot compete with other districts on the present salary schedule. The association has pledged its support "in time, effort and money."

The OEA's Research Division in a report to the ELTA estimated "at least" 3.3 mills would be required to boost minimum and maximum salaries to $5,000 and $7,100 for those with bachelor degrees and to $5,250 and $7,500 for master's degrees.

The present schedule provides $4,300 to $6,100 for a bachelor's and $4,500 to $6,500 for a master's.

Budget's Set For Rogers

Rogers Council approved a budget totaling $6,200 for the 1966 fiscal year Tuesday night at the fire station.

In other action, a recommendation from the Ohio state auditor's office to combine the Council's treasurer and clerk positions into one post was accepted.

Arnold Green, present treasurer, announced he will not run again in the November city elections, while Mrs. Main Hall, clerk, said she plans to file for both positions.

The recommendation from the state auditor has been made to al municipalities with an annual budget under $25,000, it was explained.

Meanwhile, Councilmen Glenn Baker, Wallace Swaney, George Heller and Robert Whitacre disclosed they will run again in November.

Council also voted in favor of checking into the city code to see whether there is an ordinance which authorizes the city to mow and clean vacant lots which haven't been properly cared for by their owners at the owners' expense. Council added it would pass such an ordinance if it isn't already embodied in the code.

A proposal for building a garage for the storage of the city equipment and truck was discussed.

Marshal Sidney Cowan turned in $46.40 in fines and bond forfeitures for the month of June and bills totaling $256 were paid.

Council's next meeting will be Aug. 2 at 7 p. m. in the fire

Confine Dogs, Warden Orders In Wellsville

Bill Long, Wellsville dog warden, today issued a warning against residents allowing their pet dogs to run at large after a small girl was bitten Tuesday evening.

Long said the child was bitten on the side of the face. The dog has been caught and will be impounded for 15 days to determine if it is rabid.

He said the dog is a stray. Any dog caught running loose will be picked up, he warned.

He also cautioned parents to be on the lookout for dogs running at large, pointing out the animals do not like to be bothered in hot weather.

An estimated $4,000 to $5,000, in loot has been recovered, police said. Loot included tools, tires, batteries, motor oil, auto accessories, flashlights and other miscellaneous goods.

No charges were filed against the four men, but police said they will face larceny charges.

'Project Head Start' Outlined At Wellsville

Wellsville's participation in "Project Head Start," designed to educate and aid underprivileged children, was outlined by Samuel Linger, director, during a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Piatt's Tea Room.

Wellsville has 35 children enrolled in two classes, one at McKinley School and the other at Garfield School.

Set up under the federal government's 1964 Opportunity Act, the program is for children entering kindergarten or first grade this fall who come from families with incomes under $3,000 and those on the relief roles.

Linger said the principal problem with the children is that they are unable to communicate as a normal child should at this age. "This often is because of the lack of experience or of contact with other people," he said. "Usually about 60 per cent of these children are behind about a year or a year and a half the average child in this age group."

Linger said the program deals with health, education and welfare. The children are provided food and clothing where needed and each child is transported to the school if he or she lives more than six blocks from the building. Each home is visitied from time to time. The educational program includes field trips, stimulation of interest in books and helping to meet people.

The federal government provides 90 per cent of the cost, with 10 per cent being provided by the local board of education. The local costs include transportation, use of the buildings, services, etc.

The federal government will provide 90 per cent of the cost again next year, but this will be reduced to 50 per cent the third year. If the program is to continue, a parent advisory group will have to be formed next year. Also next year the program will include education among the parents of the students involved.

Linger also provided county-wide figures dealing with the program. In Columbiana County, the unemployment rate is 3.6 per cent, while just a little over 18 per cent of the families have incomes under $3,000, in comparison with the nationwide figure of 20 per cent.

All non - teaching personnel, including secretaries, bus drivers and building custodians, were re-employed for the coming school year.

Husband Shoots Wife, Turns Gun Upon Self

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—A Fostoria couple's domestic troubles mushroomed into a shooting Tuesday which authorities described as an attempted murder-suicide.

Sheriff's deputies said Martin Duckett, 32, shot his estranged wife, Katherin, 31, as she was about to drive out of the Radio Corporation of America plant's parking lot here, and then turned the gun on himself.

The couple, both wounded in the head, were rushed to Lima Memorial Hospital, where Duckett was listed in guarded condition and his wife was reported as fair.

Council

sylvania Ave., Elizabeth St. and Harvey Ave.

Enabling legislation for another state project for widening, resurfacing and partial relocation of Lisbon St. (State Route 267) from W. 8th St. to the city limits.

An amendment to 1964 city income tax regulations restoring supervision of the system to Treasurer Bert A. Dawson and ending an attempt to shift the responsibility to Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger.

Legislation also was to have been presented for payment of a claim against the city.

Last night's scheduled special session was agreed upon at the regular meeting on June 21. The councilmen agreed to meet to enact legislation for the Lisbon St. and East End street projects, rather than waiting until the next regular session on July 19.

The legislation restoring the tax collection task to the city treasurer also will lower the penalty the office may charge for delinquent payments.

The present regulations allow a penalty of one-half of 1 per cent of the amount due or $5, whichever is greater. The new regulation will call for the penalty of 50 cents for each month of delinquency, up to a maximum of six months. In that way, the maximum penalty will be $3 instead of $5 as at present. Cooper explained to Council.

Late in 1965, when voting to continue the income tax past its former expiration date at the end of that year, Council decided to shift the tax administration responsibility from Dawson to Zollinger. However, Zollinger appeared before Council and refused to assume the responsibility, citing attorney general's opinions to back up his position. That ended the controversy, but Council still must enact the measure to restore the tax office task to the treasurer.

Rebel Gunfire Breaks Out In Santo Domingo

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Brazilian, Nicaraguan and Honduran troops of the inter-American peace force exchanged heavy fire with the Dominican rebels for half an hour Tuesday night, a peace force spokesman said.

The rebels traded shots for five minutes with U.S. paratroopers nearly two hours later, the spokesman added.

He said a U.S. paratrooper was reported captured by rebel troops but it was not immediately known whether the capture was connected with the shooting.

No injuries were reported during the flareups.

The incidents were the most serious since mid-June and threatened negotiations by an Organization of American States mediating committee to establish a compromise government.

Legal Fireworks Follow Sideshow At Wheeling Span

WHEELING (AP) — The legal fireworks were saved until Tuesday for two men who supplied an added attraction to Monday night's display at the Fort Henry Bridge here.

Paul Kilgore, 32, was fined $50 for being disorderly and $100 for violating anti - fireworks laws. He was found not guilty on a drunk charge.

He was sentenced to 50 days in jail when he couldn't pay the fines.

The second man, Phillip A. Parenti, 26, of Wheeling, was fined $20 for being drunk.

Just as the skyrockets and roman candles flared against the darkened sky Monday night, spectators saw a man climbing the superstructure of the bridge some 200 feet above the Ohio River.

As he pranced on the beams, he would light firecrackers to the delight of the crowd.

The police tried to shine spotlights on the figure, but the man would hide behind girders and light more firecrackers.

Finally, a hook - and - ladder fire truck arrived and the long ladder was run up against the bridge. But before police could climb up and haul the man down, another figure appeared and started up the ladder, as if to rescue the first man.

Police finally succeeded in bringing both men to the ground.

Kilgore was the first man and Parenti the second.

Dodgers Regain Lead; Brock Leads Cardinals To Win

Bucs Whip Phils, Helped By Stuart

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lou Brock may be only the No. 2 thief in the National League but he tops San Francisco's most wanted list today.

Brock, who has been chasing Maury Wills' shadow in the stolen base derby, ran the Giants into the ground Tuesday night in a 3-2 St. Louis victory that stretched the Cardinals' winning streak to seven.

The St. Louis swifty collected three hits, drove in the first run and scored the last two — after setting them up with his base-running larceny.

But, despite his 35th stolen base, Brock lost ground to Los Angeles' Wills, who swiped two — for a total of 51 — as the Dodgers outlasted Cincinnati 11-7 and regained the league lead from the Reds. The Cardinals, meanwhile, stayed in seventh place, one game under the .500 mark and seven games off the pace.

Pittsburgh whipped Philadelphia 8-4, Don Cardwell pitching a six-hitter for his seventh straight victory, in the only other NL game. The New York Mets and Chicago Cubs had the day off and the Houston-Milwaukee game was rained out.

Brock snapped Giants ace Juan Marichal's string of scoreless innings at 20 with an RBI single in the first. Lou stretched a fourth-inning hit into a double and scored the tying run on Ken Boyer's single, then beat out a bunt in the sixth, stole second and broke the 2-2 deadlock on a single by Curt Flood.

The Dodgers, although outhit 14-13 by Cincinnati, dropped the Reds back into second place, one game out, Lou Johnson leading the way with three hits. Johnson, Dick Tracewski and John Roseboro each knocked in two runs.

Don Drysdale ended a five-game losing streak and belted his fourth home run but was knocked out in the seventh, when Frank Robinson and Gordy Coleman hit successive homers.

Cardwell, 8-2, drove in two Pittsburgh runs with a fifth-inning single and held the Phillies to one run and four hits until the eighth, when Johnny Callison unloaded a three-run homer.

The Pirates sewed it up with five runs in the fifth, four of them unearned as a result of Dick Stuart's throwing error.

Probst Holes Pitch Shot, Helps Team Win Amateur

J. S. Probst holed a pitch shot on the fifth hole for an eagle three to pace his team to the title in the annual Mixed Amateur - Amateur play Monday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Probst's team finished with 29-31-60, a stroke better than Harold Putt's team which fired 32-30-62.

In addition to Probst, the winning team included Mrs. William Pickin, A. C. Purinton Jr. and Mrs. W. A. Porter.

Four teams captained by J. E. Laughlin, Rick Crable, Dave Bowersock and Robert Bowersock tied for third with 63's.

In Monday's selective nine-hole event, Jack Smith and Jim Jordan finished with 30 each to tie for leading honors while Dr. J. J. Laneve, Dr. Frank Bragg and Bob Patterson finished with 32's.

Dr. Laneve came in five up to win Sunday's match play vs. par contest. Dr. R. J. Kinsey, E. B. Rohrer and Charles Heasley were four up followed by Bob Patterson and Don Burbick at three up.

Dick Forzano and J. N. Porter were four up to finish in a deadlock for top honors in the second division. Grant Stover was next with two up.

Bob Wells carded 29 and won the selective nine-hole event played Saturday. L. W. Smith Jr., Don E. Smith, Bob Patterson and Jim Jordan registered 30's and Gordon Weese and Dr. R. J. Kinsey carded 31's.

The second division went to Lawton Howell with 29 and A. C. Purinton Jr. was runnerup with 29.

Golfers are reminded that second round matches in the Hall Memorial Championships must be completed this week or the match will be defaulted.

The men's Club Championship qualifying is on now through July 18.

Lema Begins Defense Of British Open Crown

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)✣ — Tony Lema said today he's put his driver away and so he sees no reason why he shouldn't retain the British Open Golf Championship.

The San Leandro, Calif., professional discovered in 24 hours that the 7,037-yard par 73 Royal Birkdale course requires straight and sometimes short tee shots.

As the field of 130 teed off in the 72-hole medal play today, Lema said he was leaning on brassies and spoons and irons off some of the tees.

He had something on his side. Last year he came to St. Andrews and with only nine holes of practice captured the crown.

"I learned the run-up shot there," he said. "And so my wedge which was my darling, had to go back into the bag."

Now he contends, his driver has to disappear from time to time.

In the winds that sweep off the Irish Sea onto the Birkdale course, Lema said he has found that tee shots must be "absolutely straight, placed just so."

Jack Nicklaus shot a practice round of 65 Tuesday but admitted he was not satisfied because he got away with a little luck off the tees.

Arnold Palmer went around in about even par, but he, too, was experimenting with tee shots.

Lema began defense of his title as only a 7-1 shot. Nicklaus was quoted at 3-1. Palmer and U.S. Open champion Gary Player 5-1.

Other American professionals entered were Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif.; Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif.; newcomer Terry Dill, 26, of Mule Shoe, Tex. and the hardy perennial, 53-year-old Samuel Jackson Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va.

Mike Hadlock, U.S. Air Force man from Houston, Tex. and Bruce Richards of Seattle, Wash. were the only American amateurs who qualified. Bill Campbell, U.S. amateur champion from Huntington, W. Va., scratched.

Hall's Bat Helps Twins Boost Lead To 2

The Review Sports
WEDNESDAY, JULY 7, 1965 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 10

Detroit Shuts Out Yankees 8 to 0

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Like the hero of the old weekly movie serials, Minnesota's Jimmie Hall was snatched from the edge of the cliff just before plummeting into the icy gorge below.

His rescuer was Twins' President Calvin Griffith, who, incidentally, put him in the precarious position in the first place.

But Griffith plucked him off at the last moment and now sits back and watches as Hall leads the Twins' assault on the rest of the American League.

The slugging center fielder drove in four runs with two homers and added a single in three times at bat Tuesday night, sparking Minnesota to a 9-0 victory over Boston.

The Twins' sixth consecutive triumph gave them a two-game lead in the American League, the biggest bulge they've had since June 9.

It was about six weeks ago that Griffith maneuvered Hall to the brink. At that time, he seriously offered the 27-year-old lefty in a trade to Charles Finley and the last-place Kansas City Athletics.

But Hall clung to the edge by one finger, the deal fell through and about two weeks afterward Griffith conceded:

"I can't trade Hall now. We might get something to help us, but it would sure hurt us to give him up."

In other AL games Tuesday night, Detroit whipped New York 8-0, Baltimore defeated Kansas City 4-1 and Los Angeles downed Washington 6-2. Rain washed out Cleveland and Chicago.

Detroit's Denny McLain won his sixth straight contest by stopping the Yankees on seven hits. Bill Freehan and Norm Cash, both hitting near .200 each hit two-run homers and drive in three runs. McLain, now 7-3, didn't allow a Yankee past second base until the ninth inning.

Steve Barber drove in two Baltimore runs with a homer and a sacrifice fly and stopped Kansas City on three hits before Dick Hall relieved him in the ninth and ended a threat. One of the hits off Barber, now 7-6, was Rene Lachemann's third-inning home run.

Dean Chance gave up eight hits in five innings but still picked up his first victory for Los Angeles in five weeks. Chance, now 5-4, left for a pinch hitter in the fifth, and Marcelino Lopez finished up. Jim Fregosi collected three singles and drove in three runs for the Angels.

Potter Grid Ticket Committee To Meet

Donald Hancock, secretary of the Columbiana County football officials' association, has said additional officials will be needed for the fall high school football season and that applications are being accepted from anyone interested in taking the state examination.

He said the test, conducted but once a year, will be held at East Liverpool High School Aug. 30. Those wishing to take the exam should telephone him at 386-4569 at least three weeks prior to the examination date.

JACK DEMPSEY, ex-heavyweight champion, has urged federal controls to help restore boxing to the standing it enjoyed in days gone by. Dempsey told the House Commerce Committee at Washington that one of the troubles with the fight game today is that "nobody fights much." Here, during a break in the hearings, Dempsey talks with Rep. John V. Tunney (D-Calif), who delivered a statement by his father, Gene Tunney, another former champion. (UPI Telephoto)

Before Committee In House

Boxing Inquiry Goes On; Dempsey, Rocky Testify

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a flashback to the rosy-hued days when Jack Dempsey and Rocky Marciano were heavyweight champions, a House committee looks today at the way things are now in the boxing age of Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston.

"You're going to hear a different story," fight manager Cus D'Amato told newsmen after listening to Dempsey and Marciano tell how things were and how they should be now.

D'Amato, who was in Floyd Patterson's corner when he won the heavyweight championship, didn't explain what he would tell the House Interstate Commerce Committee which is considering a bill to establish a federal boxing commission.

Also scheduled to testify were Nat Fleischer, editor of Ring magazine who was at ringside for the Clay-Liston bout in Lewiston, Maine; Fred Brooks of Sportsvision, the firm that handled the theater TV showing of the bout, and Melvin L. Krulewitch, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission which barred Liston from fighting there.

Although the names of Clay and Liston keep bobbing up in the inquiry they are not yet scheduled to make a personal appearance.

A bill introduced by Committee Chairman Oren Harris, D-Ark., would set up a boxing commission. It would give the commission authority to prohibit a wire service, radio or television from carrying an account of a professional bout in interstate commerce whenever it determines that the bout "will be in any way affected by bribery, collusion to effect the result, intentional losing, racketeering, including terrorism, extortion, organized use of threats, coercion; intimidation, or use of violence."

Both Dempsey and Marciano urged that the commission be given authority to license boxers, promoters, managers and even seconds. Both said that a bout should not be allowed on television without approval of the proposed commission.

Dempsey and Marciano argued that boxing was in such sorry shape that it needed drastic help.

Baseball Players Run

GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — After losing a baseball game earlier in the day to Weld County High, most of the Platte Valley High players shed their uniforms for track suits and scored enough points in a triangular meet to place second.

Woman Bowler Closes Fast For High Series

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Mrs. Doris Rudell of Whittier, Calif., won the Woman's International Bowling Congress singles title by only six pins but it was how she did it.

She began slowly with games of 181 and 190 but finished with 288 for 659. In her last game she had 10 straight strikes then spared the 6-10 pins.

Mary Bishop of Houston and Jean Karamanos of Morristown, N. J., tied for second with 653.

Mariner 4 Near Gravity Of Mars

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Sometime today U.S. spacecraft Mariner 4 is expected to begin feeling the gravitional tug of the planet Mars.

The 575-pound vehicle is 1.5 million miles to one side of Mars and about nine million miles from its historic July 14 photographic rendezvous with the mysterious planet.

Hopefully, 21 pictures will be transmitted to earth then when Mariner 4 emerges from behind the planet.

Jet Propulsion Laboratory said Tuesday that radioed data indicate the vehicle's instruments are working well. JPL built and is tracking the craft on its 228-day voyage.

Mariner 4 will pass behind Mars, missing it by less than 6,000 miles, scientists say.

Post Moves Into Tourney

Post 374 downed Salem 5-2 Tuesday at Columbiana to win the right to represent the county in the double - elimination District 10 American Legion tournament beginning Thursday at Columbiana.

Nine counties in all will be represented, with Post 374 scheduled to meet Cadiz in the opener.

Larry Ensinger and D. Smith paced the attack Tuesday, each driving in two runs as the Legion nine won the first - half championship.

The score was tied at the end of the first inning after D. Smith had belted a bases-loaded single to score two for the local post, and Washington had slammed a homer with one on for Salem.

Post 374 sent its winning runs across in the fourth inning when Ensinger homered deep over the left field wall with one on. It added an insurance run in the sixth with the help of a wild pitch.

Whittington was the winning pitcher, while Kemats was charged with the loss.

G. Bucher with two hits paced Hookstown's attack. The winners scored twice in the third and once in the sixth frame.

In another contest, Lawrenceville beat Hanover 9-6, paced by Dan Michaels, who went two-for-three at the plate.

Jerry Anderson and Roger McCarrell each posted two hits for the losers. Terry Young was the winning pitcher with seven strikeouts, while Doug Williamson struck out eight in a losing cause.

Flames Raze Vacant House

A vacant house in Klondyke virtually was destroyed by fire Tuesday at 6 p. m.

The blaze in the home off Putnam St. apparently was started by children, according to city firemen.

The fire was burning through the roof by the time firemen arrived.

Firemen were on the scene for two hours. The blaze was brought under control in about 30 minutes. Some 350 feet of 2½-inch line, 300 feet of 1½-inch line and 200 feet of booster hose were used.

The house is owned by Howard Mitchell, 413 Putnam St.

Firemen responded to three other alarms Tuesday.

A grass and brush fire on Pennsylvania Railroad property near the city sewage treatment plant was extinguished after firemen fought the blaze for about 90 minutes yesterday afternoon. The alarm was turned in at 2:37 p. m.

A small building at the home of Michael Horoszko, 1524 Lisbon St., caught fire at 5 p. m. Firemen said flames from a gasoline lantern set fire to the walls and ceiling.

A car owned by Robert Harding, 1011 May St., caught fire at 6:20 p. m. when a short circuit developed in the wiring. It was out on arrival, firemen said.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: When I read your column yesterday I was sure the Chicago wind must have blown your brains out. What do you mean by telling a 41-year-old woman she should be thrilled to be having a baby?

That woman has a son in college and two girls in high school. She was just beginning to enjoy life and now she has to start over with diapers, 2 a.m. feedings, shots, sitters, high chair, stroller — the whole bit.

I was 39 when my third son was born. I got sick and tired of having everyone tell me how happy I should be. No woman who had a child under 8 opened up a mouth. It was always the ones with college kids and hysterectomies who gave me the "you're so lucky" routine.

I wasn't happy about it then and I'm not happy about it now. This boy is harder to raise than all the others put together. Whenever I take him any place people ask me my grandson's name. I'm living for the day I can get this kid in school so I can get off tranquilizers and back on food. — MRS. A. WRECK.

Dear Mrs.: I suspect your letter was written at the end of an exhausting day. Let's hear from you after you've had a good night's sleep — about five years from now.

Likes Privacy

Dear Ann: Recently you printed a letter from a career woman who was furious because people kept asking her why she wasn't married. Finally she hit on an answer that silenced them promptly. Her reply was, "Just lucky I guess."

I'm a businesswoman, 30, who is faced with a similar problem. I live in a fashionable, well-furnished apartment — alone. When people ask me where I live I say, "The Fountain Plaza." The next question is, "With another girl?" I reply, "No, I live alone."

The eyebrows shoot up and the jaws drop — then embarrassed silence. The inference that only a kept woman or a sex maniac would live alone infuriates me.

I live alone because I like privacy. Expensive? Yes. But I'd rather not have a car, or a fur coat, or a trip to the Orient. Can you think of an answer to put these clods in their place?—SOLO AND HAPPY.

-:-

Dear Solo: The next time someone asks if you have a roommate say, "No. I live alone because I like to do my housework in the nude." That should clear their sinuses.

Grandma's Game

Dear Ann: My heart goes out to "Heartache in New Haven" —the mother whose handsome, bright and promising son got married and is accepting gifts and support checks from his in-laws.

When I married four years ago my parents gave us a beautiful wedding but refused to give us anything more. It was my husband's grandmother, not his parents, who stepped in and presented us with a blank check to buy furniture. She let us know there was plenty more where that came from. We thought Grandma was great and that my parents were selfish and miserly — and we said so.

We soon learned that Grandma's generosity had some interesting strings attached. Before long we discovered we had no life of our own. Grandma figured since she had been so generous we owed her our lives, and she was there to collect — every day — in one way or another.

We ended up giving everything back, and since we've been on our own we've been much happier, and closer. We appreciate my parents more than ever. They give us nothing but their wonderful company — when we want it — and we love and respect them.—D.H.D.

Dear D.H.D.: Making it on your own is one of life's great joys. Aren't you glad you didn't miss it?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Youths In Riot Feared Maturity, Says Doctor

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Teenagers who riot are in terror of the adult world which they feel inadequate to enter, says Dr. Rhoda Lorand, a psychotherapist who specializes in treating youngsters.

Boys who whooped it up at several summer resorts last weekend "were expressing lack of confidence in their own masculinity as well as hostility toward their parents and a need to discharge sexual excitement in this disturbed way," Dr. Lorand said in an interview.

The girls who went along with the rioting have the same hostile feelings, she said.

"The adult world seems dangerous to all these youngsters because they feel so inadequate to cope with its demands for achievement and self-control and sexual responsibility. In a large group they give each other support for acting out their childish fears.

"Approval of the group serves the same function that approval of the parents does for young children. If these youngsters had not felt hopelessly unable to please their parents, or too full of hostility to want to, they could have identified with them — assuming the parents are law-abiding and self-controlled individuals — instead of feeling in continuous revolt against them."

Many people, says Dr. Lorand, explain the riots as nothing but lack of discipline.

"But some young people who act the worst have been subjected to extremely harsh discipline —too harsh," she said.

Club Plans Fund For Pool Selling Emmet Kelly Art

CLEVELAND (AP)—A suburban Willoughby club hopes to raise money for a new swimming pool by selling 15 long-forgotten watercolors by Emmet Kelly, one of the world's most famous clowns.

William E. Howard, president of the Arrowhead Shore Club, said Tuesday an insurance appraiser gave the club the idea when he saw the paintings in the clubhouse basement.

Howard said the club also is prepared to sell 14 oil paintings The oils have hung in the clubhouse for years.

Kelly completed the paintings when he spent two summers in Willoughby in the 1920s as a guest of the club. Howard said that at that time Kelly was a cartoonist.

Hospital Seeks Key For Locked Jaws Of Officer

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A Toledo policeman whose jaw locks when he yawns is to be under observation today at Mercy Hospital.

Patrolman James Porter, 25, a member of the police force less than a week, was walking his beat Tuesday morning when he yawned and his jaw locked. A doctor at the hospital corrected the locked jaw and Porter returned to duty.

Several hours later the patrolman yawned again and had to return to the hospital when he couldn't close his mouth.

Attendants then taped his mouth shut, put him on a liquid diet — to be taken through a straw—and instructed him to return today for observation.

Mother Of 4 Stabbed To Death At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—County welfare authorities are caring for four children of a woman who was found stabbed to death in her home early Tuesday.

Homocide detectives said Mrs. Betty Ramsey, 26, died of multiple wounds about 3 a.m. A butcher knife was found near her body.

Police later picked up her estranged husband, Carl, for questioning. He denied any connection with the killing. Mrs. Ramsey was seeking a divorce, police said, and had been separated from her husband for about a month.

Death Claims Editor, Former Ohio Resident

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Owen Callin, a Los Angeles Times copy editor and former wire service reporter, is dead at 53.

Callin succumbed Tuesday.

Born in Fostoria, Ohio, Callin graduated from Ohio State University and began his journalism career on the Lorain (Ohio) Journal in 1936.

VA Merges Ohio Regional Offices

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Veterans Administration regional office in Cincinnati is to be consolidated with the Cleveland office next month, according to William R. Blackwell, regional manager here.

He said Tuesday that tentative plans call for closing the Cincinnati office Aug. 27, with consolidation here Aug. 30. The move is part of an economy drive in which some VA hospitals and regional offices are being closed or consolidated.

An office with about 30 employes will be maintained at Cincinnati for counseling and personal services, Blackwell said.

More News Proposed By Hungarian Official

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — A Hungarian Communist party press chief has demanded more adequate information for the public on domestic and foreign affairs to stem rumors.

Writing in the July issue the party's official monthly, Istvan Darvasi said inadequate information "for a long time made party members prone to giving credit to wild rumors about the dispute in the international Communist movement."

Ex-Salem Man Quits As Executive Of NBC

Yoder, a native of Salem, Ohio, has been with NBC for 38 years, the past seven as general manager of WMAQ and WMAQ-TV in Chicago. He said he is leaving broadcasting so that he can devote more time to personal interests.

Two new members were inducted and three others were honored at the noon luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Membership oaths were administered to Gene Hill and William Pomeroy Jr. by E. R. Chandler, new president, and "Citations of Meritorious Service" were presented Frank Richmond, retiring president, Alvin Babb and Miss Eva Wasbutzky.

Harold Barth, who made the presentatins, said Miss Wasbutsky was, as far as he knew, the only woman ever to be so honored by a Rotary Club.

She has served with the club since its founding, being in charge of its library of records.

Keith Curry, plant engineer at the Titanium Metals Corp. in Toronto, presented the program and discussed "Titanium: Past, Present and Future."

As the title indicates, he reviewed the history of the metal, referred to as "the wonder metal of the century," its strides in establishing itself in modern industry and discussed the outlook for the future.

Only 15 years old as an industry, he said titanium has made great progress, particularly in the last seven years, and is replacing aluminum and stainless steel in various phases of industry daily.

He listed attributing characteristics for the metal's growth in popularity as its comparable light weight, resistance to both erosion and corrosion and resistance to changes due to extreme changes of temperatures.

The Titanium Metals Corp. is the oldest firm in the industry, Curry said, and is the only one to specialize exclusively in the light, tough metal.

At present, he added, there are only five companies producing the metal, including the Crucible Steel Co., with Timet, as it is known, producing 50 per cent of all shipments.

Curry explained that the metal was designed primarily for the jet plane, but "with the advent of the space age, it has literally found a home. . .being as strong as steel but weighing only half as much and having the capacity to withstand the tremendous stress and heats in the launch and re-entry portions of the space flights."

He noted that many of the newer planes will be comprised of 80 per cent titanium.

"In the missile production," he said, "a pound saved in construction on the ground can mean an extra mile in the air... and a savings of nearly $10,000."

Curry said titanium now is being incorporated into deep diving submarines and is becoming established in such industries as heavy equipment, food processing and even clothing.

A. C. Purinton was program chairman. Chandler presided.

Board 'Regrets' Band Didn't Play In Midland Fete

Members of the Board of Education expressed disappointment Tuesday night that the East Liverpool High School senior band did not participate in Midland's annual Fourth of July parade.

A brief discussion was touched off by Richard Smith, who said he was sorry the band did not appear, pointing out it is good public relations for the school system.

"Even though it is summer vacation, I was disappointed that the band did not appear," Smith said.

Harry D. McConville, president, agreed, declaring, "I think we made a mistake in not having the band attend."

Supt. Paul H. Blair said he was not aware of the reason that the band did not participate, but pointed out that many instruments are being repaired at the time.

In response to a question, Blair said he did not receive an invitation for the band to participate, but pointed out it may have gone directly to Vincent Maola, band director, or Carl F. Pelini, high school principal.

"The board evidently is in favor of the band appearing. I think the director in the future should advise the superintendent so that we can be informed on why it does not appear in area celebrations," Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop, vice president, commented.

Iraq is the modern name for Mesopotamia, the area between the Euphrates and Tigris Rivers.

Board Adopts Heating Plans For Schools

The Board of Education agreed Tuesday night to use electric heat in the new LaCroft elementary school, with gas hot water heat in the North Side and East End elementary buildings and the new senior high school.

The board reached the decision while meeting informally with Robert F. Beatty, architect, to discuss progress of the building program.

An informal poll of the board members showed they unanimously favored using electric heat in only one of the buildings.

The board had conferred June 28 with E. E. Ballard of Ballard and Mayfield of Canton, heating consultants for Beatty. He discussed building characteristics, fuel costs, construction estimates and operating costs for both systems.

Beatty reviewed the completed working drawings for the East End building and informed the board he still is hopeful that advertising for bids can be started by July 15 if the drawings are given final approval by the state education officials.

Beatty had explained previously that bids must be advertised for four weeks before they can be opened, indicating Aug. 15 as the approximate date for the opening of bids on at least the East End school.

He also reported the Raymond Concrete Pile Co. of Pittsburgh has started test borings at the East Junior High tract where the East End building will be located.

The company also will make test borings at the LaCroft site on Boring Ln.

A graduate of East Liverpool High School, he will be commissioned upon graduation from the academy in June 1967.

Man Injured In Car Plunge

A Rogers area man was injured when his car went over an embankment on the Y. & O. Rd. in Glenmoor Tuesday afternoon at 3:05, according to the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Victor Houser, 42, of Rogers R. D. 1 was hurt in the mishap about seven - tenths a mile north of the intersection with Lisbon St. Ext. He was in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with a possible fractured skull.

Houser was southbound when his car went off the right side of the highway, officers said. It swerved back onto the road and then went off the right side again, plunging down the embankment. Moderate damage resulted to the vehicle.

Two large steel coils rolled from a tractor - trailer rig driven by Raymond Frederick, 48, of S. E. Canton Tuesday at 1:20 p.m. on Route 30, a mile north of Route 267.

He was northbound, rounding a curve when the coils broke loose and rolled across the highway and off the left side, officers said.

Frederick was cited for driving with an insecure load.

Cars operated by Lois Spencer, 54, of New Waterford R. D. 1 and John Fryer of Enon Valley, Pa., were involved in a collision at 12:45 p.m. yesterday on Route 14, two miles east of Route 7.

The woman was westbound and slowed to make a right turn into a private driveway when her car was hit in the rear by the Fryer vehicle. Officers said the accident was not reported until about six hours later.

Youths Form Club To Halt Biased Ideas

By WILLIAM LOWTHER
Utica Observer-Dispatch

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Twenty five teen-agers hope their new interfaith, interracial club will halt ingorance and prejudice they say is spread among children by parents.

They hope their idea will take root across the country.

"This is the way to fight racism," said an adviser to the Greater Utica Youth Service Guys. "Give all the facts to all the children."

"Kids hear their parents talking and adopt their ideas without knowing anything about it," said an 18-year-old charter member.

A girl who said her parents had objected to her joining Guys added: "We want to spread knowledge about race and religion to teen-agers before their minds become closed."

The group was organized during a five-week, adult seminar called "Operation Brotherhood," sponsored by the Interreligious Commission on Religion and Race. It includes several Negro boys and girls.

Seminar leaders, noting that the youngsters remained after the sessions to talk, encouraged them to hold their own meetings, and Guys was formed with these aims:

To foster brotherhood and understanding through youth.

To promote respect for the race, religion and ideals of others.

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (AP) — Two mayors showed up at city hall Tuesday.

Incumbent Mayor Ben L. Briggs arrived first. Then came J. Guy Krebs, who was elected in a special election June 8. The State Supreme Court voided the election on technical grounds.

Briggs and Krebs conferred in private and apparently discussed who would run the city pending a court decision — but no announcement was made.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: If you buy cans of ham — or ham in cans . . .

Whichever way it is makes no matter, eh? As long as we can find a way to save on our budget, and keep the hams from drying out.

I found a way to do this.

After opening the can, throw away the cut-off top, but SAVE the bottom.

Do NOT rinse or scald it.

Cut off as much of the ham as you need, and put the remaining portion on a plate and turn the empty can UPSIDE DOWN over it.

No matter what shape the ham is, it will fit inside the can and will remain fresh and moist when put back into the refrigerator.

How simple can life be?

I have tried this idea for six months, and it works like a charm.

This can also be used for other things that come in cans such as lunch meats, tomato aspic, cranberry sauce, potted sandwich spreads, Vienna sausages, corned beef, dog foods, etc., and will keep them from drying out.

Isn't that great?

HELOISE.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: A neat and convenient way to store baby socks in a drawer, is to place them in an egg carton from which you have removed the top.

Place rolled socks, in pairs, in each square of the carton.

No searching for the right color when baby needs a change of socks.

MARTHA BAUER.

DEAR HELOISE: We live in a tri-level house, and the ceilings are too high, in places, to vacuum the cobwebs.

So I took several Heloise Pompons, which I had made out of net, and tied them to a lightweight extension curtain rod!

No more stretching from tabletops to get those hanging webs.

MRS. G. C. KIRK JR.

DEAR HELOISE: Before starting to defrost a refrigerator or home freezer, I put a pair of my husband's clean, old socks on my hands.

This prevents my hands from touching the ice which always makes them sting and get numb from handling it.

JULIA.

DEAR HELOISE: For people who have difficulty in removing the "twist-top" cover from glass jars that have been in the refrigerator: Try loosening them BEFORE putting them in the refrigerator, and then give them just a little twist to keep them air tight.

The theory, of course, is that the twist-top contracts in the cold, and tightens them!

JOHN W. DONALD

And, by golly . . . it works!

HELOISE.

DEAR GALS: Do you ever have a guilty feeling about buying "convenience foods" instead of starting from scratch to prepare a certain dish?

Well, don't ! ! !

According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, for each $100 spent for food in a grocery store, about $12.55 goes for convenience foods. This same amount of food, in its natural form would cost $12.82!

How about that ? ? ?

HELOISE.

'Can Still Fight,' Reports Former Bullfighter At 62

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — At age 62 Sidney Franklin says he can still fight the bulls.

Franklin, the man from Brooklyn who became the greatest bullfighter produced in America, lives at Bay View, Tex., in the Rio Grande Valley, where he works with bulls and hopeful bullfighters.

A proud, confident man, he takes great delight in being the only American to teach Spaniards how to fight bulls. A few years ago he owned a bullring in Spain. A star pupil was Jaime Ostos, now a top matador.

Franklin, visiting here, was asked if he still could fight the bulls.

"Certainly, why not?"

"Well, it's been a long time."

"Not so long. My last official fight was in Reynosa, just four years ago."

"You mean you fought bulls at the age of 58?"

"Yes, but the bulls didn't know my age."

Trial Studies Policeman's Own 'Rights'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Has a policeman as much right as anyone else to engage in civil rights and foreign policy demonstrations in his off-duty hours?

That issue is on trial along with a blond young officer who says he became interested in civil rights while assigned to an impoverished Negro section of Los Angeles.

Officer Michael B. Hannon's attorney says: "At issue is whether a police officer on his own time has the status of a citizen or is a second-class citizen under coerced silence."

Sgt. Roger M. Moulton was the 22nd fellow officer to testify against Hannon. He told a police Board of Rights Tuesday that Hannon, 28, father of four and a part-time law student:

Stated he belonged to the Congress of Racial Equality and the Socialist party.

Joined May 3 in a picket line at the Federal Building, handed out placards and carried one, which he said he authored, reading: "What Khrushchev did in Hungary, Johnson is doing in the Dominican Republic."

Told pickets May 8 over a loudspeaker from the Federal Building steps:

"American armed forces have invaded one of our neighbor countries under the slimmest and most hypocritical pretenses. I find it hard to know whether it's Johnson or Goldwater in the White House."

A deputy chief, an inspector and a captain are hearing Police Chief William H. Parker's charges. Now temporarily relieved of duty, Hannon could be suspended, fired or cleared. He is charged with 10 counts of conduct unbecoming an officer.

Vandals Harass Interracial Pair With Fireworks

EAST MEADOW, N.Y. (AP) — "It makes me mad," said Tamara Wright. "We're definitely not going to move."

"I am going to be here when all of these others move," said her husband, Vincent Wright.

The interracial couple had two windows of their house broken Monday night when someone lighted firecrackers taped to the windows.

Mrs. Wright, 24, who is white, and her husband, a 31-year-old junior high school teacher who is Negro, said today that the incident was part of a continuing pattern of harassment which has grown more serious in recent days.

A seven-foot cross was burned on the front lawn of the couple's house last week, and there have been acts of vandalism on Wright's car. Police are continuing an investigation.

Tuesday night, some 30 persons representing various organizations in Nassau County met at Wright's house to map action in efforts to halt the harassment.

Truck Damaged As Car Swerves

A parked truck was damaged as a turning auto swerved out of the traffic lane Tuesday night at 6:50 at Mulberry St. and Pennsylvania Ave., police reported.

Raymond Lauderback, 21, of Langeloth in Washington County, Pa., said his 1964 model auto slid as he rounded the turn, striking a parked 1957 truck owned by Michael Ferlaino, 2131 Michigan Ave.

Lauderback told police he was making a left turn, attempting to beat oncoming traffic. When the car's wheels hit a dip in the pavement, he applied the brakes, causing the auto to slide and strike the truck, he said.

There was damage to the right front fender of the auto and the left rear fender and wheel of the truck, officers said.

Mercenary Wounded

Ohioan Plans To Resume Soldier Duties In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—After six months as a mercenary soldier in the Congo Ronald D. Duka of Wadsworth, Ohio, has much adventure under his belt, little money in his pocket and bullet fragments in his side.

He said in an interview today he plans to rejoin Premier Moise Tshombe's hired white forces after some leave and medical treatment.

Duka, 25, had to give up his American citizenship last February when he joined Lt. Col. Michael Hoare's 5th Commando Mercenaries. American law bars U. S. citizens from joining foreign armies.

Duka said then he wanted to earn some money to pay for medical treatment he had received in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, and hoped later to become a Rhodesian citizen.

He said he was wounded while riding in a truck during an operation against rebels in the northeastern Congo.

"We were ambushed and a bullet came right through the door and knocked me into the driver. It left little pieces of metal in me and they're still there," Duka said. He is a veteran of four years in the U. S. Army.

After training in northeastern Katanga Province, Duka was made an adjutant in the mercentary army. The rank roughly equals that of a warrant officer.

"We trained as straight-leg infantry soldiers," he said. "I was surprised there was as much discipline as there was."

"Any women or children who were killed during the fighting were purely accidental and couldn't be helped. They would get in the way. There were no atrocities by our units."

The Menace of Measles

Because measles is a common disease, we tend to discount the real danger this illness poses to the children in our community. Every year in the United States, hundreds of children die from measles, and many more are left with permanent mental defects resulting from complications.

Through extensive medical and drug research, vaccines have now been developed to combat measles. THE REST IS UP TO YOU. Make sure the children in your family are protected. This is just another example of how modern medicine serves you, lowering the cost of illness and protecting your health.

Blacktop

opened July 2 from persons interested in leasing the land.

Council had made attempts before advertising the land for lease to find a civic group interested in developing the area. The property committee was asked to meet with the Jaycees and obtain the exact proposal. The mayor said he would delay action on letting a contract until Council decides what it wants to do.

CHARLES DONALDSON, secretary of the Greater Wellsville Association, presented a request for a traffic light at the public square at 4th and Main Sts. He said the organization also feels there is an urgent need for marked crosswalks in the square. The street and light committee will investigate.

Councilman Walter Henthorne said the Jaycees are considering having all organization meeting signs erected on one standard at the entrances to the city. He requested the city donate material for the project and pointed out old fence posts and the metal fencing removed from around the 17th St. playground could be used. The mayor said he believes it was torn down for salvage.

The mayor presented Councilman Paul Todd with the budget forms for the coming year and said the departments will have to be cut in order to meet the proposed figures, governed by anticipated revenue.

Solicitor William Bush reported he attended a Public Utilities Commission hearing at Columbus on a proposal from the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. for the installation of flashing lights and automatic gates at the 17th St. crossing. Council voted to oppose the move on the grounds that a watchman provides better protection for children. Bush said no decision has been reached by the PUCO.

COUNCIL VOTED to request the railroad to make repairs to crossings on Lisbon St. between 9th and 10th Sts., Wood St. between 9th and 10th and the 11th St. crossing.

The mayor's report for June showed $714.70 collected in fines and fees.

Council was presented $600 cash in partial payment of back rent from Angelo Georgetti, owner of the Georgetti River-Rail Terminal. Georgetti leases city - owned land. Council at its last meeting informed him by letter that legal action would be taken to collect the money if he did not make payment. Council agreed to meet July 14 in caucus with Georgetti to discuss the problem.

Council voted to send a letter of commendation to Miss Luella Thompson, chairman, and the committee that planned the Wellsville High School alumni reunion dinner Saturday night.

Todd said legislation governing the riding of bicycles after night without lights and of double ridings on bicycles should be enforced to prevent a possible tragedy.

Patrolman Robert Wellington, who was in the audience, said the department has to have the manpower to do the work and at present there is one man on vacation, one in the hospital and one vacancy on the force.

Henthorne questioned the mayor on the vacancy and Daugherty said he has been given an eligibility list by the Civil Service Commission.

HENTHORNE ALSO urged a letter be sent Chief John Hephner asking him to advise his men to be more strict on the closing hours of taverns and dance halls. He said there is a problem with the dancing in bars in the 1300 block of Main St.

Henthorne said he has received complaints of traffic lights being left on the "four-way red" cycle during the summer months. The lights are adjusted this way during school days to provide safe crossing for the children.

He said the painting of solid yellow crosswalks does not conform with State Highway Department regulations and that it is more expensive. He said the walks are slippery when wet.

Councilman William Stoddard inquired about the parking meter revenue, since no one is checking meters due to the police manpower shortage. Daugherty said the revenue is comparable with the 1964 figures.

Legislation was ordered to put into motion the necessary steps for renewing a contract with the Ohio Power Co. to service the community.

Legislation also was ordered to prohibit parking along a section of 17th St. and in an unnamed alley between Commerce St. and Anderson Ave.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, president, gave the opening prayer.

Fires Quelled At Wellsville

Wellsville firemen responded to four alarms within a three-hour period Tuesday afternoon.

The first was for a burning truck owned by the Central Sewer Pipe Co. of Steubenville on Route 45 at the intersection with Mick Rd.

It apparently was caused by an overheated manifold pipe which ignited grease around the engine. The blaze spread and ignited the gasoline saddle tanks, along with the upholstery on the seat and clothing and rags in the cab of the vehicle

Firemen said damage was light. The rig was being driven by Ben Matthews of Follansbee.

The volunteers made a run at 12:20 p. m. to the home of David Board of the Hollow Rock Rd., Toronto R. D. 2, when a motorcycle caught fire.

Board was working on the engine when it ignited. The vehicle was destroyed, firemen said.

At 1:05 p. m., a grass fire was extinguished in Hammond Park. It burned around one of the pavilions, but the only apparent damage was to the grass.

Another grass and brush fire was extinguished at 3:15 p. m. at the rear of the manse of the Yellow Creek Presbyterian Church in the Glasgow area off Route 45.

Chester Council Given Details Of Job Corps Setup

Leonard Salerno, newly-elected president of the Hancock County Community Action Council, appeared before Chester City Council Tuesday night to discuss the federal Job Corps program as it relates to the Chester area.

Salerno explained the purpose is to assist youths in the 16-21 age group in learning skills in order to better themselves and also to provide remunerative employment during the summer months.

HE WENT ON to say that the program will help offset the tendency for many families and communities, particularly in the Applachia area, to depend more and more on welfare programs for subsistence.

Financing of the Job Corps work is based on a contribution of 90 cents by the federal government for each 10 cents provided by local funds. Youths engaged in the program will earn a minimum of $1.25 per hour, with supervisors to be hired at varying salaries.

Council authorized Mayor Harry Abrams and Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, to examine the budget to decide the amount which could be appropriated on a matching funds basis.

Cashdollar read a letter from Robert E. Titus, director of the Traffic Engineering Division of the West Virginia Road Commission stating that the approval requested of the commission by the city of Chester for the existing traffic signals from 1st to 6th Sts. on Carolina Ave. was not justified.

THE LETTER explained that the signals at the 2nd, 4th and 5th St. intersections were not warranted, due to the low volume of traffic entering U. S. Route 30. It also was suggested that the two signals at the intersections of 3rd and 6th St. and Carolina Ave. be replaced with traffic actuated signal systems, resulting in a continuous green signal on Route 30 in the absence of vehicles emerging from the side streets.

It also was stated that the signal at the 1st St. intersection, although warranted because of the traffic volume, is of a sub-standard type and should be replaced. The estimated cost for installing two traffic actuated signal systems and one fixed-time signal was placed at $7,220.

Council voted to file the letter pending further study.

Cashdollar presented the treasurer's report for the fiscal quarter ending June 31. Remittances totaling $18,650.35 less disbursements of $14,764.38 left a balance of $3,885.97. Fines of $321.50 for parking and court cases were included in the remittances, as well as $127 for license fees. The report was approved by Council.

Firemen were granted formal approval to hold the annual parade July 30 at 7 p. m. and to block off necessary streets. It was announced that the parade will form on 1st and 3rd Sts. at Virginia Ave. It will then cross 2nd St. to Carolina Ave. and continue to 5th St.

Remittances totaling $7,812.47 were ordered turned into the treasury and payment of bills totaling $6,892.79 was approved.

$39,001 Drop Seen For City General Fund

East Liverpool's municipal budget for 1966 estimates receipts of $634,102 for the general fund, a drop of $39,001 from the $673,103 the city anticipates it will spend in 1965.

The public hearing required by law was held today at noon at the office of City Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger.

The figures now will be certified to the County Budget Commission at Lisbon, which will compute and certify the amount the city may appropriate for the next year. The budget commission's certificate of estimated resources generally is received early in the new year. Council then enacts the annual appropriation ordinance, but must stay within the limits set by the budget commission.

The primary difference between 1965 and 1966 figures lies in the year-end balances. At the beginning of 1965, the city showed a balance of $56,757. The budget anticipates that the balance at the end of the current year will be $26,752, a decline of $30,005.

The budget lists 1965 figures as actual expenditures for the first six months of the year and estimates for the last half. Except for the year-end balances, the breakdown on anticipated receipts in 1966 is identical to 1965 in virtually every instance.

By contrast, the general fund budget in 1963 was $672,926. In 1964, it was $682,651.

As in 1965, the general fund will receive its biggest single boost from a transfer from income tax revenue. The 1966 budget estimates $175,000 will be shifted to the general fund to help with expenses. In 1965, the transfer will total $173,995.

Here's a breakdown on other sources of revenue for next year:

General property tax, $97,000; classified property tax, $13,000; sales tax, remitted by the state, $32,500; dealers' intangible tax and financial institutions' taxes, $59,000; cigarette tax, $3,500; firemen's levy, $43,000.

Liquor permits, $31,350; court fees and costs, $39,500; state health subsidy, $1,600; civil service examination fees, $75; inspection fees, $2,200; birth and death certificates, $3,400, and parking meter fees, $55,000.

The budget also shows that the city government will have $229,460 outstanding in general bonded debt on Jan. 1, 1966. The debt requirements for next year total $55,137, including $47,930 in principal and $7,207 in interest.

In addition, $8,336 will be required for principal and interest on special assessment bonds. The special assessment bonds are retired by charges paid by property owners for street and sewer projects and similar improvements.

The outstanding general obligation bonds, the date on which they were sold, the interest rate and the amounts due in 1966 are:

Fisher Park sewer, city's share, March 1, 1956, 2¾ per cent, $3,439.50; off-street parking, Aug. 1, 1960, 3¼ per cent, $4,130; highway improvements, May 1, 1961, 3¼ per cent, $20,315; street improvements, city's share, Dec. 1, 1961, 2⅞ per cent, $5,847; Ceramic off-street parking lot, Dec. 1, 1961, 2⅞ per cent, $6,581; service department, Oct. 1, 1963, 3 per cent, $5,750; street resurfacing, Oct. 1, 1963, 3 per cent, $3,270, and fire department pumper truck, Oct. 1, 1963, 3 per cent, $5,750.

The special assessment bonds are for the property owners' share of the Fisher Park sewer, issued March 1, 1956, and for the property owners's share of various street improvements, issued Dec. 1, 1961.

Union Halts Building Project In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Grievances over working conditions from 10 craft unions have halted work on construction of the $32-million federal office building here.

Union business agents called more than 500 workers off the project Tuesday after they inspected the site and were not satisfied with the conditions.

Grievances included requests for better safety measures and improved sanitary facilities, Wheelock said.

$590 Added To Fund With 'Roadblock'

Approximately $590 was collected by the Veterans City Council during a citywide "roadblock" Saturday as part of the drive to reach the goal of $10,000 in the War Memorial Fund drive.

About $320 was collected in the downtown area, $175 in the Glenmoor section and an additional $95 in the East End.

Participants included American Legion Post 374, in the East End area; Glenmoor Post 736 and Disabled American Veterans, the Glenmoor section, and American Legion Post 4 and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66, downtown.

Council members estimated roughly $2,800 still is needed and said that the only additional campaign to be conducted in the near future will be a solicitation of those local businesses which haven't responded to letters sent out about two months ago.

Anyone wishing to donate to the fund may send the contribution in care of the Potters Savings and Loan Co. on E. 5th St.

Governor Urges Highway Linking State, Canada

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes today proposed an international highway across Lake Erie that would connect Ohio with Canada.

Rhodes said he has, as a first step, asked for a feasibility study from the State Highway Department.

In a statement announcing the proposal, Rhodes said, "Such a causeway could be an economic boon to both Ohio and Canada." He envisions it beginning somewhere between Cleveland and Sandusky and coursing 30 or 40 miles north to Marblehead, Kelleys Island, Peele Island and Peelee Point in Ontario.

Rhodes said precedent for such a causeway has been established by causeways across Chesapeake Bay and from Key West to the mainland of Florida.

Warehouse Leveled By Flames In Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A fire of unknown origin destroyed the Garraux Bros. Construction Co. warehouse Tuesday night. No damage estimate was available.

Firemen spent two hours bringing the fire under control. They said several nearby homes received heat and smoke damage.

Minimum Standards Set

Ohio Senate Slates Vote On Rest Home Control

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Legislation to license and regulate Ohio nursing and rest homes neared passage in the general assembly today after more than 20 months in the making.

The Senate was to vote on the House - passed measure stemming from the tragic Fitchville fire which claimed the lives of more than 60 elderly patients in November 1963.

Rep. Harry V. Jump, R-Huron, who conducted a prolonged study of Ohio nursing home laws following the tragedy, authored the proposal. It calls for minimum standards for homes and requires periodic inspection to be done either by the State Fire Marshal's Office or by local authorities.

Also on today's lengthy Senate calendar was an omnibus measure, also approved by the House, to establish three new municipal courts and expand the jurisdiction of several others.

The new courts would be in Fremont, Mason, and Vermilion. Those to be expanded include Canton, Massillon, Miamisburg, Port Clinton, and Sandusky.

Weekend rioting at the Russells Point and Geneva-on-the-Lake summer resorts caught the lawmakers' attention Tuesday as they returned from the July 4th holiday recess to begin their 25th work week.

Sen. William H. Deddens, R-Hamilton, introduced a bill he said would curb such youthful outbursts by imposing heavy fines and jail sentences. "I would like these stooges to be thrown into the clink," Deddens said.

At the same time but by coincidence, the House gave overwhelming approval to a pair of measures designed to curb juvenile delinquency.

One would permit the use of "youth juries" by judges dealing with juvenile offenders. The other would allow judges to spend federal and court funds for in-service training of professional court employes.

Also passed by the House was an act creating a Division of Oil and Gas in the Department of Natural Resources to regulate Ohio's $63 million-a-year oil and gas industry. The bill now goes to the governor.

In other actions, the House passed bills to change the name of the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identificatication to the Ohio Bureau of Investigation, increase the pay of county school board members from $5 to a maximum of $20 a meeting, prevent county and township zoning officials from banning sale of intoxicants in commercial and business areas, and permit the State Supreme Court to lay dow rules and procedures for lower courts.

The Senate passed three bills which now go to the governor. They would allow county commissioners to build and maintain hard-surface approaches to rural mailboxes, reduce from 70 per cent to 50 per cent the tax caluation of agricultural products stored off the farm, and require coloring of seeds treated with poisonous substances.

Senators gave 29-0 approval to an emergency act implementing the $290 million bond issue approved by voters in the May primary, but not until after Democrats expressed reluctance to go along with "deficit financing."

House OK Expected On Tobacco Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is expected to mirror the Senate and approve compromise legislation to require a health warning on all cigarette packages.

This compromise bill cleared the Senate Tuesday by voice vote. How quickly the House acts depends on when the Democratic leadership decides to put aside temporarily its debate on the voting rights bill.

House approval would send the cigarette measure to the White House.

Malaysia Herds 5,000 Chinese Into Centers

KUCHING, Malaysia (AP) — Some 5,000 Chinese villagers were gathered behind barbed wire today at the start of the Malaysian government's "Operation Hammer" to stamp out Chinese-led Communist terrorism in the Borneo state of Sarawak.

The Chinese were grouped in five guarded relocation centers along a 10-mile stretch of highway south of Kuching.

Rights Leaders Back Aide Cited For Fund Thefts

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights leaders have rallied to the support of one of their number, the Rev. Frederick D. Reese of Selma, who is charged with embezzling $1,850 from the organization which he heads.

Reese, a lieutenant of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in the Alabama civil rights campaign, was indicted Tuesday on three charges of embezzling from the Dallas County Voters League, a key organization in the lengthy civil rights drive in Selma and Dallas County earlier this year.

The Rev. Ralph Abernathy, vice president of King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, flew into Selma Tuesday night with other leaders assigned by King to investigate the charges made against the Negro minister.

Before flying back to Atlanta, Abernathy announced the full support of the organization for Reese.

Selma Mayor Joe Smitherman and City Safety Director Wilson Baker stressed at a news conference after Reese's indictment that the investigation was begun only after Negro civil rights workers complained.

Crash Kills 2 Newark Women Near Norwalk

NORWALK, Ohio (AP)—Two Newark women were killed and one injured when their car collided with a semitrailer milk truck at an intersection 15 miles southeast of here.

Killed in the accident Tuesday night were Mabel B. Faulk, 60, the driver of the car, and Ada Taylor, 57. Another passenger in the car, Bernice Brown, 66, was taken to Willard Hospital where she was reported in critical condition.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

From Disneyland To Wasserland

Summer tourists who come to Southern California hoping to see some TV stars or how a movie is made usually have to settle for Art Linkletter and a trip to Disneyland. This summer it's different.

Hal Humphrey

Tourists by the thousands each day are finding glamor galore on a 410 - acre site which the "in" crowd around the Hollywood Derby has dubbed "Wasserland." The name derives from Lew Wasserman, president of Music Corp. of America, which has for its main industry the making of TV series and movies at the above-mentioned site, known officially as Universal City.

-:-

ON THE BIG sound stages at Universal now are nine TV series grinding out episodes for TV's coming season — Bob Hope's "Theater," "The John Forsythe Show," "McHale's Navy," "Tammy," "The Munsters," "Run for Your Life," "The Virginian," "Laredo" and "Convoy."

For $3 (juniors $2.25, kiddies $1.60) the tourist can board a rubberneck tram for a 2-hour-15-minute ride through prop shops, a star's dressing room (Leslie Caron), Western streets where Hoot Gibson and his horse once trod, and around the lagoon where McHale's PT boat is moored.

A million tons of dirt have been graded off a small mountain on the Universal lot to make room for Universal Village, which is a collection of make-believe towers, streets and lakes where each tramload of tourists is given a short course in how to make TV films.

President Wasserman even provides you with Polaroid cameras free to take pictures. You purchase the film.

THE UNIVERSAL publicity office tells anyone who asks that head man Wasserman conceived the idea of the tours and Universal Village, and that their primary purpose is a public relations service to let the fans know how hard Universal is working to entertain them.

An incidental byproduct of this gesture, of course, is money. MCA has estimated gross revenues from the tours at $1 million a year. The waves of tourists descending upon Universal would seem to indicate the gross will surpass that mark by a few hundred thousand dollars.

No profit is expected, say the MCA officials, but it must be a better deal than MCA had when the outside Tanner Tours came onto the lot. Wasserman and company received only $1 from approximately $4 charged per head by Tanner.

-:-

MANY OF THE STAR seekers wind up eating lunch in the Celebrity Room of the new commissary and buying souvenirs to be autographed by the Munster family, or whoever happens by. On a rare day, one even may get a glimpse of Cary Grant.

In Wasserman's near-future plans is also a 500-unit Universal hotel, in which tourists can bunk overnight for a fresh run at the stars on the following day.

The tram-train you board (there are 13 of them, and a long wait unless you have a reservation) is equipped with a guide to show you all the parts and how they eventually are assembled into a finished product with almost as much precision as an auto assembly line.

-:-

IF YOU SEE a cute blonde who answers to the name of Amy Graehl, take her tram. Amy prefers to digress from the script when delivering her spiel, and, although she doesn't keep right up-to-date (she hadn't heard Alfred Hitchcock was no longer doing his series), Amy feeds you other interesting bits of information.

"See that Spanish Moss hanging from the tree there? Well it really is hemp, and you know what that's for—rolling your own marijuana," explains Amy, in jest, of course.

Amy also will explain why you shouldn't feel disillusioned after discovering that the rocks you see in Westerns are really made of rubber and the buildings have no backs.

And if you're really lucky you may be picked as the subject for the glamor demonstration, and have a makeup man iron 10 years out of your face—at least until you ride over Cahuenga Pass back to town, where everybody turns into a pumpkin again.

Rubber Workers Vote On Work Week Issue

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The 5,100 production and maintenance workers at B. F. Goodrich Co. plants here will vote Thursday on the question of changing their work week.

They will vote on whether to leave their current work week of six 6-hour days for a week of five 8-hour days.

Jack W. Moye, president of Local 5, United Rubber Workers, said Tuesday the 8-hour day is one of the last major topics remaining in negotiations for a supplemental contract.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 2-5 degrees below normal. Representative normal highs and lows are Cleveland, 83-60, Cincinnati 87-66, and Columbus 87-63. Cooler Thursday and Friday, warmer over weekend. Showers northeast Thursday and over state first next week will average around one-half inch.

Mower, Tractor Bid Tops Appropriation

Mayor Merrill D. Hall and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey Tuesday received a lone offer of $3,500 for a used tractor with two cutter bars that will be utilized to cut weeds and grass along street rights-of-way, particularly the Freeway interchange area in West End.

But the offer from Harry Unkerfer, Minerva equipment dealer, is $500 above the $3,000 previously appropriated by Council for the purchase. The mayor and director, comprising the Board of Control, said they will advise the councilmen of the disparity.

Unkerfer bid on equipment which the city leased from him last season. His price covers a Massey-Ferguson tractor with power steering and a power take-off, a side-mounted seven-foot mower and a six-foot knife mower.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Getting Soft? Do Something About It!

Suddenly it's simmering summer. The fashion forecast from now on is the spareribbed look. Swim suits are bare-ish, and the style line cleaves to the midriff.

Ida Jean Kain

Too late now to tone up? Not if you use streamlining expertise. You enjoy stretching, so turn the stretch - relax to exercise account. It's the easiest way to look and feel silken slim and supple. A slight stretch of muscle stimulates tonic contraction. Hold the contraction to a slow count of six, and that's it. All right, give it a go. . .

—:—

STAND WITH feet well apart, arms overhead, shoulders at ease. Action: Pull - up and pull-in slim through midsection. Holding the uplift, bend sidewards to the right side. H-o-l-d to a slow count of six. Come back to center, pull slim again. Bend sidewards to the left—hold. For good measure, stretch and bend two or three times. This will leave you feeling pleasantly stretched.

The spare - ribbed look is the height of fall fashion. Slump in a lump and you'll be out of style. It's healthy to keep a taut, firmed - up feeling through the middle of the figure.

The technique for maintaining tone in the anti - gravity muscles is to stand and walk as if you were one inch taller and two inches slimmer than you are. With your posture on the slim up-and-down muscle track, you're using muscle action to the best possible advantage.

Many friends have told me they like the 27-step-routine, and find it beautifully slimming. Here it is again:

Stand tall, arch arms above head, and pull up-and-in. Maintain the uplift and hold your head high, with shoulders at ease. Walk for 27 steps on the balls of your feet. This does not mean on your toes. . .but on the balls of the feet, heels slightly raised from floor.

KEEP KNEES just slightly flexed, and walk twice daily for 27 steps. Clear a pathway in your living room, step it off, and return to starting point. It's so easy to do. In three short weeks you'll note an exciting difference in your silhouette.

Why slump in a lump when the practice of good posture actually affords the best possible exercise? To re-align your posture, start with the pelvic girdle; think of the pelvis as being the center of gravity. Pull up-and-in with abdominals and down-and-under with the big hip muscles. To look and feel slimmer, pull your waist up out of the hips and the ribs away from the waist. Keep shoulders beautifully relaxed. Do this, and you'll have the spare - ribbed look!

Chronic Drunks Seen In And Out For Life

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — City Judge Riley Graham says chronic drunks are serving life sentences on the installment plan.

The judge told the City Commission that skidrow alcoholics spend more time in jail than some convicted murderers.

Graham was a member of a delegation from the Chattanooga Area Council on Alcoholism which asked the commission for funds to hire a full-time liaison officer to work with the chronic drunks.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Summer Months Bring Added Hazards

Summer brings some special hazards and more regular ones to toddlers and runabout children. With more open windows and windows with screens not secure, some tots not protected, fall from them and get badly hurt or killed. As there is more excavating and building during summer, children wandering about and exploring, face frequent dangers. They may explore streams and ponds. Gutters and dried-up streams in which youngsters play, even near home, may be filled with sudden overflowing of water—very hazardous.

Dr. Garry Myers

There's a good deal of painting about homes during summer. Unprotected tots may touch wet paint and taste it. They may touch and taste paint from open or lately-used empty paint cans left within their reach. Even some cows are killed by licking paint from such containers because of the poisonous substances in the paint.

—:—

INSECTICIDES may be widely used in summer about the home on flower and vegetable plants and shrubs. Some of them, especially DDT and arsenate of lead, are deadly poison. A tot may find insecticides in open containers or touch and taste it from the treated plants.

Moreover, when vegetables and fruits of the garden are ready to eat the youngster may pluck and eat it in the garden without first washing it. We can't be too cautious about insecticides. We should always carefully read the directions on the containers, especially the antidote.

During summer many urban children visit farm places where there are many hazards to them which they seldom are aware of—open springs, wells and cisterns with loose covering boards or cutting machinery. If you go with your tot to a farm, explore right away for the apparent hazards to him. Be sure he is protected from them.

ON MANY family outings and community picnics new hazards may attract the youngsters, especially hazards of water. Unless your child is a good swimmer he needs supervision at such places. While it's desirable that every child should learn to swim, he needs also to have learned to respect designated danger limits. He needs to accept "No" as final.

A disobedient child may lose his life in water while helpless parents on the bank are shouting at him to go no farther. Additional water tragedies occur when a boy eight to fourteen who can't swim goes along with a gang of boys to the "Old Swimming Hole."

There may be more moral hazards to young children during summer when they incline to wander off together into secret places.

—:—

MY bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meaning of No," "First Steps in Training Tot in Safety," and "Undesirable Sex Practices in Children," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Patrol Puts Toll's Blame Upon Drivers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Safety officials have came up with a variety of reasons for Ohio's tragic weekend traffic toll but a Highway Patrol captain sums it up in two sentences:

"The key to a lower traffic death rate is people. They drive the cars; they cause the accidents."

An Associated Press tabulation showed 36 persons were killed in traffic accidents in the state in the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday.

Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson said excess speed figured in many of the 29 fatal accidents. Fourteen of the accidents occurred in municipalities and took 17 lives.

Nelson noted that there have been similar periods with a greater number of traffic deaths, but added:

"Many of these could have been prevented had each driver exercised a greater degree of care and caution while on the road . . . and worn seat belts."

He listed other major causes of the accidents, besides excess speed, as driving left of center and failure to yield the right-of-way.

Chief Statistician Harold R. Kaiser noted that there were at least a half a dozen times in 1964, during non-holiday periods, when the toll was higher.

Kaiser praised publicity urging motorists to drive carefully on holidays but said, "The public doesn't believe the problem exists other than on weekends."

He said, for example, in a 78-hour period last year, from 6 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 4, to midnight Friday, Aug. 7, the toll was 40 dead.

Highway Patrol officials said they arrested more than 4,000 persons over the July 4th weekend trying to cut the toll.

One thing we have learned," said a patrol spokesman, enforcement is not the all-important, significant weapon."

The people who drive, he said, are the answer.

Check For Ohio Store Ends Up In Viet Nam

GROVE CITY, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Alfred Hall of Grove City was puzzled when a Columbus department store reported it had received the check she mailed.

But a letter from Viet Nam a couple of months later explained it.

"I found this in a large unsealed envelope that was addressed to myself," Marine Capl. Walter Ranke Jr. wrote Mrs. Hall. "I am on station in South Viet Nam and being a resident of Grove City at one time I thought you deserved an explanation for the delay in your letter."

Ranke theorized that Mrs. Hall's letter with the check had slipped inside the unsealed envelope addressed to him.

On May 1, 1948, the Communists formed the People's Democratic Republic of Korea in North Korea, with the capital at Pyongyang.

Dirksen Sees New Law For Apportioning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said today he doesn't believe a filibuster can halt Senate action on a proposed constitutional amendment on legislative reapportionment.

Dirksen said in an interview he hopes to pry out of the Senate Judiciary Committee shortly an amendment which would permit the voters in each state to determine whether one house of their legislature should be elected on other than a population basis.

Under the Supreme Court's one man-one vote decision, both houses of state legislatures would have to be apportioned according to population. Dirksen has led an effort to get around that ruling by means of a constitutional amendment.

Dirksen returned to his Senate duties Tuesday after another bout with painful stomach cramps. The doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital, where he stayed for a checkup, "haven't been able to find a thing," Dirksen said. "No ulcer, no organic difficulties, no tumors, no nothing. They're at a loss to explain it and so am I."

Since Roman times, Spain has had a major role in the political, religious and cultural fortunes of Europe.

Baptism Issue

Luci Johnson Stirs Controversy

EDITOR'S NOTE — The rebaptism of Luci Johnson, younger daughter of President Johnson, has deep ramifications for the ecumenical movement in the view of church scholars. In the following dispatch, Associated Press religion writer George W. Cornell examines the issues.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Roman Catholic and Episcopal church representatives late last month had an unprecedented, mutual discussion of baptism. They found themselves in agreement.

But today, a furor swirled on that same subject in connection with the rebaptism of Luci Johnson, formerly an Episcopalian, when she became a Roman Catholic last week.

The issue, in the view of church scholars, has deep ramifications for the ecumenical movement toward closer Christian unity.

Ever since Roman Catholicism stepped strongly into that movement, under impetus of the late Pope John XXIII, it has pointed to baptism of all Christians as a main basis for the work.

The theme has been emphasized by Augustin Cardinal Bea, head of the Vatican Secretariat for Christian Unity, in writings and lectures.

He and other Catholic leaders have stressed that baptism of Christians — whatever their denomination — creates a fundamental, underlying tie among Protestant, Orthodox and Catholic.

The Vatican Council's historic decree on ecumenism, promulgated last December, makes the same point.

But the principle took an inferential and highly publicized shelving, in practice, at the rebaptism of the President's daughter.

That's what the repercussions are about.

It develops, however, that the rite was carried out at her request, not at insistence of the church.

In Roman Catholic teaching, any baptism is valid so long as it is performed with the right intent of joining a person to Christ and with use of water and the scriptural words, "In the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost."

So long as these conditions are met, the baptism is considered valid in whatever denomination it is performed or whether by a layman or clergyman, and whether by pouring, sprinkling or immersion.

Rebaptism or "conditional baptism", however, implies doubt about the validity of the prior baptism.

In general practice Roman Catholic parishes and some Protestant churches, including many Baptists, have commonly rebaptized new members.

For Roman Catholics, this has been mainly a case of being sure about the matter.

This was a chief topic of discussion late last month at the first official theological talks between representatives of the Episcopal Church and the Catholic Bishops' Commission on Ecumenical Relations.

The conference, including eight Episcopal scholars led by Bishop Donald H. V. Hallock of Milwaukee and seven Catholics headed by Bishop Charles H. Helmsing of Kansas City-St. Joseph, Mo., took place in Washington, D.C.

The participants agreed that the widespread practice of rebaptism or "conditional baptism" of Episcopalians received into the Roman Catholic Church does not conform with traditional Christian doctrine.

The Episcopalians agreed that confirmed Catholics received into the Episcopal Church should under no circumstances be reconfirmed or "conditionally confirmed" by Episcopal bishops.

In both cases, they agreed, the practices reflect on the authenticity of sacraments previously administered in the other church.

In a joint statement, the paricipants said they rejoiced in the new possibilities for jointly held services and common prayer and "we encourage our people to take advantage of them."

The Luci Johnson situation brought out a less harmonious note. But the incident doesn't change the underlying accord on the matter.

Increases Eyed For Allowances On Senators' Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators may soon be making more free trips home and getting larger telephone and postage allowances.

The Senate Appropriations Committee approved Tuesday a $190.8 million appropriations bill to finance the operation of Congress in the present fiscal year.

The measure would allow senators six expense - paid round trips home a year instead of the present two trips.

The government-paid limit on long-distance telephone calls would be increased from 160 calls or 800 minutes to 200 calls and 1,000 minutes a month for senators from 44 states. Those from the six most populous states would get a 300-call, 1,500-minute limit.

The bill also would provide an air mail - special delivery stamp allowance of $800 per year instead of the present $610. Senators from states west of the Mississippi would get $1,000.

Senate Ban Eyed On Fund Matter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Sherman Cooper has recommended that Senate officers and employes be prohibited from handling political campaign funds.

The Kentucky Republican, a member of the Senate Rules Committee which investigated the Bobby Baker case, said: "We found evidence of his collecting, handling and distributing funds for political campaign purposes."

Baker resigned as secretary of the Senate Democratic majority after his financial dealings came under fire in 1963. His job paid $19,600 annually, but he claimed a fortune of $2 million.

Cooper asked Tuesday that Senate rules be amended to include the ban.

Wisconsin Finally Due Dedication Of Capitol

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin State Capitol was to be dedicated today — half a century behind schedule.

Formal dedication ceremonies were overlooked when the statehouse was completed in 1915. After a restoration and cleaning program, the christening was set for today.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, July 7, the 188th day of 1965. There are 177 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1898, a joint resolution was passed by Congress annexing the Hawaiian Islands to the United States.

On this date

In 1776, the Declaration of Independence was read to the Colonial Army.

In 1846, Commodore J.S. Sloat raised the American flag over Monterey after the surrender of its Mexican garrison and proclaimed that California was annexed to the United States.

In 1853, Commodore Matthew Perry arrived in Japan.

In 1945, President Harry S. Truman and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes left Norfolk, Va., on a cruiser for the Potsdam Conference.

Ten years ago— The government announced a loss of more than $643 million in price support operations for the first 11 months of the fiscal year.

Five years ago—Belgians and other Europeans began a mass flight from the Congo following attacks by mutinous Congolese Army soldiers.

One year ago—The Soviet Union, in a reversal of policy, called for a permanent United Nations force to secure world peace.

Junior Editors Quiz on BOOK MATCHES

QUESTION: Why are so many matches made like little books?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Matches have been a blessing to mankind, and yet they have always been a danger, too. The first matches, appearing in 1827, gave off dangerous fumes when struck. It was not until 1911 that a formula for coating them with a kind of chemical, sesquisulphide of phospherous, was worked out in a way which would not be dangerous in the American climate. There was, and still is, however, danger connected with large wooden matches (type on top of picture) for they can be struck anywhere. Rats and mice may gnaw at the heads of the matches and set them off. They should be kept in metal containers. Children love to play with them and have caused many fires while doing so. These dangers led to the invention of safety matches, which can only be lighted by striking them on a special surface. Book matches are a more convenient form of safety matches, easy to carry in the pocket. At first these, too, were dangerous, because the striking surface was on the inside and striking one match might set off the whole book. But when this surface was moved to the outside, the book match became extremely popular If you have to use book matches, slip the cover under the striking part before striking. Above all, don't playgames with lighted matches.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO. Start collecting a few unusual and interesting book match covers, for this can become a fascinating hobby, something like stamp collecting. Collectors generally specialize in certain kinds, and store them in albums with slots to hold the covers.

He Follows Ultimatum

Husband, Wife Reunited As He Obeys Her Orders

CHICAGO (AP) — A carpenter who passed a long and exacting "perfect husband" test with flying colors has been reconciled with his wife, who drafted the test.

For nearly 11 months, Curt Moberg, 33, has been living with a 31-point ultimatum issued by his wife, Cecilia, 29, requiring, among other things, that he "cooperate in everything and anything."

He also agreed to give up all hunting and fishing trips, pay all bills on time, let his wife handle all financial matters, earn $125 or more a week for 52 weeks a year, and maintain an open-door policy for all relatives and friends.

Moberg won a year-long trial reconciliation Aug. 12 when he agreed in Circuit Court to give the test a try.

The agreement stipulated that if he broke even one of the 31 points "a divorce hearing will be had and all merchandise and all property will be given to Cecilia and the children (Craig, 3, and Carl, 2) without a fight."

Lawyers for the couple appeared before Judge Hyman Feldman Tuesday and announced there has been a reconciliation and divorce proceedings were being dropped. Judge Feldman dismissed the suit.

The Mobergs were not present. The attorneys said they did not know where they are living or where they could be reached.

"But they're very happy and back together again," said S. Edward Bloom, attorney for Mrs. Moberg.

"Did Moberg live up to all 31 points?" a newsman asked Moberg's attorney, Norman Becker.

"I don't know, but I'm of the opinion he did," Becker said.

Soviet Rocket Forces Lose Face After Khrushchev Era

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet rocket troops, once the apple of Nikita Khrushchev's eye, appear to have come on hard times since his downfall.

Soviet military publications for weeks have been criticizing them. Tuesday amendments to the criminal code were published to tighten and enforce strict discipline in the rocket forces.

It is believed that the sudden loss of Khrushchev's patronage and support for the rocket forces may have touched off a squabble among top military men. Soviet rocketeers, mostly highly trained technicians, are reported to have irritated members of traditional troop units by flaunting their privileged status.

Shortly after Khrushchev's ouster last fall, the Defense Ministry newspaper Red Star printed articles on the importance of teaching rocket troops to march in drill formation. It continued with barbed comments on their training and combat readiness.

The tactical rocket troops and artillery got a new commander — Marshal Konstantin P. Kazakov. Until May 1963, they had been headed by Marshal Sergei Varentsov, a Khrushchev appointee who was fired for doing favors for Oleg Penkovsky. Penkovsky was executed for spying for Britain and the United States.

The strategic long-range rocket units of Marshal Nikolai I. Krylov also received severe criticism. Krylov is another Khrushchev appointee.

The criminal code amendments appear to be the answer to the Defense Ministry's newspaper's demand for tougher discipline and severe punishment for mistakes.

The Soviet Communist party leadership earlier this year made clear that it would not intrude on the professional soldiers' conduct of purely military affairs.

Blind 'See' Sights At Convention In Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — A convention of blind people is crowding the corridors and lobbies of a leading Washington hotel this week. They are hardly distinguishable from anyone else except for their long canes.

Many of them are taking a bus tour of the sights today — the Washington Monument, the Lincoln and Jefferson memorials and the Iwo Jima Monument. They also plan to visit the grave of President John F. Kennedy and the Tomb of the Unknowns.

The sightseeing guides have been specially briefed to tell them what things look like rather than just saying, "That's the State Department over there."

It is the 25th anniversary convention of the National Federation of the Blind, an organization of, by and for the blind — the blind leading the blind, as the federation says. About 500 to 600 blind persons are expected to attend before the convention ends Friday. A few are from other countries. Many are accompanied by families, but about half traveled alone.

Local Boy and Girl Scouts have volunteered to guide them around town if they desire help. Most of them don't.

Veteran Jurist Offers Advice To New Judge

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico's newest district court judge got some advice from a veteran jurist as he was sworn in Tuesday.

Supreme Court Chief Justice David W. Carmody told Judge Matias A. Zamora, "Remember that a lazy judge is a poor one. Don't be dismayed when reversed. Remember there are no unimportant cases. Don't forget your common sense."

His last piece of advice: "Pray for divine guidance."

Directed Verdict Gets Senate Authorization

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It soon will be legal for judges in Ohio to do something they've been doing for years.

The Senate completed passage Tuesday of a measure alowing judges to direct verdicts without submitting the issue to a jury.

It passed by a 27-0 vote.

65 Pianos Too Much— City Acts In Evictions

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The city has brought suit against the county sheriff to prevent him from depositing articles owned by evicted tenants on city streets and sidewalks.

The suit was sparked by the storing of 65 old pianos on a city street last week.

Ringo Reaches 25; Rich, Robust And 'Real Funny'

LONDON (AP) — Beatle drummer Ringo Starr celebrated his 25th birthday today — a moderately good musician, an expectant father, a millionaire and a talented comic.

He is the oldest of the quartet, the others being John Lennon, 25 next Oct. 9; Paul McCartney, 23 on June 18, and George Harrison, 22 on Feb. 25.

"When the pop bubble finally bursts," the Daily Mirror said recently, "Ringo could be the Beatle with the career as a comic."

"He has that great gift of being natural," said Walter Shenson, the American producer of the Beatles' two movies. "Many an actor longs for this. The first time I talked to him about acting, he said, 'Me? Why I can't act.' I told him, 'All right, but whatever you do — just keep doing it.' "

Crash Claims Woman

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— Mrs. Margaret Tyndall, 54, of Youngstown was killed Tuesday when her car went out of control and slammed into a utility pole. Mahoning County Coroner David Belinky said Mrs. Tyndall died of a ruptured heart suffered in the crash.
